What's Your War Job?

THE radio program "What's Your War Job?" broadcast over the Blue Network, poses that question to listeners. It describes many gallant Americans who, even though seriously handicapped, are giving practical support to the war effort.

Among those men and women, we should like to include the farmers of America, those hard-working citizens who are doing, against terrific odds, the prodigious task of providing food not only for war workers' needs but for our fighting forces and our allies. They are giving what no army can live without—food for defense! And that line of defense must hold long after the last shot of this war is fired IF AMERICA IS TO SURVIVE!

A CHARACTER IS BORN

Near Debut in a North Carolina Cotton Patch Launched Radio's "Cobina" on Her Dizzy Career!

SHE'S a rip-snorting man-chasing fiend! She's a female ogre forever tracking down a male! And what has been the reward of this heinous creature who hides behind such a lie—a million laughs and the adoration of a nation that loves comedy.

Imagine a success based on episodes of this nature. From Melbourne, Australia, comes word that she has just been adopted by 645 soldier boys, who voted her the "Girl They Would Most Like to Leave Behind." From Escanaba, Michigan, they tell her she has been adopted by the bachelor girls of the town as "The Career Woman Most Likely Never to Get Married." Letters from plastic surgeons and cosmeticians from all parts of the nation guarantee that with their treatment she could be made into a reasonable facsimile of a not unattractive woman.

Always one thought is uppermost in the minds of her fans: She can't possibly look as bad as we think. Or can she?

Her pictures prove she can't. And Hollywood knows her to be one of the most steadily dated glamour girls, in a town where even the dime-store clerks and waitresses look like Hedy Lamarr.

When questioned on the point, Elvia Allman, radio's Cobina, replied in all modesty, "I'm very happy to talk about myself. At least it's one subject I'm well versed in. Of course I like men. Every girl does. The success of my radio character is based on that. I realized this when I was in my teens. It's something as fundamental as Adam and Eve. And the Bible is still selling a lot of copies.

"To sell the I-gotta-have-a-man idea you can't play it straight. It's got to be overdone, otherwise it becomes personal and insulting. The man-chasing personality evolved through many parts that I played until they all merged into the supercharged 'Cobina.'

"I was born in North Carolina, literally almost in a cotton-patch. My entrance into the world was ill-timed and caught my mother in the fields of our farm. It was my first lesson in ironical comedy and Mother says I was very good-natured about it.

"After my father died we moved to

No, it isn't double-talk. It's just a sample of the daily flood of messages that flash from New York by telephone, teletype and letter to Army installations all over the world, setting up broadcasts for "The Army Hour" (TAH to the crew that puts it together). The smoothness of the broadcast on Sunday afternoon indicates perhaps that bringing in pick-ups from every part of the civilized world is a mere matter of picking up a microphone and saying, "Come in, Chungking." There's more to it than that.

Don't waste PEPSODENT

It takes only a little to make your smile brighter

● Nearly one-fourth of the Pepsodent we make goes to men in uniform . . . they want it . . . they deserve it.

● At the same time, we are trying to supply the biggest number of civilian customers in Pepsodent history.

● But, wartime restrictions limit the amount of Pepsodent we can make.

● So . . . we urge you: Don't waste Pepsodent. Use it sparingly. If you will help save enough for others . . . there will be enough for you.

Lucky for all...

dental science knows no more effective, safe ingredients than those which make up Pepsodent's patented formula. That's why Pepsodent is so good, so effective, so safe that only a little is needed to make teeth brighter, make smiles more sparkling.

1. MOISTEN your brush before applying paste. If you apply Pepsodent before wetting brush, it may wash down the drain. Finish brushing before rinsing brush.

2. MEASURE out only as much paste as you need. About three-quarters of an inch is enough. Always squeeze and roll tube evenly from the bottom. Replace cap.

3. POUR Pepsodent Powder into the cupped palm of your hand—enough powder to cover a 5¢ piece is plenty. Do not sprinkle it on the brush—this is wasteful.

4. SHOW children how to dab—not rub—moist brush in powder to pick it up. Measure out the right amount for small children and teach them the proper way to brush teeth.

5. HANG your tooth brush up to dry after you use it. Bristles will stay firmer and last longer this way. Soggy, worn, wilted tooth brushes are inefficient, wasteful.

6. YOUR DRUGGIST is trying his best to serve everyone. Don't blame him if his Pepsodent stock is low and he has to disappoint you. Try again in a few days.

HERE'S a picture, filmed by Columbia studios in Canada, that gives movie-goers scenes as realistic as those at Dieppe when the Commandos struck there. The story of "The Commandos Strike at Dawn" is laid in a Norwegian fishing-village, and may well represent what will happen in Norway should a third front be opened by the United Nations to constrict the Nazis in a pincer-like movement, extending circle-wise from Africa to Russia and Norway. "Commandos" may be a preview of history!

THE FIFTH FREEDOM

By ELIZABETH BEMIS

Analyst of World Events Speaks for the Axis-Oppressed People of Europe

Elizabeth Bemis, first woman ever authorized to cover official U. S. Army war games in the South, came to radio straight from the newsroom. We might say that she was born with the smell of printer's ink in her nostrils and a love of it in her heart. For her father, Edwin A. Bemis, is manager of the Colorado Press Association and a prominent Rocky Mountain publisher, and her mother is a newspaper editor. Small wonder, then, that young Elizabeth failed to follow the medical career she had mapped for herself after college graduation. Instead, she traveled through Europe and Africa; in fact, is one of the few American women today who knows well the Dark Continent of Africa, at present so prominent in the news headlines.

A student in Paris at the outbreak of World War II, Miss Bemis has lectured and written extensively on current problems of the Continent. For two years she served as top newscaster on Denver's KLZ, and then joined the staff of WLW in Cincinnati. Here she gained recognition as one of the outstanding headline analysts of the nation. One reason for that success lay in the fact that she had—and still has—the knack of "humanizing" her authoritative comments.

Now newscaster over stations of the Columbia Pacific network, Miss Bemis still "pounds out" the scripts for her Monday-through-Friday broadcasts, and does the research as well. Her views on "The Fifth Freedom" which follow, we believe tie in admirably with Bob Hope's "Freedom for Laugh-

ONCE there was a man who wanted to be a philanthropist. He went around handing out hundred-dollar bills (this was before the time of war taxes) to needy people—just like that. The result was that many of the people he helped with those bills sat around and waited for him to come back again. Or else they grew ashamed of the fact that the Fates were against them, and began to feel subsidized. All of them began to hate the man who was taking away their pride in return for a piece of printed paper.

In other words, the would-be philanthropist had used the wrong approach to one of the world's major problems, and his results were on the debit side of the ledger. He had forgotten a psycho-sociological fact—that it's better, far better, to help people help themselves.

Today, the United States and the United Nations are planning to be philanthropists, to help the occupied countries. They are making every effort to liberate the oppressed peoples—which is, of course, an admirable effort, excluding the fact that this war is also one of self-survival.

But it is very necessary that we bear in mind one very important item—an item which will help secure peace and unanimity of purpose in the world of the future.

We must, even as we have begun doing in French North Africa, insure

"FIRSTS" A ZENITH HABIT

A government official was being shown a new idea in the Zenith laboratories. In passing, he commented upon the outstanding manner in which the radio industry was effecting the rapid and continuous changes necessitated by war requirements. A Zenith official replied—he said:

... the answer is easy. Radio and Radionics represent a trigger-quick, fast moving business. Concerns that couldn't 'change overnight' are out. In this industry, we're used to fighting with new ideas—only—now we're fighting Japs and Germans instead of each other."

In that statement is evidenced the condition that made possible Zenith's attainment of industry leadership. Ever increasing public acceptance of Zenith name and product resulted from a never ceasing stream of Zenith "firsts"—new features—new devices and new sets which enabled us to truthfully say to the public:

"ONLY ZENITH HAS THIS"

Today you find as commonplaces—essentials—of most radio sets—features first introduced to the public by Zenith—such as—

"FIRST" "FIRST"
PUSH BUTTON TUNING . . . HOUSE CURRENT SETS . . .

Years—yes, years ahead of the industry—(1928) a Zenith set embodied push button selection of the station desired. Our slogan in 1928 was "Push the button—there's your station." For over seven years, Zenith Radio Corporation has advertised on our short wave sets—"Europe, South America or the Orient Every Day or your money back." It has never been called upon for a refund.

Below—A Few New Zenith "Firsts"—"Frozen" by Zenith Changeover to War Production

"FIRST" "FIRST"
LONG DISTANCE PUSH BUTTON PORTABLE . . . SAFETY AUTO RADIO . . .

1942 saw the national introduction of a revolutionary new portable—the Zenith Trans-Oceanic. Without increase in size or weight it gave push button operation for foreign and U. S. short wave stations—tuned in the same way as local—and standard broadcast too. It contained a disappearing fish pole antenna plus dual Wave Magnets—operated from battery or house current—was born of Zenith pioneering in LONG DISTANCE RADIO RECEPTION.

—AND THESE ARE JUST A FEW OF THE MANY ZENITH "FIRSTS"—

"MILITARY SECRET"

Today all Zenith production centers on war needs. What we are making is a military secret. But three things we can tell you. First—we are dealing with the thing we know—Radio—and Radionics exclusively. Second—we are learning every day—gaining new knowledge which will reflect itself in Zenith civilian products when the time arrives. Third . . . we now know—by first hand experience—that our Army and Navy are more than "up-to-date"—they are alert and progressive in thought and action—almost unbelievably so. This fact is a great reassurance to us here as citizens—it commands our complete confidence as it would yours if you knew what we know.

the New Miracle Industry

Four great industries are destined to lead this country back to normalcy after victory is won. Planes and Radionics are two of the four. Radio—never a necessity on ship or train—is as essential as the engine itself to that great new form of individual and mass transportation—the airplane.

Ginger Rogers Surprises the Movie Colony; Henry Fonda Hitch-Hikes to See His Family

HOLLYWOOD By FRANCES LONG

Glamour girls rough it. Algiers and the North African front is no place for softies, and Carole Landis, Kay Francis and Martha Raye are proving that behind glamour there can be understanding and plenty of intestinal fortitude. The trio is now in Algiers entertaining servicemen there, after a lengthy stay in England at the same chore. These are the days when publicity agents don't have to lie awake nights dreaming up dramatic incidents to tack onto the stars. They are really doing things. The African front isn't beer and skittles, to say the least, and we're sure the girls will have plenty of hair-raising incidents to relate when they return to Movietown . . .

Hollywood spun on its collective ear when Ginger Rogers, who's been a bachelor girl for six years, up and married Jack Briggs, private in the Marine Corps. Jack's name had been linked with Bonita Granville's around town, when he was in Hollywood as an RKO player. But not even Ginger's intimate friends were aware that she even knew her present bridegroom. Jack and Ginger were married in the First Methodist Church in Pasadena, California, and appeared at Ciro's on their wedding night. It's Ginger's third marriage and Jack's first. Good luck, Ginger. You're one of our favorite people . . .

Hitch-hiker Fonda. His first name is Henry, and he was a top actor on the 20th Century lot before he enlisted in the Navy and began training in San Diego, California. Last week Hank, who's a great family man, actually hitch-hiked from San Diego to Hollywood to see his wife and children, because he couldn't get a seat in any public conveyance. The distance? Around 125 miles! . . .

Collector! Merle Oberon has a chow that she's been trying to teach some new tricks. He was a little slow, but finally learned to go out and fetch her the morning paper. The old dog loves affection, and Merle was so pleased that he kept up the good work without prompting that she gave him an extra hug one morning. So far, so good! But the next a.m. she was alarmed to find deposited at the front door a half-dozen papers which the dog had collected from the neighbors' doorsteps as well. He stood there wagging his tail so joyfully that Merle didn't have the heart to scold him. Throwing a coat over her pajamas, she made the rounds and returned the purloined papers . . .

Father follows in his son's footsteps. Tim Holt was following in his famous dad's, Jack's, footsteps, making a name for himself in movies, when he joined the Air Forces. Now Jack, who was working in a series of Monogram westerns, is following in Tim's footsteps. He has reported for U. S. Army duty in the Quartermaster Corps with the rank of captain, and left Hollywood for Fort Francis Warren in Wyoming . . .

Not for "Destiny"! Lady Luck forsook Alan Curtis when he suffered an injured knee during the shooting of the final scene for the third episode of Charles Boyer's "Flesh and Fantasy" on the Universal lot. It's a serious injury and takes him out of the romantic lead in "Destiny." Universal didn't want to hold up production and put Robert Paige in the spot . . .

Claudette Colbert lost and gained in one fell swoop recently. La Colbert lost her secretary when the young lady eloped to Las Vegas and married her favorite brother. Which left Claudette with a new sister-in-law but no secretary. However, Patricia isn't running out on the job. She's going to stay until her new sister finds another girl Friday . . .

Our changing times. Yesterday Hollywood swains gifted glamour girls with delectable boxes of confections fearfully and wonderfully wrapped. The girls still get the boxes tied in yards of ribbon, but they don't contain candy. Now it's a pound of butter or a pound of coffee. And don't think the girls aren't appreciative. They always can buy their own candy, but groceries in war-time are something else again! . . .

No more guessing. Eleanor Powell, at long last, has formally announced her engagement to Glenn Ford and is proudly flashing the conventional diamond solitaire that proves her statement. As to marriage, that's a bit indefinite at this writing, because Glenn goes into Marine boot camp for training just as soon as his present picture commitments are completed . . .

Rita Hayworth takes it off and puts it on. When Rita first entered pictures she was chubby and went on a diet to lose the necessary poundage for streamlining her figger. Now she's been knocking herself out with picture and canteen work to the point where she's been ordered to the desert to see how much weight can be gained before starting her next movie assignment . . .

Help not punishment is what lovely Frances Farmer needs at this time.

A Paramount picture in Technicolor, produced by Harold Wilson and directed by Curtis Bernhardt. Songs were written by Frank Loesser and Jimmy McHugh. Screenplay by Walter DeLeon, Norman Panama and Melvin Frank, from an original story by Michael Uris.

What Movie-Goers Can Expect: A musical with beautiful scenery and plenty of laughs. Mary Martin and Betty Hutton set out to find Mary a millionaire. Dick Powell as a singing beachcomber helps them, and Eddie Bracken, with Rudy Vallee in the role of the rich man, add tremendously to the fun.

Verdict: Fine tonic for hectic war days.

OWI Transcribes a New Series Portraying Axis Brutality

NEW YORK By E. KAY

"They Stand Accused" is the title of a new series being transcribed by the OWI as a replacement for "You Can't Do Business With Hitler." Our friend Jay Jostyn, "Mr. District Attorney," is the prosecutor who states the case. This program portrays the brutality of the Axis. Jostyn seems to be typed as the man with the pointing finger of justice . . .

Sickness, no respecter of persons, took a crack at Radio Row these past weeks. First, Norman Tokar, Henry of "The Aldrich Family," played his role despite the fact he was suffering from a strep throat and had to be given a sulfanilamide treatment in order to get through his regular broadcast. This is the reason followers of Henry's antics heard a victory-bond announcement in place of his hilarious "Coming, Mother" . . .

Harpo Marx, traveling as a volunteer guest star with a USO-camp show in New England, spoke to an audience for the first time and, from the guffaws emanating from the hall, he must be as funny to hear as to see . . .

Theodore Granik, moderator of the WOR-Mutual "American Forum of the Air," was put on an embarrassing spot by his healthy complexion when

THE RADIO FRONT

James G. Patton, president of the Farmers' Union, was a participant on his program. Patton denounced "the privileged few" who still take Florida vacations. Those in the "see" laughed long and loud. Mr. Granik didn't join in the laughter, neither did he blush. He couldn't. It seems his doctor had ordered him to Florida for his health and his face was a deep red as a result of this vacation . . .

February 6 over CBS Norman Corwin will present a new series entitled "It's Good to Know You." These programs will come from England and the United States on alternate weeks. This is the first reciprocal exchange series aimed at Mr. and Mrs. Public of the two nations. These programs will tell the English people things about us in a way that will be interesting not only to them but to us. The broadcast originating in England will have the same purpose. In short, it's hoped that the American and English public will have a better understanding of each other through these broadcasts . . .

Plenty of comment about the new "Horror, Inc." series with Eva Le Gallienne as the narrator. Miss Le Gallienne's voice is a worth-while addition to radio . . . Abbott and Costello are in town and the Big Street hasn't been the same since . . . Dame Rumor has it that Groucho Marx is to be the central figure of a new air show . . . Milo Boulton, emcee of "We, the People," aired on CBS, says if they had a duplicate of his program in Germany starring Hitler, it would probably be called "I, the People."

HOLLYWOOD By AVERY THOMPSON

Getting up at the crack of dawn was really a chore, but my visit to "Breakfast at Sardi's" made it really worth while. What a shindig! Tom Breneman is an amazing gent. His whole show is done without benefit of script, except for the commercials, openings and Uncle Corn gags. Tom's been doing radio shows on the West Coast for many years, but his Blue Network program for early-risers has made his name a household byword . . .

Wandering around NBC—not aimlessly, I might add—I ran into the guy who made a top hit of Der Fuehrer's Face. That's Spike Jones, leader of the City Slicker band heard on Bob Burns' show. It was our first meeting and I must say I found him to be a thoroughly likable person in spite of a pugnacious-looking pan, which becomes downright charming when he smiles . . .

Bob Hope, 'tis said, wants to go to Africa and entertain U. S. troops there. Problem is: What will happen to his Pepsodent show while he's away? He doesn't plan to sit around waiting for an invitation, so suggestions are in order . . .

If Bing Crosby needed to be convinced of his popularity, the letters that came in from all parts of the country after the fire at his home did the trick. Listeners sent offers to replace his pipe collection and other prized possessions, including his dogs and his records. The platters he lost, incidentally, were not his own works but the recordings of other artists whom he greatly admires . . .

What next? Charlie McCarthy is trying to locate his birth certificate so that he can get a job in a war plant . . .

Nelson Pringle tells us that the missionary work done years ago in the South Seas is now paying dividends. Men who have landed on these remote islands report that the former man-eating savages welcomed them saying, "Me friendly. Me Christian" . . .

Kay Kyser's recent appeal for knives to be used by American fighters in the Pacific certainly fell on willing ears. The station has been swamped with weapons ranging from hunting-knives to bayonets. Even Jap hara-kiri knives were included.

Hottest news around town this week concerns a famous Irish tenor who's been packing the Mayfair Room at the Blackstone. Morton Downey is the name, and the news is that he's been signed by Coca-Cola for a Monday-through-Friday-afternoon spot on the Blue Network. There's nothing spectacular in the fact that Downey's returning to radio. He's made the switch from night-club to mike many times. What is significant, though, is the fact that he'll be in direct competition with daytime serials. His program of popular ballads and nostalgic old-time hits promises the ladies something quite a little bit different from the usual afternoon fare. The show will originate in New York, starting February 8, with Raymond Paige's orchestra furnishing the background music . . .

Third Lieutenant J. Clinton Stanley has long been a character in "Vic and Sade" scripts. He never spoke but has frequently been referred to in the chit-chat between mother, father and son. Prankish Paul Rhymer borrowed the name from a friend of his, a director of Chicago radio productions who handled such shows as "Quiz Kids" and "The Danny Thomas Show." Now—and THIS is not a gag—the real-life J. Clinton Stanley is Lieutenant J. Clinton Stanley of the U. S. Navy. He reported for duty at Great Lakes on January 21.

Happy note on an interrupted honeymoon! Ned Le Fevre's back in town, much pleased with his CPO rating (technical specialist) in the Coast Guard. He's Barbara Luddy's brand-new husband, and now that he's stationed in Chicago they'll be able to pick up the honeymoon that ended so abruptly when Ned signed up. LOTTE LEHMANN BEGINS SERIES OF SONG RECITALS OVER CBS FEBRUARY 15

Toscanini Features All-American Program of Grofe, Gilbert, Creston Works Sunday, NBC; Portrait of Irving Berlin, the People's Composer

By ROBERT BAGAR

New York World-Telegram Music Critic and Associate Program Annotator for Philharmonic-Symphony Society of New York

LOTTE LEHMANN wanted to be a writer—more than anything else. So she studied voice. She became one of the world's greatest singers. She holds audiences in the palm of her hand, a trick she can perform in concert or on the operatic stage with equal facility. When she closed up vocal shop for the season, several years ago, she wrote a book. She wrote still another book. Both have been successful books, Lotte Lehmann the writer.

Now Mme. Lehmann, whose art is immeasurable, whose humanity is as immeasurable as that art, wants to paint. She has been painting for a considerable time, as a matter of fact. She took it up by herself. Her living-room, her foyer and, one presumes, the other rooms in her apartment at the Hotel Meurice in New York are stacked with paintings.

She said, rather ruefully I thought, almost to herself, "The wasted years."

Seated in a richly upholstered chair in that living-room, Mme. Lehmann was the very typification of the Princess von Werdenberg, the Marschallin, who dominates Richard Strauss' opera "Der Rosenkavalier." This might have been the first act of the opera where the Princess receives a host of visitors, interviewers, supplicants, salespersons. And to make it all the more real Mme. Lehmann was in a melancholy mood. She repeated the phrase, "The wasted years."

The distinguished artist, however, rallied quickly. She hastened to explain that life had given her many things; many honors have come to her; she had no right to complain. But it was obvious that this new interest of hers is a compelling one. She has finally found the one medium of expression most suited to her. To paint, to create in colors, to interpret life and the world. That was the gnawing compulsion through the years—to create. Only now does she feel the truth and the force of it.

Mme. Lehmann speaks softly, in well-modulated tones. She never hurries. But always there is the impression of great conviction, of intense sincerity in her words.

A rather prosaic question brought her out of her reverie. I asked her which she preferred to sing, songs or operas.

Her answer, as I had hoped, was revealing. She said, "Songs, of course, though there was a time, a long time, when I thought opera was the only thing. I change my mind so much, you see."

"Lieder," she explained, "is so much more refined. It is intimate. In a brief moment you must reach your audience. You must set a mood. You must tell a story quickly. You have no supports like scenery, other characters, a symphony orchestra and a huge stage. You are there—you and the composer and the listeners. It is much more difficult to express musical and dramatic ideas through a song, much more."

One of the things she dislikes about singing in opera is that an artist becomes typed. "It is terrible to become known as a Wagnerian soprano," she said. "What is a Wagnerian soprano? There should be no such classification. You might say that such and such a person was a Mimi soprano, or a Violetta soprano, or a Tosca soprano. How silly that is. There should be no limits to the repertory of an artist."

"In this country I have been known through my performances of the Marschallin, Elisabeth in "Tannhaeuser," and one or two others. That sort of thing delimits the artist. She becomes stamped with certain parts. It was never like that with the great performers of the past, you know. Still, I suppose that certain modern-day rules must be observed. The public wants to hear certain artists in certain parts. That is the answer."

Mme. Lehmann, nevertheless, believes that it is as wrong to do the same roles all the time as it would be to sing the same recital program. The whole thing, she thinks, is too one-sided. No fun for the artist and, in the long run, no fun for the public.

But to get back to the real theme of this story, Mme. Lehmann expects, some day, to paint her impressions of music—of operatic music, of song music, perhaps, even of symphonic music. She wants to paint people, too, people and scenes and life. So here is a salute to a gifted writer, who became a gifted singer, who wants to become a gifted painter.

In the meantime, radio listeners will profit by tuning in to Mme. Lehmann's CBS afternoon programs. There is to be a whole series of them in which Paul Ulanowsky will appear as her piano accompanist. The programs will offer alternating groups of German and French songs, but each program will have a group of pieces by English and American composers.

(Lotte Lehmann begins a series of song recitals over CBS on February 15.)

The American Art

Arturo Toscanini's latter-day addiction to American music is one of the marvels of our time. His is not an idle interest, you may be sure, for the celebrated batonist never plays anything he does not genuinely consider true music. His recent and memorable performance of the Gershwin "Rhapsody in Blue" was, I trust, the rebuke proper to all those carpers who look on Gershwin as some kind of charlatan. That composer had a wealth of emotional expression. He was the possessor of a distinctive style. He was new in the concert cosmos. His music has given proof of possessing permanent qualities. Any questions?

Now Mr. Toscanini and the NBC Symphony will be heard in an all-American program and the piece de resistance, if you please, is to be Ferde Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite." The other works listed are the Henry F. Gilbert "Comedy Overture" and the Paul Creston "Overture—a Rumor."

I like the Grofe work. I have liked it for years. I know a great number of fine musicians—Bachians, Brahmins, Mozarteans, Beethovenians, etc.—who like it, too. It is a completely earnest work. It has no affectations. It tries to describe one of America's wonders. There is nothing wrong with that idea, certainly. The music doesn't pretend to be anything but straightforward program music. It happens to be interesting, melodious, well harmonized. It is, in short, highly appealing. I can think of many items which haven't got half the vigor or sincerity or downright directness that this creation boasts. Yet they grace the concert-hall lists often enough. Let's get away from stuffiness. Without being chauvinistic, let's give American music a chance.

The contemporary Russian composers, Shostakovich, Prokofieff, et al., are extremely interested in American music. Wouldn't it be a good thing for us to display a like interest?

(Arturo Toscanini and the NBC Symphony Orchestra may be heard Sunday afternoon over NBC.)

POPULAR MUSIC

Irving Berlin: His successes second to none

AMERICA has had several eminent representatives of people's composers, but surely none have been closer to the people or more of the people than Irving Berlin. Berlin may have had ambitions to write important music somewhere along the path of his career, but, more than any observer of his work, he knew his own limitations.

Irving Berlin was born in Russia on May 11, 1888. His family name then was Baline. His father, a Jewish cantor, took his little family to this country, and the future pride of the Baline-Berlin clan was brought up on New York's East Side.

Like so many other little boys, Irving hated school. He hated work besides—the kind of work that his family might have picked out for him, at any rate. So he became a "busker"—that is, a saloon or sidewalk entertainer.

Not much later he joined the singing waiters' staff at a Chinatown place known as Nigger Mike's. There he rushed trays between vocal offerings.

His first effort at writing song words came later when he collaborated with the pianist at Nigger Mike's on a number titled "Marie from Sunny Italy." He knew little about his own ability to compose tunes.

One evening the manager at Nigger Mike's—maybe it was the owner himself—discovered Berlin asleep at the cash-box, which was equivalent to being asleep at the switch. He was fired. Armed with not much more than complete confidence in himself, he trekked Uptown to Tin Pan Alley and started, first, to write down his ideas and, second, to sell the completed product.

There and then began one of the fantastic careers in American popular music annals. From those eventful days to the present his string of song successes is second to that of no other composer. He has written songs of all types, from broad comedy items to heavy-hearted ballads. The list of his pieces reads almost like the complete encyclopedia of this nation's popular songs.

Irving Berlin has truly held his finger on the pulse of the people. He sings of their joys, their sorrows, their unimportant moments. He translates their thoughts into singable, simply worded songs, he has had hit after hit. His imitators have been numerous. He has started trends. Irving Berlin is very definitely a composer of the people.

ANOTHER "first" in the career of author, painter, opera star Lotte Lehmann is her new Monday series of song recitals over CBS

FRANK CUHEL RELATES EXPERIENCES AS RADIO CORRESPONDENT IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC

Reporter Comes Home

By JAMES G. HANLON

THE new year was but a few days old and the Japs were poised to strike in the South Pacific when a handsome young American in Batavia, with no previous experience in newspaper work or radio, became Mutual's correspondent in the Dutch East Indies. That was in January, 1942. Today the name of Frank Cuhel is well known to millions of U. S. listeners who have followed his factual, unembroidered reports from that war zone for the past two years.

Before he became a radio correspondent Frank Cuhel was, as he describes himself, "the guy who introduced Hormel's Ham to Palestine and Scott Tissue to Persia." As traveling representative of an export firm, his trail led through thirty-five nations in Europe, Asia and Africa. This valuable experience, giving him an intimate knowledge of global geography and a personal appreciation of the ideas and characteristics of people in all parts of the world, helped him immeasurably in the important radio assignment that so unexpectedly dropped into his lap.

When Frank Cuhel returned to America he brought back some hair-raising accounts of his experience as a radio correspondent. He took over in Batavia at the request of Elizabeth Wayne, Mutual's correspondent there, when she left the Dutch East Indies. He reported regularly from Batavia until March 2, 1942, when Jap pressure forced him to move to Bandoeng with the few remaining correspondents who had stayed on till the last safe moment. From there he escaped by automobile to a Dutch steamer, the Janssens, which was the last to leave the Indies before the Jap invasion became complete. On board also were George Weller of the Chicago Daily News, Bill Dunn of CBS, and Winslow Turner of the Australian Associated Press.

Although the Janssens was built to accommodate forty passengers, it set out for Australia with 700 on board. Before it got very far it was attacked by a squadron of Jap Zeros, who strafed and cannonaded the ship until they ran out of ammunition. Fortunately there were only eleven casualties, and the skipper managed to steer the ship into a cove close to shore.

The captain then told them that the chance of getting through to Australia was one in ten, and offered those who did not want to risk it an opportunity to get off and make for shore. Those who stayed with the ship had to sign on for duty. Cuhel and the other correspondents stayed with the ship and, although the Janssens could make only six knots an hour, she finally reached Fremantle, Australia, on March 14. From that date until December 3, Cuhel stayed in Australia, reporting via Mutual to the U. S. from there. Leaving Stanley Quinn at his post in Australia, Cuhel returned to the U. S., arriving in San Francisco on December 24.

"Wiping the Japs out of the Pacific and constantly improving relations between our country and Australia are the two vital jobs being done," said Cuhel upon his arrival. "And," he added, "American fighting forces are doing both of them."

"We must remember," he warned, "that we did not come to Australia specifically to save that country, but to eliminate the Japs. This 'American Saviors' theme should be dissipated for the benefit of both countries."

Particularly harmful to the relations between the U. S. and Australia, he pointed out, are reports in American newspapers—which finally turn up in Australia—that praise only the efforts of our troops and do not give the Australians their share of credit for victories.

"I saw the Australian people's reaction to these reports," he said, "and it certainly did not help strengthen a mutual trust."

According to Cuhel, our troops landed in Australia looking trim and

WHEN war knocked out the export business, Frank Cuhel accepted a radio job as Mutual's representative in the Dutch East Indies well pressed and were welcomed with open arms. "Not only are they a fine representation of the cross-section of America's fighting-power but in all their actions it is evident that the job of licking the Japs is constantly in their minds. In the forward areas, particularly, you see a marvelous demonstration of real determination and fighting spirit toward cleaning up the Japs as soon as possible."

Australian girls, he noted, were impressed with the uniforms of our nurses. American nurses have two uniforms, whereas Australian have but one, and that made of inferior material because all the wool is being shipped out of the country to America, England and Russia.

"We shouldn't try to force American ways upon the Australians, he advised. "We expected the Australian to change overnight. We were used to drawing on a vast store of supplies that Australia did not have. We forgot that Australia lost almost a complete generation of men in the last war, and has lost in killed or captured almost another generation in this one, all of which has left her short-handed in manpower."

Frank Cuhel is thirty-eight years old, unmarried, of medium height, with light-brown hair and a quiet charm. He's a rugged individualist with a subtle sense of humor, but does not try to impress others with his knowledge. And although he's traveled all over the world and has seen just about everything there is to see, his friends suspect that Cedar Rapids, Iowa, his home town, still rates as the best spot on earth to him. At the State University of Iowa, his alma mater, he was a track star of no mean ability—a statement that is verified by the fact that he was a member of the U. S. Olympics squad in 1928.

Sidelights: U. S. citizen John Gunther, author of the best-selling Inside Europe, Inside Asia and Inside Latin America, is writing another "inside" story. Title: Inside the United States . . . When Larry Lesueur, CBS correspondent in Russia who recently returned to the U. S., sent around a questionnaire among Russian schoolchildren, he found that they believed Churchill was "a friend of Stalin's" and President Roosevelt was the American ambassador . . . William W. "Bill" Chaplin, veteran newspaperman now heard on NBC, has contracted to write a book tentatively titled Maginot to Moscow . . . John Gunther and John Vandercook are joining forces in a new series scheduled to begin over the Blue Network on or before February 28. The program will be split into fifteen minutes of commentary and a fifteen-minute question period devoted to queries from listeners.

Wichita Falls, Texas. I was reared in a convent, taking music and dancing-lessons on the side. My mother was paying for elocution lessons long before she knew what the word meant.

"When I graduated my drama teacher convinced me that 'genius' such as mine was due for larger fields. The big city was beckoning little girls like me.

"I borrowed enough money to get to Chicago, convinced of my success. I had a great lead at Marshall Field's department store selling dresses, and did a bang-up job as a real-estate saleswoman in a wildcat development. Seriously, I did get a part in the road-show of 'Smilin' Thru,' with Maurice Carnovsky.

"Convinced that Chicago was not for me I went to New York, where I was told that producers fall all over themselves when talent such as mine is presented. They didn't!

"I worked department stores, Hoboken and agents' offices. Vaudeville was going full blast and I was finally hired to play the piano for a female singer. I'm still afraid that woman will sue me. I was so bad.

"New York wasn't paying any attention to me, so I decided to go to a milder climate and a place called Hollywood and let them not pay any attention to me there.

"I found a new media out there called motion pictures. I made the rounds, telling them I had just come from the big city and had starred in such and such a production, only to find out the guy I was talking to had been a stagehand in the same show.

"I found a job in a department store. "When it looked for sure like the career ship of Allman was sinking, I got work on the 'Uncle John' hour reading children's poems at the old KHJ station in the now extinct Times Building. When it lasted more than two weeks, I felt pretty good because it seemed to me I was managing to cling to the first rung of the ladder.

"At that time radio was in its infancy and all you had to know was nothing about a program and you were made program manager. I was promoted. Finally I was sold with the fixtures to the new owner of KHJ, a man named Don Lee. He gave me my own show, 'Surprise Package.'

"Came 1933 and I began to consider myself big-time. New York offered me a thirteen-week contract on a major network. My appearance in Gotham again was catastrophic. But not in the manner I had hoped it would be. The financial panic had set in. All the banks closed. And I was billed as the 'California Cocktail Girl' when everybody was thinking of straight bourbon or guns.

"When I came back to Hollywood, radio had changed. It was now a big business, as things must be with the advent of agents and agencies. It was much easier. I started in my first of a long series of big shows with Jimmy Durante and Ruth Etting. Since then I have played various characters on the Fred Allen, Jack Benny, Rudy Vallee, Bing Crosby, Joe E. Brown, Burns and Allen, Abbott and Costello and Bob Hope shows.

"It was on the Hope show that I established the Cobina 'personality.' Bob decided that Bill Goodwin and Skinnay Ennis would, via the script, have blind dates. They needed two girls that had to be 'ughs' as voices. So Brenda with the Bronx cheer and Elvia with the gravel in her throat made it. The names were supplied by the leading debs of the day and the dialog was supplied as only a Hope writer can do it.

"In the meantime I have become what is called a comedy lead in the cinema. My latest is in M-G-M's 'Three Hearts for Julia,' where I wear four Irene dresses, three hair-dos by Sidney Gullaroff, and speak one line!"

BBC SERIAL, BORN DURING BLITZ, PORTRAYS DAY-TO-DAY LIFE IN WAR-TIME ENGLAND

Nazi Private Describes Ordeal in Russia; New "Freedom" Station in France; Revised Schedule of Australian Overseas Broadcasts

Nazi Officers Desert Men

NAZI officers are brave men—as long as they are winning. Once they are trapped and see defeat staring them in the face they run like rabbits, leaving behind them anything or anyone that hinders their flight. They left whole divisions of their Italian comrades abandoned and stranded in the Libyan desert. In Russia they have even been abandoning their own enlisted men. To prove this I cite the radio story of Private Rulfe Jegosch of the 83rd German Infantry Division, which was captured at Velikie Luki. He stated that their last days and hours in the town were horrible. Large ammunition dumps were blown up by several direct hits and the explosions thundered all day long. In his own words Jegosch said: "The situation as regarding ammunition became so grave that our command requested that shells be sent by air. Several loads of ammunition on parachutes reached us, but this was not enough. The thunder of guns and the heavy fire of heavy Russian trench mortars forced us to huddle in cellars. Some men lost their reason before my eyes; others, unable to stand it, committed suicide. The desertion of our officers from the blockaded town was a terrible shock to the men. In the heat of the battle an airplane landed in one of the streets. We thought it brought us good news, but we soon learned that our officers had deserted us and used this plane to save their own skins. The soldiers cursed them up and down. Unfortunately they learned too late what their superiors are worth. Rumors reached the soldiers that the Soviet command had proposed to the garrison to lay down its arms, and had promised all officers and men their lives and a safe return to Germany after the war. The garrison command declined this proposal, and preferred to pay with the soldiers' lives, while they themselves fled from doom like rats from a sinking ship."

"Front Line Family"

The BBC's "soap-box opera" is the serial "Front Line Family." It is followed religiously by untold thousands of short-wave listeners in all parts of the world. Not only is it dramatic and thrilling but it is true to life in that it strives to portray an average family as they live from day to day in war-time England.

According to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the idea of "Front Line Family," which has been broadcast regularly since April 28, 1941, was born during a bad London blitz. Alan Melville, of the BBC, was in a restaurant with E. L. Bushnell, of the CBC, during an air-raid, and bombs were falling so close that every now and then they had to dive under the table. In the intervals, they were discussing what happens to ordinary people when war drives its wedge into their lives. Eventually, they conceived the idea of a serial reflecting the excitements and tensions of a typical middle-class British family in war-time.

Although sixty or seventy other characters weave their way in and out of the story, the plot revolves round the five members of the Robinson family and the girl and the soldier who are going to marry into it. In the early days it was easy to get material for "Front Line Family," as some of the most dramatic London raids took place soon after the serial started. Many of the actors found themselves rehearsing situations in which they had just been involved in real life. A number came to the microphone swathed in bandages. When the Luftwaffe ceased its nightly visits the finding of material became more difficult, as the Family was not so dramatically in the front line, so the author concentrated on their domestic life.

"Front Line Family" may be heard every evening except Saturday and Sunday at 4:30 and 8:45 p.m. CWT over London stations GSC (9.58), GSL (6.11), GRN (6.20) and GRC (2.915). It can also be heard over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation network.

(London Radio News-reel)—According to Monsieur Mayo, just returned from North Africa, the political set-up in Tunisia and North Africa is dangerous; may be even dangerous for the new France—civil and military. Eighty to ninety percent of the French in North Africa are pro-Ally but many people are confused at present and thus susceptible to enemy propaganda . . . (Berlin)—The cost of living in London has risen by forty percent since the beginning of the war . . . (Berlin)—The RAF lost 150 airmen in their last raid on Berlin. These raids are certainly not worth while for the British when viewed in the light of such a tremendous personnel loss . . . (OWI "News from Home")—The AEF has the largest factory in Britain. It is a machine-shop which covers more than a square mile. In it anything from a wrist-watch to a tank can be repaired . . . (London Calling)—The new tune, The Eighth Army March, was composed by Eric Coates under odd circumstances. "The BBC wanted it in a hurry," said Mr. Coates, "and I got the idea for it while walking down Oxford Street one day. I wrote the march while the moving-men were taking the furniture out of my flat until only the piano was left." So with the Eighth Army on the move, and his own furniture on the move, Mr. Coates got moving himself and produced The Eighth Army March.

Notes About the Stations

The number of clandestine, "freedom" and otherwise unlicensed short-wave transmitters in Europe is on the rapid increase (this is to be expected as the day of liberation for the oppressed peoples draws ever closer). One of the more recent to take the air identifies itself as "La France Fidele." Its programs, which are mainly in French or Arabic, may be heard daily from 1:30 to 3:15 and from 5:00 to 6:00 p.m. CWT on 9.575, 7.315 and 7.25 megs. The last named is the best heard of the three frequencies . . . The Roumanian Freedom Station is still operating daily on 11.60 megs, 12:45 to 12:55 p.m. and 3:15 to 3:25 p.m. CWT, in Roumanian . . . "Radio Metropole" (the old Belgrade transmitter) operates from 10:00 to 11:45 a.m. and from 3:40 to 3:58 p.m. on 9.48 megs; from 4:05 to 5:05 p.m. CWT on 6.100 megs. English news is given at 4:15 p.m. CWT . . . Home Service Transmissions of the Budapest short-wave station are currently broadcast from about 2:30 to 5:55 p.m. CWT over HAT2 (6.66). News in English is given at 4:25 p.m. CWT.

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC General Sir Thomas Blamey (left), popular Commander in Chief of Australian Infantry Forces, chats with a member of the AIF. The conversation is being recorded, possibly for broadcast later over Australia's domestic and foreign short-wave facilities

Lionel Barrymore, Composer

Lionel Barrymore, who portrays the "Mayor of the Town" each Wednesday night, is hard at work on another musical composition for probable presentation by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra at the Hollywood Bowl this summer. The work is as yet untitled. A group of Russian dances by Barrymore was presented at the Bowl last year.

Farmerette!

Joan Blaine, star of "Valiant Lady," plans to organize a volunteer farmerette group, similar to the one originated by Ruth Hanna McCormick during World War I. The girls will spend their summers working on farms to replace men in the armed services.

FOOT CARE and comfort are health and beauty insurance; so don't treat your feet like stepchildren or poor relations. If they ache, give them a break by the proper care route. Soothe irritation with a sprinkling of dusting-powder after bathing. It relieves smarting, reduces friction

FEMININE FORUM

Put Your Best Foot Forward!

HEAD up, eyes front, and best foot forward! Yes, this country is definitely on its toes. We have a job to do, and we're doing it—we're learning to stand on our own two feet in more ways than one! You see, we've been stirred to action, and our lazy legs are learning to do their part. Where we used to take the car for the shortest trip, we've substituted walking. Afternoons that once were spent around the bridge table are devoted to nurse's aid or air-raid warden patrol. Women who never worked before are taking war jobs—standing at machines for long hours. So if you're one of the gals who spends the greatest share of a day on her feet—take heed!

Now, how are your tired tootsies reacting? Do they ache and burn during an afternoon of wardening? Do you limp painfully home after a long, hard day on the job? If so, it's a sure sign that you've been treating your feet badly. You see, we girls are a funny race; we pamper our dainty skin, care for our hands and nails, keep our hair soft and clean, but we shamefully neglect our feet! We buy shoes that don't fit perfectly, and worse than that—we pay little attention when those precious conveyors of ours begin to ache and smart. So give your feet a chance, start now to put yourself on a firm footing!

It's common knowledge that more women than men are afflicted with weary, aching feet. Chances are it all began when you bought your first pair of high-heeled, grown-up shoes. What a thrill that was—remember? Then when you had them in the closet, it seemed a shame to let them go to waste like that, so you wore them all the time, to school and for hiking as well as for dancing-dates. Well, there's no denying that heels are ankle-flattering, but they're also arch-flattening if worn all the time! They throw all the bones in our feet out of line. So substitute low or medium heels for every day, and especially for the times when you'll be on your feet. Save those Cinderella slippers for dates and dancing!

But if the damage has been done, and your feet are complaining of neglect, it's not too late. Pamper them back to health, and here's how. First, you need exercises to strengthen the arches and leg muscles. Stand barefoot on the floor and roll each foot over a small bottle, pressing down hard as you do. This builds up your

"Other Wives... hear my story"

HOW A YOUNG WIFE OVERCAME THE "ONE NEGLECT" THAT ROBS SO MANY MARRIAGES OF ROMANCE

1. Slowly, my husband's love and tenderness had changed to . . . a frozen strangeness. Then neglect. I spent long evenings alone. One grim night, driven to despair, I left my unhappy home . . .

2. My ticket back to Mother's was in my hand when I ran into an old school chum, a widow a little older than I. I couldn't bluff her. I had to tell. And bless her, she opened my eyes by saying, "So often, my dear, a loving husband can't overlook one neglect . . . carelessness of feminine hygiene (intimate personal cleanliness).

3. "Many modern wives," she told me, "use a gentle yet thorough method of feminine hygiene—Lysol disinfectant." She explained how Lysol is so gentle it won't harm sensitive vaginal tissues. "Just follow the easy directions on the bottle," she advised. "Lysol is a famous germicide. It cleanses thoroughly, deodorizes, leaves you feeling dainty."

4. Well, I tore up that ticket. And just as she said—I find Lysol disinfectant easy to use, so economical. Wives, don't let "one neglect" dim your happiness!

Check this with your Doctor

Lysol is NON-CAUSTIC—gentle and efficient in proper dilution. Contains no free alkali. It is not carbolic acid. EFFECTIVE—a powerful germicide, active in presence of organic matter (such as mucus, serum, etc.). SPREADING—Lysol solutions spread and thus virtually search out germs in deep crevices. ECONOMICAL—small bottle makes almost 4 gallons of solution for feminine hygiene. CLEANLY ODOR—disappears after use. LASTING—Lysol keeps full strength indefinitely, no matter how often it is unworked.

WHAT'S COOKING!

By GEORGIA SCOTT

Fete the Furlough Bride!

SPRING isn't the only season when a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love—far from it! February fourteenth is another time! And on that day St. Valentine, patron saint of lovers, holds sway, while Dan Cupid works overtime bearing love-tokens to fair ladies. These days, with Romeo in an Army camp and Juliet busy at work in a war plant, the King of Hearts has a hard job. But he has his moments and those moments are when Private Romeo comes home on furlough!

Then St. Valentine is in his glory, and often it's the cue for wedding bells to ring. Maybe you know a furlough bride-to-be—maybe she's in your family; whoever she is, you don't want her to miss all the fun and fixings that came before a peace-time wedding. She should have a shower luncheon, and what better time than St. Valentine's Day!

Nowadays, of course, February fourteenth means frilly lacepaper hearts, candy and flowers, but in old-time England it was a far different story. A century ago, the hopeful suitor would rack his brains for sweet and sentimental rhymes, but no paper hearts for him! He tied his verses firmly to a large red apple and presented it as a tribute to his beloved. Early on St. Valentine's morning, he'd steal into her garden and toss the love-message through her window. And if he was lucky, she would blow him a kiss in return!

Of course, our Valentine symbol isn't an apple, but a big red heart pierced by one of Cupid's arrows. So hearts should be the theme of your Valentine luncheon. The invitations must be heart-shaped of course, and you can even build your meals around them! Here's a sentimental menu:

- Cranberry-pineapple Juice Cocktail
- Baked Ham Loaf
- Candied Sweet Hearts
- Valentine Salad
- Heart-shaped Baking Powder Biscuits
- Queen of Hearts Tarts
- Coffee
- Candy Hearts

Decorate your table with tiny cupids or fat red hearts, and pile all the shower gifts at the head of the table for the guest of honor. Think up funny fortunes for the others and hide them in the napkins or nut-cups. Try it. Your Valentine shower luncheon will be a great success!

Candied Sweet Hearts

Boil large sweet potatoes until almost tender. Cool, slice thickly and cut each slice heart-shaped with a cookie-cutter. Place in a well-greased pan and pour over the hearts a sirup made of two tablespoons melted butter, one-half cup brown sugar, and one-fourth cup corn sirup, cooked together for about a minute. Bake in a 325-degree oven until potatoes are candied. Lift out carefully and arrange dots of pimento on each heart.

Queen of Hearts Tarts

Line muffin-tins with pie pastry, prick and bake. Mix and cook until thick in a double boiler one-half cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, two tablespoons flour, one cup evaporated milk, three-fourths cup of water, two tablespoons butter or margarine, and three beaten egg yolks. Flavor with one teaspoon vanilla and chill. Fill the cooled tart-shells half full of this chilled mixture and top with drained, sweetened canned cherries.

This Is the Army Hour

boat to Hancock at six in the morning . . . hello, Moscow, have you a general available at 1944 next Sunday? . . . Chiang Kai-shek wants to know who else will be on the broadcast . . . put it in the log-book . . . hello, Panama, is that you, Bob?

"Army Hour" producers travel the United States by every known means of Army transportation. They pop up at morning mess with the parachute infantry; they ride the armored force's tanks; they sweat out an artillery problem with a jackass battery; not long ago one had to bail out of an airplane over a Mississippi swamp—but he made his broadcast.

General, I'd like two heavy-weapon companies and a battery of hundred-and-fives . . . have you got a man who can build us a Molotov Cocktail? . . . too much QRN for New Delhi; stand by, Fort Bragg, you're on in forty seconds . . . a hundred dollars for a railroad train—that's too much . . . Colonel, can you give us two more minutes, and Jack, stretch The Thunderer to three—there's a blizzard in Canada . . .

There is literally never a dull moment on "The Army Hour": NBC representatives and War Department personnel toil long hours of the day and night to bring you an hour of a military operation of the Army of the United States; and you sit back in your chair at home and listen to half the free world on Sunday afternoons. No actors; just GI men and weapons bringing you a first-hand picture of your country at war.

If you haven't got mike-cable use field-wire . . . keep your voice-level down and leave some room for the guns . . . don't talk about it, let the customers hear it . . . okay, be in Helena Tuesday morning—no, I don't know how you'll get there, but be there . . . stand by . . . cross your fingers . . . here we go . . . This is the Army Hour!

"The Army Hour" may be heard over NBC Sunday afternoons at 3:30 p.m. EWT, 2:30 p.m. CWT, 1:30 p.m. MWT, 12:30 p.m. PWT.

every member of the occupied countries the chance to strike its own final, complete blow for liberation against the Axis. The French on the Continent must feel that they have given that blow for their beloved France, the Greeks for their Greece, the Norwegians, Czechs, Poles, Jugoslavs, the Danes, Netherlanders, Belgians—each must be accorded the right to help push the common enemy to the knees, both militarily and psychologically.

In other words, they will have to (and there is not the slightest doubt but what they will, if given the opportunity) gather behind their own fighting forces to free themselves.

After all, the fact that they have continued their resistance to the invader at the price of food, family, imprisonment, torture and death, earns for them the right to give that final blow in their own names, rather than owing everything to the Americans, the British and the Russians.

That way, and that way only, can they be our friends and self-respecting allies, rather than our wards and "weak brothers."

That way, and that way only, shall we all meet at the peace table on equal terms, and with equal human rights in reconstruction for the future. Freedom of religion and speech, freedom from want and fear—yes, all four of those. But to that list, add a fifth: Freedom with honor.

Elizabeth Bemis, newscaster over stations of the Columbia Pacific network, may be heard Monday through Friday at 1:15 p.m. PWT, 2:15 MWT.

What's Cooking!

Valentine Salad

- 2 tablespoons gelatin
- ½ cup cold water
- 2½ cups stewed tomatoes
- 2 slices onion
- Pieces of bay leaf
- 2 whole cloves
- ½ cup flaked shrimps
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- Few grains cayenne
- 1 tablespoon capers
- 1 tablespoon vinegar

Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes. Cook onion, spices, seasonings and vinegar with tomatoes. Strain, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool and add shrimps and capers. Pour into heart-shaped molds which have been dipped into cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise and slices of olive.

arches and brings leg muscles into play. Another good exercise is to pick up a marble with the toes of one foot and place it on the floor beside the other foot. Reverse the process and repeat several times. See if you don't feel the pull on all the muscles in your feet!

Then if you come home at night with feet that are swollen from too much walking, try the hot-and-cold method of relief. Plunge your feet into a basin of hot water for a few minutes, switch to cold for just a jiffy. Repeat this one about five times, then lie on the floor with your feet propped up on a chair for about fifteen minutes. After this, you'll be on the road to recovery. Follow through with dusting-powder, or Friendship Garden cologne, to soothe and refresh. Then for real luxury, give yourself a pedicure with Cutex polish to match your finger-nails. Eliminate bits of dead cuticle with lots of oil, cut them straight across and apply the polish. Be sure to tuck a little wedge of cotton between each toe—so the polish won't smudge.

One more word of caution! Your stockings must fit as perfectly as your shoes. Even a half-size too small can do a lot of damage. Then with your feet as fit as a fiddle, you'll be ready for anything. A smile on your face, a swing in your step—you'll be walking on air!

The story of her escapades which has been appearing in the press is indeed a deplorable one. But she is more to be pitied than censured. For Frances is really a very sick girl, and needs sympathy and understanding. Frances was married to Leif Erikson for six years, and their divorce left her with a broken heart that, so far, has not been mended. Perhaps with proper medical care and rest Frances will come back to her former lovely self. We sincerely hope so, for she has real talent that Hollywood can use . . .

Hog raiser can't buy bacon. George Murphy, of the nimble feet in movies, has been raising hogs on his 250-acre Oregon ranch for some time now. Not only that, he averages about twenty a month in sales to Oregon slaughter houses. Yet, in spite of searching high and low, George hasn't been able to buy a pound of bacon for his own consumption in the last three months. Just another indication that if Washington bureaucrats continue to unwind red tape, they'll soon be strangling the country that's supposed to feed the world, and starving its citizenry in sight of their own granaries! . . .

Jottings from Movietown. Alan Ladd has reported to Fort MacArthur for induction into the Army Air Forces . . . Victor McLaglen's son has been turned down by the service because he's too tall—six feet seven inches! . . . Twentieth Century-Fox' "Bomber's Moon," starring George Montgomery, should be technically correct. Technical Sergeant Hickman, wearer of a Distinguished Flying Cross for fighting over Guadalcanal, is the technical adviser . . . 'Tis rumored that Hedy Lamarr and John Loder are now at the hand-holding stage, with a romance cooking that will be worth watching, according to local gossip. . . . Recent camp polls show that Maureen O'Hara is giving Betty Grable a bit of competition among servicemen . . . Perc Westmore, famous Movietown make-up artist who's glamorized such gals as Ann Sheridan and Olivia de Havilland, has been giving facials to potatoes in the Army.

heads home to the beautiful apartment they furnished on Chicago's near North Side . . .

On the Sidelines: The John Larkins' baby is due momentarily. He's in "Helpmate" and other serial scripts and she's Genelle Gibbs, heard in "Lonely Women" and writer of more than one "Author's Playhouse" script . . . Likewise, contralto Lillian Chookasian may be missing from the "Hymns of All Churches" choir any day now, her doctor says . . . Since the first program in January, 1932, Harvey Hays and Lucille Hastings have played the principal roles (Ranger Jim Robbins and Mary Holloway, the school-ma'm) in the "Uncle Sam's Forest Rangers" playlet on "National Farm and Home Hour." The skit recently began its twelfth year on the air . . . NBC Chicago's Engineering Department has lost thirteen men to the armed forces. All of them enlisted and twelve have commissions. The other one is doing special service in a civilian capacity.
