

More Favorites

My favorite programs are as follows: National Barn Dance, Merry-Go-Round, Smile-A-While and many other informal WLS programs too numerous to mention; Lum and Abner, Vic and Sade, Tom, Dick and Harry; Pappy Chesshire's Barnyard Follies, Breakfast Business, Suppertime Frolic, Jack Benny and Mary Livingstone, Town Tall Tonight, with Stoopnagle and Budd or with Fred Allen; any good dance orchestra (Wayne King, Guy Lombardo, etc.). I don't care at all for "high falutin'" stuff (opera, drama and the like) but I really go for "hokum" in a big way. —Fan, Muncie, Ind,

Quiet, Please

... I agree with the Kentucky Woodburner because some Saturday nights there is so much noise going on that it makes it difficult to hear Arkie with his song and laughter. I do not agree with the idea of putting a grasshopper down Arkie's back, because those things do not tickle when they get down the back. A little water or ice isn't half as bad. I think he'd rather have that than the old grasshopper!—Steady Listener, Lime Springs, Iowa.

Appreciation

I'd like to express my appreciation for the "Cabin and Bunkhouse" programs and especially for the program of September 12. I don't know that I've ever listened to anything lovelier than the special arrangement of Rosalie and I must avail myself of this opportunity to commend and thank John Lair and the other artists.—Ruth A. Larson, Chicago.

"Top" Programs

I think listeners' opinions of radio highlights should prove interesting. Rating the "tops" in my estimation are: Drama - Girl Alone and One Man's Family. Music-First any time, the brand of songs and smiles dished out by the WLS boys and girls. Think the whole gang is just great, but my special bouquets go to Patsy Montana and the Ramblers. Then, for a bit of variation, a dash of popular music as played by Vincent York's orchestra. Devotional-Equally fine, I think, are a Sunday morning service from the First Baptist Church of Pontiac. Michigan, and a Sunday afternoon message by Rev. Maier, Lutheran pastor in St. Louis. Novelty --- Vox Pop. Master of Ceremonies-Don Mc-Neil. Comedian-Pat Buttram. News -Julian Bentley. Announcer-It's a draw between Howard Chamberlain and Jack Holden.

I could add a number of serials to the programs I enjoy, but this is a noble effort to keep it whittled down to the least common denominator.'. " "Pinto," Imlay City, Mich.

Land of the Sky

Just returned from our vacation to Scotty's Land of the Sky. We can easily understand now why he sings so many beautiful songs about Carolina and Old Smoky Mountains. Also visited Ramblin' Red's Renfro Valley. Don't blame them for wanting to go back there to live. I'd love to live there myself. We weren't very far north from Pat Buttram's home town. Maybe next summer we can visit there, too. I was sure glad to see my Stand By in the mail box when I got home. as I surely enjoy everything in it..., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hubcr, Evansville, Ind.

For Five Years

I was one of your first subscribers and save every one of the copies. It is great fun to go back and read over even the first down to the last and note the improvements that have been made. I do not want my subscription to run out, so am sending my renewal for five years.

Thanking you for a fine radio news magazine, and wishing you the best. —Mrs. Charles Peterson, Kenosha, Wis.

"Aunt Em" Broadcasts Her Philosophy and Poetry

By VIRGINIA SEEDS

"I want to help women who are sitting around, perhaps grieving because they are alone or have nothing to do. I want to show them how much there is to be done, what a grand time they can have making their dreams come true!"

And to spread this philosophy, "Aunt Em," who recently celebrated her 80th birthday, faces the WROK microphone once a week with bits of original poetry, stories from her travels, and her own homely reflections on life. As she says, "In my work before Old Mike, I try to have every broadcast different. There's nothing like keeping folks guessing." "Aunt Em" is short for Mrs. Emma

"Aunt Em" is short for Mrs. Emma Van Alstyne Lanning, the mother of the composer of many old-time popular songs, Egbert Van Alstyne. There was a grand reunion in the WLS studios when Mrs. Lanning, her son, Henry Burr who has popularized so many of Mr. Van Alstyne's songs, and Ralph Emerson all got together. Because "Memories" is Mrs. Lanning's favorite of all the songs her son has written, Henry Burr sang it for her during her interview on the Dinnerbell program.

Not content to bask in reflected glory from her famous son. Mrs. Lanning likes to get out and do things for herself. One of her favorite expressions is that for a woman, "Life begins at 65!"

When she was 65, M1s. Lanning took her first trip across the continent. Some of her relatives were making the trip, spending their days on the road and their nights out in the open. Mrs. Lanning wanted to pay her own way so, in her own words, she "cooked her way to CaliEgbert Van Alstyne and his mother, Mrs. Lanning, show Ralph Emerson and Henry Burr, two long-time radio friends, her poetry scrapbook.

fornia." Most of the cooking was done over an open campfire and since she had no recipes along, she cooked "by guess and by golly."

It was while she was on this trip that she began writing poetry, jotting down notes as the inspiration came to her during the long trip across the continent.

Because she wanted to be able to read her poems with expression, Mrs. Lanning came to Chicago and enrolled in the dramatic department of Chicago Musical College—the same college from which her son had graduated many years before. At the age of 69, she received her diploma and began looking for new fields to conquer.

Her 72nd year was an eventful one for Mrs. Lanning. Her son gave her a typewriter and she learned to type

AST Saturday night was National League night at the Barn Dance. We didn't know it was going to be, but that's the way it turned out. The St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs were well represented. During the afternoon the Cubs had lost to the Cards. So the Cards came down to the Barn Dance to celebrate the victory, while the Cubs turned out to forget their loss in the music of fiddles and guitars. In the front row sat two of the greatest pitchers in baseball, Lon Warneke and "Dizzy" Dean. They both sat in the front row, but very far apart. Lon in the first seat on the right of the house and "Dizzy" in the first seat on the left. They were surrounded by members of their respective teams.

It was during our community sing that we framed a note, making it appear that it was sent up by Lon and reading, "Dear Jack, on the next chorus I'd like to come up and sing it as a solo with a little help from my pal 'Dizzy'." The audience took their cue and cheered.

Much to my surprise, both Lon and "Dizzy" took me up on the joke and made their way to the stage. The rafters shook with applause! However, once at the mike, both "Dizzy" and Lon decided they would direct rather than sing. They did! No Barn Dance crowd ever sang so lustily as they did on that second chorus of "I Want a Girl Just Like the Girl that Married Dear Old Dad."

Warneke used a broom as his baton and "Dizzy" used that famous pitching arm to direct the singing.

It was a lot of fun. In the audience were such famous men of the diamond as Charlie Root, Umpire George Barr, Johnny Mize, Mike Gryba, Garibaldi, and others who sang heartily. It must have done the Cubs good, for they went out next day and beat the Cards.

There was another young baseball player in the audience Saturday night who deserves a mention. He is Robert Broderdorf of Algonquin, Illinois. He holds a record all his own. The pin he wears on his coat lapel tells the story. Seven years of Sunday school attendance without missing a single Sunday. That's a record to be proud of, too, Robert.

Georgie Goebel and Don Wilson may be seen almost daily now, early in the morning out in one of the rehearsal rooms studying chemistry together. Don, former teacher of Chemistry at Arkansas, helps Georgie with his experiments. Then Georgie goes into the studio, sings a few songs for you and off to school.

Well, boys and girls, here's something for you. There's going to be a great nation-wide birthday party next Monday. Your old pal Mickey Mouse will be eight years old on that day. Isn't he growing up, though? Hope he lives a great many years because if I go to a movie and there's no Mickey Mouse it just seems as though the movie is incomplete.

Ralph is having a great time over there at his desk. Every once in a while he chuckles to himself. He's going through some very old music copies. Every once in a while he comes to a number with his picture on it. A number Ralph introduced years ago. The number is not what invokes the chuckle, however. It's the funny pictures of Ralph on the covers.

Wish you could see our swell recreation room up on the roof. It's all finished now and we have two new ping pong tables up there. Already it looks as though Red Foley and Bill Thall will have to fight it out for title of "Champeen."

Twin Stars

Two young American artists, Rosemarie Brancato, coloratura soprano, and Helen Claire, dramatic actress, are co-featured in a new radio series entitled Twin Stars, which began on Friday, October 2, from 8:30 to 9:00 p.m., CST, over the NBC-Blue net.

Mrs. Brown Returns

Mrs. L. Book on Spain

"Olive Field," by Ralph Bates, a novel of modern Spain which shows social changes and causes of the present revolution, will be reviewed by Lucille Rotchford on Homemakers' Hour, Tuesday afternoon, October 6.

M ARKING the third anniversary of the Barn Dance on the NBC Blue network, October 3, the hayloft boys and girls will make the rafters ring with the songs which have proved most popular among listeners.

The ensemble will open the program at 8 o'clock, Central time, with "Reuben, Reuben." Those masters of swing, the Hoosier Hot Shots, will follow with "If You Lived in the Mountains" and "I Like Mountain Music."

The highlight of the show will be Uncle Ezra's appearance on the stage, dressed up in his store clothes, whereupon the orchestra and Hayloft Octette will break into "All Dressed Up and No Place to Go."

Sally Foster, the trio and the Novelodeons will join in presenting "Froggie Went A-Courtin'." After Professor Charlie Wilson gets tangled up in his weekly lecture, Henry Burr's voice will be featured in that old favorite, "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

"Seeing Nellie Home" by the ensemble will wind up this third anniversary program.

Starting October 3, the NBC Hour of the National Barn Dance will be broadcast from 8:00 to 9:00, Central Standard Time; and the repeat broadcast is scheduled for 10 to 11.

"Children's Favorite Pieces" is now heard over the NBC-Red network at 7:30 a.m., CST, on Sundays as a new weekly feature of NBC's Tenth Anniversary celebration.

Paul Wing, director of the NBC Children's Program Division, will act as narrator and master of ceremonies of the new series.

Columbia's Concert Hall is presenting E. Robert Schmitz, internationally known French pianist, in a new series of half-hour weekly programs devoted to the major piano compositions of Johann Sebastian Bach and Claude Debussy each Monday over the nationwide WABC-Columbia network from 1:30 to 2:00 p.m., CST. Fannie Brice, comedienne returned to the air succeeding Willie and Eugene Howard and Fifi D'Orsay on the weekly Revue De Paree Wednesday, September 30, over the NBC-Blue network at 7:00 p.m., CST.

Jimmy Fidler, Hollywood radio commentator, will return to the NBC-Red network on Tuesday, November 10, from 9:30 to 9:45 p.m., CST, in a series of Hollywood gossip programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen will be the stars of a new radio program to be heard over the NBC-Blue network each Sunday beginning tomorrow, October 4, from 4:00 to 4:30 p.m., CST. The program, titled "We, the People," will be supervised by Phillips Lord. Average men and women will come to the microphone each week to relate or to re-enact their authentic experiences and to express opinions, rather than to display their talents as amateur crooners, banjo strummers or animal imitators. The only professional guidance will be that given by Lord and his staff for purposes of radio production.

With a new supply of strange facts from all parts of the globe, Bob Ripley returns to the airwaves Sunday, October 4, to present another series of "Believe It or Not" programs (6:30 p.m., CST).

During the summer Ripley has visited many foreign lands in search of new features. He spent much of the time in the interior of India, which is rich in startling facts. As in the past, Ozzie Nelson and his orchestra will supply music for the program. Nino Martini, romantic young tenor of opera, radio and films, began a new series of Wednesday evening programs with Andre Kostelanetz and his 45-piece orchestra over the nationwide WABC-Columbia network September 30, at 8:00 p.m., CST.

Fred Allen's Town Hall Tonight broadcasts will continue to present amateurs during the second act of the full-hour show when Fred returns to the NBC-Red network on Wednesday, October 7. The show, to be heard every Wednesday at 8:00 p. m., CST, was carried on by Stoopnagle and Budd during Allen's summer holiday in Maine.

In January, 1935, Fred brought the first trembling tyro to the microphone for a chance at network broadcasting.

G REETINGS, Fanfare friends Remember, Cecil Hale? He used to appear in many dramatic shows including the little Home Theatre plays on Thursday afternoons, in the Aladdin dramas on Saturday nights and also did some announcing this summer. Cecil is now with WFAA in Dallas, Texas. He says in his letter that he is appearing on several programs including The Early Birds, Steamboat Bill. Ideal Time, Birdbrand Cowboys and others.

Now, to the questions in the Old Wire Basket. Mrs. E. P. Gatzke of Hinckley, Illinois, asks, "Where is Salty Holmes and will you please give a complete description of Ken Houchins who is now appearing with the Prairie Ramblers?" We received word this morning that Salty is appearing on the Crockett Family show over KNK in Hollywood.

Ken Houchins, the Yodeling Drifter, is 23 years old. He is five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 157 pounds, has dark brown hair and dark brown eyes.

Ken plays guitar, the harmonica, and the drums. He sings tenor and yodels. Has been doing radio work for the past seven years.

"Who is Uncle Ezra's wife and what is the subscription price of the Prairie Farmer paper?" asks Mrs. J. W. Walborn of St. Paris, Ohio. Uncle Ezra's wife is Nora Cuneen Barrett. Nora plays the parts of Cecilia. Mrs. Maloney and Tommy who gives Uncle Ezra a toot on the tooter in the EZRA program over WMAQ.

The subscription price of Prairie Farmer is 60 cents a year or a dollar for two years.

"Does Arkie's brother, Pete, make personal appearances?" asks Lois Baninger of Fish Creek, Wisconsin. Pete has made a few appearances with the traveling units. Here is a request from Janet Deeming of Joliet, Illinois, for the cast of the WGN skit "Painted Dreams." "Also who is the author of the show and what is the theme song?"

The cast of "Painted Dreams" is as follows: John Stewart played by Ed Prentiss, Alice Burke played by Alice Hill, Peter by Cornelius Peeples, Mother Moynihan, Bess Flynn; Joyce Foster by Kay Chase, who writes the show; and Nancy Hurdle played by Lily Greene. The theme song is "I'm Yours."

"Has Ramblin' Red Foley appeared on any other station besides WLS? And does Jolly Joe Kelly play the piano by note?" inquires Viola Turner of Payson, Illinois. Red worked a year at WCKY in Covington, Kentucky. Was teamed with Bill Haley. They were known as the Cumberland Crooners.

Jolly Joe plays entirely by ear.

Ethel Barrymore will be starred in a radio dramatic series beginning Wednesday, October 7, when she will re-live her theatrical career over NBC networks.

Although Miss Barrymore has appeared frequently, and with great success, as a guest star on the airwaves, this is her first regular radio series. She will re-score her theatrical triumphs in their natural order weekly at 7:30 p.m., CST, over the NBC-Blue network. The first is "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines," in which she played her first starring role in 1901. Prior to that memorable date she had played successfully minor roles.

There are certainly a lot of October birthdays, and you will notice that there are four on one day. October 21. Think that's a record.

Tommy Rowe, October 1; Bill Meredith. October 9; Oscar Tengblad, October 12; Allie Flannery and Vernon Quiram, October 15: Jack Holden. Pitchy of the Hired Hands. Tom Blanchard of the Hayloft Octette and Paul Aubrey of the Artists' Bureau all have birthdays on October 21. Chris Steiner, October 23; Roy Knapp. October 26; Doyne Wilson. October 28; Billie Flannery, October 29; Patsy Montana, October 30, and Emilio Sylvestre. October 31.

Ice Box Desserts for Parties

V/HEN all the little Johnnies and Mary's are safely back in school. Mother starts attending Home Bureau and her woman's club and catching up on her social activities which were set aside during the summer months.

All of this takes time and parties at home take more time still, but the wise woman plans her party menus so most of the work can be done the previous day. She also plans a pleasant surprise for her family menu on days she will be away from home in the afternoon. It's no more work than hurrying and

last minute, but what a help it is to her peace of mind.

Parties and club meetings call for new recipes-recipes for dishes with a minimum of three requirements. They must be really delicious, so delicious everyone will ask for the recipe. They must look attractive-have a party air about them. And they must be either very easily and quickly made or else be the kind that can be made the day before the party. The answer to your party dessert problem is ice box desserts. There are innumerable kinds of ice box desserts, and I have yet to taste one that isn't a luscious concoction.

If it is a dessert luncheon you're serving, this chocolate ice box cake will be just the thing.

CHOCOLATE ICE BOX CAKE

3 sq: unsweetened chocolate 34 c. sugar	1}2 c. butter (soft- ened at room temp.)
<pre>% c. (or 6 tbsp) water</pre>	112 c. confectioners sugar
6 eggs	1 sponge cake recipe
112 tsp. vanilla	(baked in two loaf cake pans)

Melt chocolate and sugar with water in top of double boiler. When smooth, add beaten egg yolks and cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Cool and add vanilla. Cream butter and confectioner's sugar, add to chocolate mixture and blend whites. Remove the cold sponge cake from the pan. line the loaf pans with wax paper and fill with alternate thin layers of sponge cake and chocolate mixture, having a layer of cake on both top and bottom. Make the well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg thin layers of sponge cake by slicing the cake horizontally the length of the loaf into 4 or 5 slices. Chill in refrigerator 6 to 8 hours or overnight. Slice and serve with whipped cream. (Serves 16)

If you like you may bake the cake in a spring form pan. Decorate the top and sides with whipped cream just before serving, for buffet service.

An equally delicious ice box dessert which is not so rich and hence more suitable for mid-afternoon refreshments or for a dessert following a heavy dinner is this:

ORANGE ICE BOX PUDDING

 1 c. sugar
 2 tbsp, lemon juice

 2 tbsp, granulated gelatin
 Grated rind of one orange
 194 c. water c. cold water

1 c. whipping cream 2 eggs. not separated 1/2 lb. marshmallows

2 tbsp, lemon juice

Boil sugar and water five or ten minutes. until clear. Soften gelatin in 14 cup cold water for five minutes and dissolve in the hot syrup. Cool slightly and pour slowly onto the well beaten eggs, stirring constant-ly. Add lemon juice, orange juice and grated orange rind, and chill until it con-geals to the thickness of a fresh egg white. Beat hard and fold in cream which has been beaten stiff — and marshmallows. Use this as a filling between and on top of thin lay-ers of sponge cake or yellow angel food cake. (Serves 16)

YELLOW ANGEL FOOD CAKE 12 egg y

12 egg yolks	2 tbsp. baking pov
114 c. sugar	der
34 c. hot water	1/4 tsp. salt

14 tsp. salt 1ª4 c. cake flour 1/2 tsp. lemon, 1/2 tsp. orange extract

Whip yolks with beater 5 min. or more (until it stands in peaks). Beat in sugar with a beater, then add hot water and fla-voring. Fold in flour, adding the baking powder, sifted with last of flour. Bake in tube pan 45 minutes at 350° F. Invert pan and allow cake to cool thoroughly before rementing it from the pan removing it from the pan.

This French Cream Pie is also a form of ice box dessert which is a great favorite.

EPENCH OPPAM DIE

FRENCH C	NOAM FIL
sugar 1 egg, unbeaten 34 c. nuts	Pinch salt ¼ tsp. vanilla

Roll vanilla wafers and pack half of them in bottom of a square s-inch pan. Cream softened butter well, beat as much confec-tioners sugar in as you can, add unbeaten egg and beat. Whip cream, add nuts and drained cherries, diced, vanilla and salt and fold into butter mixture. Spread on top of crumbs. Put remainder of crumbs on top and chill at least 12 hours. Slice or serve with whipped cream. (Serves 6)

Try these delicious desserts, one by one. on your family on days you are going to be away from home all afternoon. It will be a pleasant surprise for them. You'll profit, too, by having some excellent new party desserts.

Brass Blower

G ERRIE JOHN VOGT has blown his way all over the United States — with his trombone. When he was just 19, Gerrie was graduated from Dana's Musical Institute at Warren, Ohio, and joined the Black Hussar band, a concert organization that played in almost every state in the union.

Gerrie's education had included public and high school in Fremont, Wisconsin—where he was born—and several years at the University of Wisconsin in addition to his musical training. He started playing the violin when he was 13 but later devoted his entire time to the trombone.

Knew Victor Herbert

After traveling with the Black Hussars, Gerrie directed an orchestra which trouped on the old Pantages Show circuit out West. Back in Chicago Gerrie became a member of the Illinois Theatre orchestra, directed by the great composer, Victor Herbert. Gerrie tells many stories about Herbert's brilliance in conducting and his wit and humor in handling the men in the orchestra. He says that while Herbert was sometimes sarcastic in correcting the orchestra's errors, his sarcasm was so humorous that the men enjoyed it instead of resenting it.

"Thar he blows!"

During the World War, Gerrie directed a band on the cruiser and transport service which carried troops to the front. And when the last Liberty Loan drive was in full swing, Gerrie played his trombone in an orchestra with one of the government troops that toured through the Eastern states arousing enthusiasm. Among the celebrities in this troupe were Wilton Lackaye, May Irwin, William Farnum and Clair Briggs, the cartoonist.

Following the war, Gerrie played in theatre orchestras for a number of years in Chicago. It was while he was playing an engagement at a hotel in Hot Springs, Arkansas, that he met and married his wife, Sidonia. They have two boys, Kenneth, who is 12 years old; and Gerrie, Jr., who is 10. Kenneth has already started on a musical career and plays the cornet. Mrs. Vogt is an active member of the Parent-Teachers Association in the youngsters' school and Gerrie enjoys getting out in a vacant lot with the boys for a game of baseball. Gerrie occasionally takes time out for golf, too, and he likes to bowl. At one time he was champion bowler of Wisconsin.

X-Word Puzzle Fan

It was while Gerrie was playing with the Chicago Philharmonic Orchestra about 10 years ago that he did his first broadcasting. The station was WGN and the symphony broadcast was made by remote control from Turner Hall.

About seven years ago, Gerrie joined the WLS concert orchestra as trombone player and he is also a member of the Little German Band. Gerrie plays with the Little Symphony Orchestra of Chicago, and this summer he played at some of the Grant Park concerts with George Dasch's band. A former member of the Chicago Conservatory of Music faculty, Gerrie is giving trombone lessons to private pupils now.

Gerrie—the "G" is hard as in "great"—was given his Scotch mother's maiden name. Every now and then you can catch a highland twinkle in his otherwise serious blue eyes. His hair is dark brown and he is of medium height—about five feet, six inches. He weighs 160 pounds now but says he's going to cut that down to 155. Gerrie's birthday is January 3.

Between programs in the studio, Gerrie likes to spend his time working on cross-word puzzles.

New Friends and Old

Fall days introduce new voices and programs to your radio and bring back old friends who have been vacationing from the dial during the summer. When New York City returned to Eastern Standard Time on September 28, a number of time changes were necessary in the network shows.

Among the popular shows of last year welcomed back to the 870 wavelength this week were the Junior Broadcasters with George Goebel and Jean McDonald (6:30 a. m., Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday), Pat Buttram's Radio School (6:45 a. m., daily) and a daily program featuring those two carefree youngsters, Lulu Belle and Scotty.

Hal O'Halloran, remembered by thousands of children as "Daddy Hal," is now heard every day with his Rangers down on the MacKenzie River Ranch at 6:15 a.m.

The Girls of the Golden West, absent from the airlanes all summer, are scheduled for a daily program at 11:00 a.m., which features also Ramblin' Red Foley and Lily May. Another new program which brings you old friends is the Musical Almanac, every Tuesday and Thursday at 12:45 p.m. Sally Foster, the Maple City Four, Lou Klatt and other musicians, as well as Vic Smith, the Old Almanac Explorer, will all entertain on this program.

The Monticello Party Line, a new show which started September 21, and is heard every morning, Monday through Friday, at 9 o'clock, is already a favorite among listeners.

Time changes include that of Feature Foods to 8 o'clock in the morning. Julian Bentley gives his third news report of the day at 10:00 a.m., and his fifth at 1:10 p.m. Jim Poole's first report moves up five minutes, to 10:10 a.m. Daily Homemakers' Hour starts now at 1:15 p.m. and on Saturday at 10:15 a.m. Ma Perkins is being broadcast over WENR. The Saturday afternoon Merry-Go-Round program will be on for a full hour, from one to two o'clock.

Three new shows start tonight on the Barn Dance. The Tall Story Club holds its first meeting at 6 o'clock. Most of the tall stories will be told by that Oklahoma boy, Pokey Martin, using Bill McCluskey as his stooge. Featured on the show will be Sunshine Sally and the Rock Creek Rangers, the Vagabond Cowboys, Winnie, Lou and Sally, and Charlie Rankin. The Pine Mountain Shindig at 6:30 p.m. will give from two to four home talent acts an opportunity to perform on the Barn Dance. Ramblin' Red Foley, Lily May, the Prairie Ramblers, the Girls of the Golden West and the Hometowners will also take part in the shindig. At 7:15, Smilin' Ed McConnell will entertain barn dance listeners in his own unusual fashion.

All time mentioned is Central Standard Time. For other changes, follow the Stand By program schedule.

OWDY, folks. October is here, and Autumn has come, not as a drab, dully dressed pilgrim or hermit, garbed in weeds of brown and gray, but as a damsel, clad in flaming dress of gold and red, so gay.

You a week

Autumn scenes bring thoughts of life! Do not the flowers fade and die . , as many of our hopes do, and the leaves-they flutter down and blow away-just as our years whirl on and pass away? It's in the hazy later days of old October that the light fades early and darkness comes, just as our minds dull and dimmer memory comes, as we grow aged. Then, too, the warm sun of summer grows colder, just as our affections and interests diminish and chill in the autumn of life, as compared to the zeal and warmth of youth. Yes, when the frost is on the pumpkins, there is much to compare our lives with, in noting old Dame Nature's ways and the pictures she paints.

Many often wonder if industrious, overtime workers, who never watch the clock, really are ever rewarded or recognized. We have always maintained they were, or would be eventually. Now we know it was because we were working late last Monday, with no thought of extra reward, that we got a "break" and made our first, and probably our last appearance, before an NBC network microphone. Here's how it happened:

Behind time with copy, we were pounding away on our typewriter when the phone rang. It was a call from the agency handling "Orphan Annie's" program, wanting a har-monica player for the double broadcast and wanting him in a hurry. We elected ourselves for the job. Sure, we were just the man for that heavy role. We grabbed our trusty mouthharp, also a taxi, and within a few minutes, were performing for thousands of LittleOrphan Annie's friends. playing "The Old Gray Goose Is Dead," There were no congratulatory 'phone calls or telegrams following our number, although we rendered the old-time piece in our usual excellent style. Oh, well, it has always been thus-real art is so seldom recognized. The cast and genial director. Mr. Wallace, were a fine bunch of folks, and last, but not least, one can always use an extra check.

So there you are, the romantic story of how old Lady Luck came visiting a chap one late afternoon, found him AT HOME and hearing her first knock. Only this time, she rang a 'phone bell. Now that we've thrown ourselves a big bouquet, we wish to say that we found Miss Shirley Bell, "Little Orphan Annie" herself, a most charming young lady. And Pierre Andre is as convincingly friendly in person as his voice sounds over the air waves.

We enjoyed quite a visit the other day with Charlie Stookey, former well-known, old-time WLS staffman, Charlie is going good down at St. Louis, where he opens station KWK early each morning with his "Early Bird" program, which is similar to "Smile-A-While" time. Mr. Stookey told us that each morning, when driving in to the station from his home, he hears us over his car radio give our temperature round-up at 5:15 Central Standard Time. He makes note of it and passes Chicago temperature readings along to his KWK listeners.

Before Mrs. Emma Van Alstyne Lanning, guest speaker on Dinnerbell program last Tuesday, left the air, she received a 'phone call from Chuck and Ray, the old "harmony slaves," extending congratulations and best wishes to Mrs. Lanning. It seems these two artists have been corresponding with her for many years, both the boys and Mrs. Lanning writing back and forth regarding their mutual interests, music and song. They had all looked forward to meeting some day, and Chuck and Ray were sorry they did not know, until too late, that their radio friend was to be here. Mrs. Lanning, who is well known to WROK, Rockford, Illinois, station listeners, liked best, to hear the boys sing and play her favorite song-"Memories."

The Old Hayloft

By THE HIRED MAN

A Chicagoans included, can thank the City Council of this metropolis for all the mix-up you're now experiencing, not only the changes on the hayloft program, but most others during the week. . . . Program men and entertainers have a hard time figuring out schedule for Barn Dance tonight (Oct. 3) caused by New York changing from EDST to EST—while Chicago remains on EST, CDST or whatever you wish to call it. (Many say "tinker-time".) . . . If proviewed Henry Burr, Lulu Belle and Scotty, Patsy Montana, Uncle Ezra, Dan Hosmer, Henry, Tommy Tanner and several others. Among many other duties, he gives radio gossip (like Marge Gibson) over the Kansas City station, and sought material.... Tex Owens, from down Texas-Oklahoma way, was one of Arkie's successors on KMBC.... Great big fellow "brung up" on a cattle ranch and his most famous radio song is his "Cattle Call." ... Hayloft crew likes to have visits from other broadcasters.

"I think Pokey Martin should be kept on permanently," writes a La-Porte, Indiana, lady. "Saw him at our county fair and he went over big. Only hope he doesn't lose his naturalness and simple airs."... That's gram-makers get confused, you listeners must have a still more difficult time getting accustomed to changes. ... Chicagoans who vote November 3 can throw out year-round New York time forever... Hundreds of thousands hope they do.

"Yes, yes, go on," says Ralph, and Henry Hornsbuckle builds up . . .

Almost 515,000 Barn Dance visitors in Eighth Street Theatre since hayloft was "moved" there March 19, 1932..., A lot of folks, and from most every walk of life!... Many changes in hayloft crew, too. Boys and girls come and go just as in any family... Tall, smiling Lily May came from Kentucky the other day with her fiddle and 5-string "banjer". ... Three boys and a girl from KRNT, Des Moines, joining the crew as we enter the fall. They were the Rock Creek Ramblers over there.... Fine folks, all these new people, and soon you'll know them well.

Guests from KMBC, Kansas City, in the old hayloft. . . . Tex Owens, cowboy singer de luxe; the Texas Rangers, fine singing group; Gomer Cool and Doc Halley were our visitors and they enjoyed the fun. . . They saw Lily May make her "bow" to the radio world. . . . Gomer Cool interright, Pokey is another new member of the crew. He's won his way with the hayloft crew and with you listeners, too, we hope... "Tell us more about Arkie," writes a Union City, Indiana, listener. "Tell about him and his sweetheart, or maybe he is a bachelor." . . . Has the Chopper a "best girl"? I'm sure I don't know, as he's mum on the question of ladies. I think he stays a bachelor just to be "different." . . . It's been hard to keep up with the "hayloft hitchin's" this summer. Dan Cupid hasn't been on the unemployed list.

Uncle Ezra is looking for seed corn for that dairy farm that he bought up toward Lake Geneva. If 10,000 people sent him 10 kernels each, he'd have a-plenty — and probably more varieties than any one man ever had.

... The Sage of Rosedale reads Prairie Farmer with real practical interest these days. ... Post card from Walt Wade over in London where he is on business. Said he was going to north of England to visit relatives before returning home. ... Walt is the advertising agency man who arranged for and helps build the WLS-NBC Barn Dance hour.

That curly-headed announcer who writes "Ad Lib" promises to feature Dizzy Dean and Lon Warneke this week, inasmuch as they helped him lead the community singing the other night.... Some did say, as Jack stood between those star hurlers, that it was as close to fame as he'd ever be!

Eighty special correspondents located at America's major colleges and universities will supply Ted Husing, Columbia's ace commentator, with inside information for his most comprehensive series of sports programs to be heard over the WABC-Columbia network each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 6:15 to 6:30 p.m., CST.

Dr. Walter Damrosch will again conduct the NBC Music Appreciation hour, with the first broadcast of the ninth consecutive season scheduled for Friday, October 9 (1:00 p.m., CST). This educational feature will be heard weekly over both the Red and Blue NBC networks.

... the gag to the final explosion during the Top O' the Morning show.

her own poems and letters; out in California, she learned to swim; and she made her first broadcast. She had written a poem called "Glendale, the Beautiful" about the city of Glendale, California. At a large community gathering, the Mayor of Glendale invited her to come up on the platform and read her own poem. This she did and she remembers that experience vividly as her first broadcast.

Still traveling at 73, she rode into the Grand Canyon on a donkey and says that she would like to do it again.

On Children's Program

Her fondness for children and young folks was the leading factor in her second radio program. She became known as "Grandma" on Uncle Jerry's Happy Hour over WASH. Grand Rapids, Michigan. Using her own stories and poems and with a "mammy song" for her theme, she drew thousands of child listeners.

Now at WROK, Rockford, Mrs. Lanning is appearing every Friday on the Style and Shopping program conducted by Joan Darlene. Claiming that she is not doing anything out of the ordinary by broadcasting when she is 80 years young, Mrs. Lanning says, "I am proud, very proud of that boy of mine and it is for him and my grandson that I want to go on. Yes. I know that even after 80, dreams do come true,"

It's not an easy life, the one that this energetic woman has lived. She was born at Marengo, Illinois, March 29, 1856, and was brought up on a farm, the eldest of eight children. She earned her first money husking corn, and worked in the fields right along with her father and brothers. After a term as a country schoolma'm, she was married at 19 and was widowed before she was 30. Lavishing all her affection on her son, she made many sacrifices so that he might have a musical education.

Mother and Son

She remembers that "Egbert was always full of music. Even before he could pump the organ, we would pump for him and he could play anything that he'd heard sung. He was playing in public before he was seven." She recalls, too, in the trying years after her husband's death, the time that little Egbert cried because he had to wear patched pants to school. This fearless mother comforted her son with "Never you mind. When you're a great artist, no one will care what kind of pants you wore to school."

Most of Mrs. Lanning's poems have been written with certain people in mind, many of them to her son. She is a prolific writer and her scrapbook is full of hundreds of "pomes," her own word for them.

One day when listening to the radio, she heard Grace Wilson singing the popular song, "When I Grow Too Old to Dream." That inspired a poem which she calls, "When I'm Too Old to Dream," which she has given Stand By permission to publish:

"When I'm Too Old to Dream"

When I'm too old to dream— Just how old must I be? For I still am dreaming And my dreams are dear to me.

When I'm too old to dream, How dark would be the way If all my dreams were futile And could I not feel each day

That my ships were coming Across a sea of blue, All laden with Heart's Desire, My dreams are coming true!

Asked if she intended to write a book about her life, Mrs. Lanning replied with vigor: "I certainly do. But wait until I've really lived!"

Globe Trotter Guests

Because they wanted to see something "typically American," three young ladies from across the Atlantic visited the National Barn Dance at the Eighth Street Theatre.

Two of the young ladies were from England — Miss Margaret Harmsworth, and Miss Phyllis Gatey; and the third, Miss "Mickey" Lyserinck was from Holland. All three were traveling around the world accompanied by Miss Gatey's guardians, Sir James and Lady Owen.

Commenting in good British on the barn dance, the three agreed that "It was a jolly fine performance and very intriguing." According to Dave Ebey of the commercial department, their escort for the evening, they seemed especially amused by the antics of Lulu Belle and Uncle Ezra and by Hezzie's washboard.

"Rock A Bye Baby" will be the theme that introduces Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe in his first broadcast, October 5. The musical part of the program will come from the CBS New York studios, but Dr. Dafoe will speak from his own home in Callander, Ont.
