Like lettuce goes with tomatoes

Low-cost results and W-I-T-H go together just like lettuce and tomatoes. And how the local merchants do know it! W-I-T-H regularly carries the advertising of twice as many of them as any other station in town.

Here's why: W-I-T-H delivers more listeners-per-dollar than any other radio or TV station in Baltimore. And this BIG audience, at such LOW rates, produces low-cost results!

W-I-T-H can do it for you too. Get in on this natural combination—low-cost, resultful advertising and W-I-T-H. Your Forjoe man will give you all the details.

IN BALTIMORE

W-I-T-H

Go where there's GROWTH...

Furniture and Farming

ONE of "rural" Kentucky's leading money-making "crops" is... furniture! Even in the famed Bluegrass section, furniture is important. For example, the big plant of Karpen Furniture, at Lexington, and the Winchester Leggett & Platt plant. Owensboro boasts the expanding plants of Spring Air Mattresses and Murphy Chairs; at Henderson, the growing plant of Delker Brothers, bedroom furniture. The sales volume of Kentucky-made furniture jumped from $13 million in 1939 to $83 million in 1951! In the same period the number of furniture manufacturers increased from 546 to 1,000!

All this in highly-rated "agricultural" Kentucky... the state that leads the nation in farm income gains! Cash income from crops and livestock reached an all-time high of $632,632,000 in 1951! Kentucky's increase in land value is the highest in the nation; and crops last year were up 24%.

Go where there's GROWTH...

GO WHAS!

No other station—or group of stations—in this market can match the audience delivered by WHAS seven days a week; morning, afternoon and night.

WITH CBS rate adjustment now fait accompli with overwhelming affiliate ratification (88.5% at deadline Friday) eyes now are focused upon NBC's move. That NBC will meet competitive rate through revised structure of its own is taken for granted. Concern is over formula it will use and whether it will foreclose further jockeying. There's general view among CBS affiliates that this is it and that off-rate-card dealings are over in radio network selling.

AFFILIATES wondering whether CBS might follow NBC's lead and reintegrate its radio and television divisions are being told flatly that for foreseeable future CBS plans to continue to operate radio and TV separately.

USE OF radio in television-equipped homes more than twice as much as national research data indicate, is startling disclosure of intensive midwest research project about to be released.

DELAY in final approval of joint AAAA-NARTB standard TV advertising contract ascribed to historic insistence of agency group upon 2% cash discount feature, to which only relatively few stations have agreed.

WHILE present FCC plan is to conduct all hearings on TV in Washington rather than in field, it's expected that where sufficient cause is given, proceedings will occur in city in which competitive applicants are domiciled. With its limited appropriations, FCC apparently feels that proceedings can be handled more expeditiously in Washington, even though examiners might get better "feel" when proceedings are on home grounds.

WITH PRIVATE commercial TV operation foreclosed for foreseeable future, Canada's radio broadcasters are eyeing wired TV (through community antennas) as solution to dilemma. So far Canadian Broadcasting Corp., which is both licensor and operator, has reserved unto itself all TV allocations, and plans debut of stations in Montreal and Toronto next month, operating few hours daily. Awaited is public reaction when CBC begins limited schedules but slaps $15 license fee on each set owner who now gets full fare from U. S. stations across border.

VIRGINIA BUTLER, former business manager, Lennen & Mitchell, N. Y., and in charge of timebuying for Republican National Committee in 1944, understood to be joining Kudner Agency, N. Y., to handle radio-TV timebuying for GOP National Committee in this year's campaign.

FOUR additional names submitted by FCC to Civil Service for certification as examiners to meet TV workload, augmenting William G. Butts and Herbert Sharfman, appointed Friday (story page 106). They are: H. Gifford Irion, Aural Facilities Div., Broadcast Bureau;

WORKSHOP PANELS SELECTED FOR FIRST NARTB MEETING

PANELS for NARTB District 7 (Ohio, Ky.) two-day meeting, kicking off annual convention series, announced Friday by Robert T. Mason, WMRN Marion, Ohio, district director. Workshop sessions will be features of meeting, opening this morning (Monday) at Hotel Statler, Cleveland (see story page 23).

Agenda provides call-to-order at 9:30 a.m., with NARTB President Harold E. Fellows speaking at 10. He will lead floor discussion of top industry problems. Ken D. Given, WLBj Bowling Green, Ky., will head news panel. Other members will be Harold Heminger, WFIN Findlay; R. Sanford Guyer, WMOA Marietta. Richard G. Lewis, owner and publisher of Canadian Broadcaster, will address Monday luncheon.

In afternoon Richard P. Doherty, NARTB employe-employer relations director, will conduct management clinic. F. E. Lackey, WHOP Hopkinsville, will conduct 4 p.m. program clinic. He will be supported by Hugh O. Potter, WOMI Owensboro; Vernon A. Nolte, WHIZ Zanesville; Gene Trace, WBBW Youngstown; Robert Ferguson, WTRF Bellaire; Mike Layman, WSFC Somerset. John W. Betts, WFTM Maysville, Ky., and Robert C. Fehlman, WHBC Canton, Ohio, will give state legislative reports.

TV panel opens Tuesday program. William Fay, WHAM Rochester, NARTB TV director, will be supported by Thad Brown, Howard H. Bell and Edward H. Bronson, of headquarters staff; Allen L. Haid, WSPD-TV Toledo, and James Hanrahan, WEWS (TV) Cleveland. President Fellows will speak at Tuesday luncheon on topic, "I Can Get It for You Retail."

NBC Revamps Radio, TV Program Staffs

REINTEGRATION of NBC radio and television network program departments, in line with company's radio-TV unification policy, announced Friday by Radio-TV Program Vice President Charles C. Barry.

Thomas A. McAvity, former TV talent and program procurement manager, was named national program director, while Davidson Taylor, former general production executive in television network, was appointed director of public affairs, both men reporting to Mr. Barry.

Abe Schechter, general program executive, continues on special assignments, also reporting to Mr. Barry. Program organizations headed by Max Liebman, Worthington Miner, and Robert Montgomery not changed.

Reporting to National Program Director McAvity: Merritt Barnum, appointed manager of new program development; Fred Coe, Douglas Coulter, Dee Engelbach, Sam Fuller, George McGarrett, Roger Muir and Barry Wood, all executive producers and whose unit staffs will continue to work with them; Carl Stanton, appointed television network program manager, to whom television producers, associate producers and directors will report, as will Leroy L. Passman, who was named assistant television network program manager, and Ludwig Simmel, manager of co-op

FIVE-YEAR TV DEMAND OF 30 MILLION SETS SEEN

ADMIRAL Distributors' TV inventories are only one-sixth of those year ago, and market is no longer glutted with surplus or distress merchandise, according to President Ross D. Siragusa. He spoke to more than 400 Admiral domestic and international distributors in Chicago Friday.

Calling attention to 28 stations authorized since July 1, he commended FCC for its "magnificent job in thawing the freeze". He spoke of Denver, where 8,000 sets were sold in first two weeks after KFEL-TV took air, and predicted sale of 50,000 sets before year's end.

Admiral, he said, will hereafter introduce only one new video line each year, instead of customary two or three which is "wasteful" for factory and hardship on TV-appliance dealers.

He termed saturation of sets "state of mind" completely offset by obsolescence, pointing out that radio market supposedly was saturated many years ago. This year, however, industry is expected to sell 10 million radios with manufacturers' value of $250 million. Regarding TV, he said half of nation's sets, or some 9 million, have screens smaller than 16 inches, and 5 million sets are four or more years old and have 14-inch screens or smaller.

He predicted 30 million sets will be sold in next five years.

DuMONT TV TRIO PLANS PROGRAM, SALES PACKAGES

PLANS to integrate program facilities of three DuMont Television Network's owned and operated stations—WABD (TV) New York; WTTG (TV) Washington, and WDTV (TV) Pittsburgh—and to offer all three stations as package to sponsors on "an attractive basis" were formulated at conference in New York Thursday and Friday by station executives.

Attending two-day sessions were Harold Lund and Larry Israel, general manager and sales manager of WDTV; Walter Compton and Neal J. Edwards, general manager and sales manager of WTTG, and Lawrence J. Wynn, sales manager of WABD. Richard E. Jones, manager of DuMont's recently-established owned and operated department, presided over meeting that was called to discuss sales, sales policy, programming, promotion, merchandising and advertising problems.

One of announced results of meeting was plan for wider exchange of programs proved successful in each city and tighter integration of station and network operation. This practice, it was pointed out, will enable sponsors to use their programs on three markets that represent 15.5% of nation's buying power and contain 21.6% of country's TV sets.

In discussion on business affairs and plans, all three stations reported increases in billings and progress in building plans. Station managers agreed to standardize on slides, requiring uniformity in space devoted to commercials and that to station call letters.

Regarding building plans, DuMont's $4 million TV center at 205 East 67th St., New York, was reported as available for limited use within next month or six weeks and all five studios ready before end of year. Construction on WTTG's new headquarters on top of Raleigh Hotel was said to be progressing rapidly.

CBS Radio adds new discounts to reduce evening time charges by 25%. Affiliates agree to take 15% cut in compensation from network, but they'll recover some of that next Feb. 25 when the network restores Monday-Friday daytime rates to levels existing before the rate cuts of July, 1951. Other networks expected to follow suit, either with new rate cuts or new discount structures. Page 23.

HOWARD LANE, vice president of Field Enterprises Inc. for past seven years, terminates that post at month's end and plans to move from Chicago to Portland where he will supervise operations of KOIN Portland and KJR Seattle, in which he acquires interest under $1½ million purchase of two stations from Field [B•T, July 14]. FCC approval came last Thursday. Pending are applications for TV in each market. Field Enterprises is left with only one radio property of half dozen originally held—WJJD Chicago.

INTEREST of educators in TV manifested at meeting Oct. 4 in Portland, Ore., of board of governors of top universities. Lester E. Cox, part owner of KCMO Kansas City, vice president and director KOAM Pittsburg Kan., and chairman of board of KWTO Springfield, Mo., for U. of Missouri will direct panel discussion, with Michael R. Hanna, director of Cornell U.'s WHCU (commercial TV applicant) and NARTB board member, to participate. Move for "non-profit" operation, in lieu of non-commercial, which would permit educational stations to accept commercial business, is anticipated.

IN MEDIA fight for equality with press broadcasters also have encountered discrimination from number of private organizations. Latest example is Brookings Institution, high-brow privately-endowed research organization, which snubbed radio-TV in releasing newest publication, Health Resources in the United States. Both MBS and NBC-TV sought special event on study but were refused. Radio men aren't even given equal treatment on access to releases.

ONCE groundwork has been laid for GOP campaign strategy, look for appointment of radio-TV advisor to Gen. Eisenhower. Selection of expert to guide general on broadcast techniques and serve as liaison with networks and stations being mulled in Republican Campaign Committee headquarters. Advisor also would serve as "advance man" for nominee at key TV originating points for major speeches.

WILL MAYOR David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh and his plan to put VHF Channel 4 into nearby Irwin, Pa. (see story, page 73), run into legal snags? Observers point out one block to plan might be court appeals of WLOA Braddock and WWSW Pittsburgh, since they could ask stay of Commission action until courts acted.

FTC CITES PHILLIPS

FEDERAL Trade Commission has charged Phillips Inc., Washington electrical appliance chain, with making misrepresentations in its advertising of home freezers. FTC says Phillips claimed on radio and other media it was engaged in operation of food purchasing plan and that participants could save 30% on annual food costs. Phillips is not engaged in operation of food purchasing plan and savings do not amount to 30%, Commission claims. Hearing has been set for Sept. 24 in Washington.

How to Build Up Repair Business Via Radio

Mr. Thos. F. Abbott, Jr., President of Frontier Pontiac of Fort Worth, Texas, has used the Fulton Lewis, Jr. program as the chief means of advertising a budget plan for major repairs. His ad agency, the Rowland Broiles Company, states to Radio Station KFJZ, Fort Worth's Mutual outlet, "There has been immediate response in the form of new budget accounts. Also, during the recent showing of the 1952 Pontiac, we pushed 'open house on Saturday and Sunday' on the show and the response was very gratifying."

The Fulton Lewis program, with a ready-made audience and the prestige of the largest national network, is available for sale to local advertisers in individual cities at low, pro-rated talent cost. Currently sponsored on more than 370 stations by 623 advertisers (including 122 automotive sales and service organizations) Fulton Lewis, Jr. offers a proved and tested means of reaching customers and prospects. Since there are more than 500 MBS stations, there may be an opening in your locality. Check your Mutual outlet—or the Co-operative Program Department, Mutual Broadcasting System, 1440 Broadway, NYC 18 (or Tribune Tower, Chicago 11).

THAN OTHERS

Now, for the first time anywhere in television, requirements for 10-second station breaks have been standardized on stations represented by NBC Spot Sales — saving time and cutting production costs.

No longer do you have to go through the costly procedure of producing completely different films or slides for each station.

You need reserve only the upper right hand quarter of the screen for station identification. This leaves you a standard shape, covering seventy-five percent of the space for your commercial.

Thus, today, you can reach 50% of all U. S. TV families through our eight stations without changing your basic artwork or sound track.

Choice 10-second Shared Identification Station Breaks are now available for your Fall Campaign. So spot your product on TV — at minimum effort and expense. Yes, some spots are better than others . . . and you can buy them through NBC Spot Sales.

on all accounts

OPEN-MINDED in her appraisal of all media, Jane Ridley, media director and timebuyer of Irwin Co. Inc., Beverly Hills agency, feels that radio, suffering from a self-imposed inferiority complex, has for some time been underselling and apologizing for itself. She maintains this dates back before TV and that now the new advertising medium is getting much of the blame for radio's problems.

Believing radio will continue at its level as an advertising medium while TV will become a direct selling one, she advocates that each be used to complement the other by an advertiser.

Miss Ridley tried her hand in a variety of business and professional fields before that 1946 summer day when she walked into the Los Angeles offices of the Southern California Broadcasters Assn. to explore radio's possibilities.

She previously had been a dental hygienist, secretary, model, publicist, booker of animals for a state fair and had held various other assignments of responsibility, such as working for a construction company and an airplane factory.

After a year at SCBA handling spot announcements and working with diverse social welfare, civic, state and federal organizations and agencies in coordinating their Southern California radio through the trade association, she moved to ABC in September 1947. Her assignment was as secretary to KECA Los Angeles sales department, under the late Clyde Scott, then general manager.

Joining C. E. Hooper Inc. Hollywood office in the spring of 1948, she became manager some eight months later when Kay Lancaster resigned to be married. She returned to ABC in June the following year as a member of the network's Hollywood publicity - promotion staff.

About a year later Miss Ridley decided to get into the advertising agency business. She talked it over with George Irwin Co., and shortly afterward joined that agency's general staff, working with account executives in all media.

Becoming media director and timebuyer was a gradual process. She accumulated these duties within two years.

Look now at the rooftop on the right.

This marks a radio-only home, of which "Non-TV America" alone contains over 17,200,000 — each one located beyond range of any TV.

Represents quite an advertising market, doesn't it?

Yes, the plain fact is this: for every TV home in America, there's a radio-only home in the 45-state area of "Non-TV America"!

Mutual's Mister PLUS is perched on rooftops...

the righthand rooftop for a very simple reason. An independent, 1,000,000-interview research into actual listening throughout "Non-TV America" (Feb.-Mar., '52) proves that Mutual dominates this entire market by 2 to 1 over any other network.

What's more, Mister PLUS earns this rooftop perch for his clients by another simple fact: Mutual serves "Non-TV America" with more stations than the three other networks combined.

No wonder Mutual offers the Number One route to "Non-TV America"... as well as the lowest-cost route to all America.

feature of the week

RADIO is playing an important part in the public relations program of northwest Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin Indian Head Country Inc., a non-profit tourist association boasting 1,300 members, has used a summer series of programs for the past five years.

"One of the basic requirements in building more support for the recreation industry," explained Fred Kluhsman, executive secretary of the association, "is the education of the residents of the area in the work of tourist promotion and the value of tourist trade to the economy of the area."

Mr. Kluhsman contacted five radio stations in northwest Wisconsin five years ago in a move to obtain public service time to supplement news releases carried in 56 area newspapers.

The stations offered 15 minutes weekly. The association has used this time to publicize fishing news, points of interest and commentary on the value of the tourist trade to Indian Head Country.

Summer series of 20 programs is taped in Eau Claire, Wis., then mailed to the five stations which blanket northwest Wisconsin and cover several Minnesota counties.

What is the cost of reaching 16,000 listeners weekly during the summer? Mr. Kluhsman is happy to report the coverage costs only "about 25 hours of office time and less than $100 for postage and tapes."

Stations carrying the series of Indian Head Reports were listed as WEAU-AM-FM Eau Claire, WJMC-AM-FM Rice Lake, WLDY Ladysmith and WATW Ashland, all Wisconsin, and WEBC-AM-FM Duluth, Minn.

strictly business

A STRONG stand against negative salesmanship and for the positive future of radio is espoused by Robert M. Flanigan, manager of National Radio Spot Sales at NBC Chicago. Mr. Flanigan, who decries the "negative knocking" by radio's competitors for the advertising dollar, believes in "standing on what we have to offer."

As for radio generally, "It is in a state of flux, but will work out its problems. Continually undersold, it's still the greatest mass medium. Its future will be interesting—and positive." He sees many changes for the better, in all phases of the industry.

Mr. Flanigan's faith is supreme, despite his rugged competition. He competes not only in the nation's strongest TV markets, but also with hard-hitting radio operations in the six cities where NBC has O & O outlets. Two plusses he favors, however, are the swing of many advertisers who do not require product demonstration from TV to radio, and the emphasis stations are giving increasingly to merchandising, particularly in food and drug lines, to spot clients.

Many of his thinking processes as applied to broadcasting stem from his legal training. After graduation from the U. of Iowa, he began work there on a law degree before returning to Chicago, his family home most of the time since his boyhood days in Aberdeen, S. D. Back in Chicago, Bob

After graduation, he was disgruntled to learn spanking—new attorneys were getting only $8 per week, whereas a strangely foreign field—radio—offered a princely $18. He argued and won the case for radio, going to work for World

RADIO: WKZO, Kalamazoo, and WJEF, Grand Rapids, a CBS combination, deliver about 57% more city listeners than the next-best two-station choice in these cities. The 1949 BMB Report shows tremendous rural circulation, too—a 46.7% increase over 1946 in unduplicated daytime audience . . . a 52.9% increase at night! In the Grand Rapids area alone, this amounts to an unduplicated coverage of 60,000 homes, day and night. Best of all, WKZO-WJEF cost 20% less than the two next-best stations in Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids!

TELEVISION: WKZO-TV, Channel 3, is the Official Basic CBS Television Outlet for Kalamazoo-Grand Rapids. The 28-county Videodex Diary Study for April, 1952, using BMB techniques, proves that WKZO-TV delivers 91.7% more Western Michigan and Northern Indiana television homes than Station "B"!

EDITOR:

Because of the seriousness of the situation, we will come directly to the reason for our writing. We have discovered what we fear may be the cause of final disaster to the radio industry. We are not speaking of any other advertising or entertainment medium, but of a startling danger that exists within the industry itself. . . .

Motivated by mere curiosity, we were scanning the Yearbook for 1952 when we, by chance, opened it to the section listing the stations of the state of Wyoming. This page reveals the jeopardy. It is found in the person of one Joseph P. Ernst. Under Riverton, KWRL, 1450, 250 we find ". . . Joseph P. Ernst, p, g&cm, pd, pmm, ce, n, f, s, and wd." We shudder to think of our positions if the secret of Joseph P. Ernst is ever unleashed. To what avail the talent and training of a writer, announcer, salesman, engineer or any other. "I'm sorry; we have no openings at present. You know we have a Joseph P. Ernst on our staff." . . .

Gentlemen, the secret of Joseph P. Ernst must never be allowed to filter into the ranks. Our very security is at stake. And yours. For with Joseph P. Ernst at the helm, what need for a magazine telling of the industry's activities? We must formulate a forward looking program to overcome this threatening disaster.

RIVAL NETWORKS' CUTS

By RUFUS CRATER

THE SHAPE of radio network time costs for the future was molded last week, with the other networks expected to devise new structures matching the approximately 25% nighttime cut—via additional discounts—approved by CBS Radio and its affiliates.

Evolved by a committee of affiliates after extensive sessions with network officials, and given an "overwhelming" vote of approval at the meeting of approximately 110 affiliates in Chicago on Tuesday, the plan is slated to become effective Aug. 25.

The adoption of the plan hinged on its formal acceptance by 85% of the CBS Radio affiliates in the continental U.S. that receive network compensation.

At mid-afternoon Friday Frank Stanton, CBS president, told BROADCASTING • TELECASTING that 85.2% had signed. The overwhelming acceptance, he said, was a "remarkable demonstration" of network-affiliate unity.

The alternative, station officials said after the meeting, would be a straight 35% cut in nighttime rates by the network.

Instead of that, leaders of the affiliates committee estimated that they had accomplished "80 or 90%" of the mandate handed them when the stations first convened to study the rate crisis in July [B•T, July 7].

'Deals' Out for Good

Apart from the increased discounts to nighttime advertisers, they yielded to a 15% cut in compensation from the network, but won (effective Feb. 25, assuming the plan is effectuated Aug. 25) a restoration of last year's 10% rate cut, so far as Monday-through-Friday daytime programs are concerned, accompanied by a 5.5% increase in what they themselves are paid for carrying programs in these periods; were assured that the network's card rates won't be cut for at least a year and that "deals" are out for good, and won network agreement to de-emphasize ratings as a principal selling tool and to underwrite a qualitative study of radio listening and radio's sales effectiveness.

There appeared no doubt that the other networks would follow suit with comparable plans of their own devising.

Others Watching

An NBC official, referring obviously to NBC's abortive prior attempts to reduce rates, noted that "we have been studying our own rates for a year and a half" and, in the face of the CBS Radio move, probably will have an announcement to make about them "soon."

An ABC spokesman described

that network's position in words that seemed applicable to all:

"We regret that CBS has seen fit to lower rates. ABC will re-examine its rates in the light of that action. Advertisers on ABC will not be at a competitive disadvantage."

Mutual had no immediate comment, but it was recalled that like the other networks it, too, "met the competition" when CBS Radio led the way with its 1951 reduction of approximately 10%. Mutual and ABC did it that time by a procedure comparable to CBS Radio's approach to this one—by revising discount structures.

John Fetzter of WJEF Grand Rapids and WKZO Kalamazoo, who presided over the Chicago meeting in the absence of Chairman George Storer of Storer Broadcasting Co., who was struck with a deafness the day before the meeting, described the plan and its expected results as follows:

"These changes re-balance the night and day values of the radio medium. They also simplify the cost structure for network advertisers."

"Under the proposed plan, revised discounts will permit most nighttime advertisers to enjoy cost reductions averaging about 25%. Daytime charges for Monday-through-Friday advertisers will be increased in most cases by about 5%."

Mr. Fetzter's reference to an approximately 5% increase in advertisers' costs on daytime programs Monday through Friday, as against an 11.1% increase in the card rate for these hours, presumably means the network will absorb, via discounts, the difference between the 5.5% increase in station compensation and the 11.1% increase in rates.

"The majority of the commit-

RATE 'SEAL' URGED

By J. FRANK BEATTY

ADOPTION of an "NARTB Guaranteed Rate Card Seal" was proposed last week by Todd Storz, general manager of KOWH Omaha, to curb the "widespread practice of rate cutting."

On the eve of the annual series of NARTB district meetings, starting today (Monday) in Cleveland [B•T, Aug. 11], the association was offered this chance to attack special deals and deviation from published rates.

If NARTB feels it isn't practicable to undertake the seal project, Mr. Storz said he would undertake to form an industry group outside the association to initiate and administer the plan.

The plan was submitted at the same time CBS was agreeing with its affiliates to cease rate-cutting for a year.

Though rate-cutting doesn't have a formal place on the agendas of the 17 NARTB district meetings, it was obvious that the subject will join television's impact in dominating the panel discussions.

No NARTB Comment

NARTB headquarters would not comment officially on the Storz plan for an NARTB seal other than to explain that President Harold E. Fellows was in touch with Mr. Storz.

President Fellows will find himself in the middle of a rate-cutting discussion at today's opening session in Cleveland. Robert T. Mason,

NARTB to Discuss

WMRN-Marion, Ohio, director for District 7 (Ohio, Ky.), will preside at the inaugural meeting and will introduce Mr. Fellows at 10 a.m.

That's where the rate-cutting problem is expected to draw broadcaster fire. Mr. Fellows will follow his 1951 district meeting policy by tackling industry problems and then inviting floor discussion. He has long been a staunch advocate of adherence to rate cards.

District 8 (Ind., Mich.) of NARTB meets Thursday-Friday at Mackinac Island, Mich., with Stanley R. Pratt, WSOO Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., presiding as district director.

'OMNIBUS' SERIES

Ford Allows $2 Million

FORD Foundation's TV - Radio Workshop has authorized $2 million to underwrite its forthcoming 90-minute weekly television series, Omnibus, it was announced last Thursday by Robert Saudek, workshop director, at a New York news conference.

The program currently is being shown to advertising agencies and advertisers in an attempt to get commercial sponsorship by at least five multiple national advertisers for the program to be launched Nov. 9, 4:30-6 p.m. on CBS-TV. Should part of the show remain unsponsored, the workshop is prepared to underwrite the entire series 26 weeks, Mr. Saudek said.

Although the program was first offered to CBS-TV affiliated stations only last week for station clearance of 90 minutes, more than 20 stations already have agreed to take the program, Mr. Saudek revealed. Affiliated stations will be paid for the show on regular card rates.

Price of the show to one of the five advertisers will be $13,000. Advertisers will buy the program in the regular manner, paying for both time and talent.

'Showcasing' Programs

The program is composed of about five features in each program, with segments running from five to 43 minutes—the extent of the act without any quarter-hour break. Many of the items presented in Omnibus will be in the nature of "showcasing" programs that eventually may find their own places in network schedules.

The talent on the program is professional with accent on entertainment. Hubbell Robinson, vice president for programs, CBS Television, described the show as a special kind of variety show which will appeal to the mind but will have its light moments.

The TV-Radio Workshop was established in September 1951 on the recommendation of James Webb Young, then consultant on mass communications to the Ford Foundation, as the first major implementation of a trustees' mandate that "the Foundation will support activities directed toward the effective use of mass media for nonacademic education and for better utilization of leisure time for all age groups."

Kordol Names Rader

KORDOL Corp. of America, New York, has named Kenneth Rader Co., that city, to handle advertising for its Kordolin proprietary medicine. Spot radio will be used in major Eastern markets, with definite schedules to be announced later.

MBS RADIO

MUTUAL, with more stations serving the country's non-TV area than the three other major networks combined, also leads in share of audience among the 17 million radio homes located outside the reach of TV stations, according to a special survey conducted by J. A. Ward Inc. for MBS early this year.

Substantiating this finding, a repeat study of the 1950 "Hometown America" survey, covering those 329 markets in which MBS had the only network outlet, made in February-March 1952 concurrently with the Ward survey, shows an 11% increase in MBS audiences in the two-year period.

Results of the two surveys, soon to be published in a 75-page statistical report, "Radio Listening Throughout Non-TV America," were outlined by Richard J. Puff, MBS director of research, at a Thursday morning news conference at the network's New York headquarters. He pointed out the number of radio homes in the non-TV areas of the country just about matches the number of TV homes in communities where video program service is available.

Covering 86% of the nation's land area and including 60 million people and 39.6% of the U. S. radio homes, the non-TV area has 795 network stations in 531 communities, Mr. Puff reported. Mutual, he said, has local outlets in 416 of these cities, "more outlets than the other three major outlets put together."

The Ward survey, a coincidental telephone job including more than a million interviews in 151 markets outside the reach of TV stations at a cost of $125,000, was underwritten jointly by the Mutual network and more than 100 of its affiliated stations, who will receive individual reports of their own coverage areas, Mr. Puff said. Made over a four-week span, the survey generally measured listening between 9 a.m. and 10 p.m. weekdays, and noon and 11 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, he said.

SUMMER RADIO

Gottlieb Cites Value

CBS Radio's summer programming is designed to reach "mobile" audiences, Lester Gottlieb, vice president in charge of network programs, declared Friday in an interview on the network's You and the World program.

"People are on the move in the summer," he said. "They are in cars, they are on beaches, they are in picnic grounds, they are out relaxing. And we have a hunch that radio should more or less serve them as an entertainment guide while they are on the move, and we know that radio is the one mobile entertainment operation."

Unlike TV, he continued, many people take portable radio sets with them when they travel: "We know for a fact that there are more portable radio sets this year than ever in the history of the radio business. We know that there are some 25 million car radios—and they are in use—and we feel that we should bring them the type of program and service in radio appropriate for this type of radio communication."

Music is the nucleus of this type of programming, he said, with added features that are not strictly entertainment but provide listeners with information and service. He cited reports on traffic conditions, weather information, national news and baseball scores as features of the network's On a Sunday Afternoon program which tie in with the theory of programming a network as if it were one big local station.

KOIN, KJR SALES

Seven Others Also Approved

SALE of Marshall Field's KOIN-AM-FM Portland, Ore., and KJR Seattle to new ownership for $1.5 million [B•T, July 14] was approved by the FCC last week.

The Commission also approved seven other transfers of ownership or of control, including the protested sale of WRJN-AM-FM Racine, Wis., from Harry R. LePoidevin and the estate of the late Frank R. Starbuck to the Journal-Times Co., that city, for $157,600 [B•T, June 23]. For details of other approvals, see FCC ROUNDUP, page 103.

New owners of KOIN and KJR stations are Ralph E. Stolkin, Chicago oilman and principal in National Video Corp., cathode ray tube manufacturer; Edward G. Burke Jr., San Antonio oilman; C. Howard Lane, vice president of Field Enterprises; Ted R. Gamble, Portland theatre operator, and Sherrill G. Corwin, Los Angeles theatre owner.

Mr. Gamble has financial interests in KLZ Denver and KCMJ Palm Springs, Calif. Messrs. Stolkin, Burke and Corwin are associated with Clem Randau in the operation of KXOB Stockton, Calif., which they bought recently from Lincoln Dellar for $200,000 [B•T, July 14].

Mr. Lane also holds an interest in KFBI Wichita. He will make his headquarters in Portland.

KOIN's license will be held by Mount Hood Radio & Television Broadcasting Corp.; KJR's by Mount Rainier Radio & Television Broadcasting Corp. Minor interests in KOIN will be held by Harry H. Buckendahl, vice president and general manager, and Ted Cooke, program director. Minor ownership in KJR will be held by J. Archie Morton, vice president and general manager. All continue in their present positions.

KOIN is a CBS affiliate on 970 kc with 5 kw. KJR is an ABC outlet on 950 kc with 5 kw.

Sales will be consummated Aug. 22 for KOIN and Aug. 23 for KJR.

Protest against the sale of WRJN Racine to newspaper ownership was made by WRAC of the same city. WRAC charged FCC approval would conduce to monopoly [B•T, July 28]. In reply, WRJN asked FCC to dismiss the protest as coming from a "disgruntled competitor" [AT DEADLINE, Aug. 4].

Berg to West Coast

TRANSFER of Lee Berg, staff script writer for the Frederic W. Ziv Co., to the Hollywood headquarters of the company from its New York offices was announced Wednesday by Herbert Gordon, Ziv vice president in charge of production. Mr. Berg will begin work immediately on the coast on the new Ziv radio program, Freedom, U.S.A. [B•T, July 4].

SPOT BUYS

By FLORENCE SMALL

SPOT radio and TV looms potentially larger than ever with disclosure last week that at least a dozen more major advertisers are currently known to be planning or are actively preparing fall schedules in radio and television.

This was pointed up in a check by BROADCASTING • TELECASTING which revealed the following activity:

Electrolux Corp. of Old Greenwich, Conn. (Electrolux vacuum cleaners), which has never advertised before, will use 10 radio spot announcements per week in about 102 radio markets starting Oct. 1. BBDO, New York, is placing the eight-week contracts.

Craftsman Billfolds, New York, will counter with what probably is a television "first" by taking a series of station identification spots on election night in cities from coast-to-coast. It is believed that this will be the first time that a sponsor has used TV station identifications on a one-night coast-to-coast basis as a tie-in with special events programming. Lewin, Williams & Saylor, New York, is the agency.

Anahist Co., Yonkers, New York, through Ted Bates Inc., New York, will start its radio schedule Oct. 15, using 5-, 10- and 15-minute shows in from 150 to 175 markets.

B. T. Babbitt Co., New York (Glim detergent), will begin a radio spot campaign for 13 weeks in 30 markets effective Aug. 29. Harry B. Cohen, New York, is the agency.

Nabisco Schedule Readied

National Biscuit Co. (Nabisco) is preparing a 20-second TV spot campaign for all its products in all TV markets, effective Sept. 1 for 52 weeks. In addition, the company for its Milkbone dog food preparation will use ten radio markets, regional, West Coast and New England, in a 17-week campaign. McCann-Erickson, New York, is the agency.

Lydia Pinkham launches its spot schedule in 150 radio markets today (Monday) to run through November and to resume again in January. Harry B. Cohen is the agency.

A. S. Harrison Co., South Norwalk, Conn., for its Preen floor wax, will inaugurate on Sept. 8 a TV series of announcements in 20 major cities. Contracts vary from 13 to 39 weeks. Calkins & Holden, Carlock, McClinton & Smith, New York, is the agency.

Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. (Black Draught), will be purchasing the largest list of radio availabilities in its advertising history, 140 markets, effective Sept. 8 for 39 weeks. Harry B. Cohen is the agency.

Dormin Inc., New York (sleeping tablets), through Dowd, Red-

Electrolux Among Dozen Planning field & Johnstone, that city, will be starting 13 and 26-week campaigns early in September in 10 markets.

Grove Labs., St. Louis, through Harry B. Cohen, effective Sept. 29, will enter 200 radio and approximately 15 TV markets for a 22-week campaign.

Flex-Let Corp., New York (wristwatch bands), through Ben Sackheim, also New York, is planning to use station identification spots of eight and 20 seconds in about 31 markets, effective Sept. 22. This marks the third year in TV spot advertising for the client but a tremendous increase in coverage this year over the previous campaign.

Seeman Brothers, for its new product Nylast, a detergent and nylon strengthener, is considering a TV spot schedule to introduce the product. William H. Weintraub Co., New York, is the agency.

In commenting on the roseate tone of the spot picture, Mr. T. F. Flanagan, managing director of the National Assn. of Radio and Television Station Representatives, told BROADCASTING • TELECASTING that "when you look for the causes of this healthy, continuing, growing trend in spot radio you will probably find that the best reason for its continuous growth is that advertising appropriations are growing. . . . The pie is bigger and national spot is getting more than its share of the added billings," he said.

Mr. Flanagan continued: "When it dawned upon agency planners that you could get more saturation by the use of national spot advertising than from any other combination, and that saturation has become so necessary to meet the great production volume of industry, it is not surprising that national spot is growing."

"The television business," he said, "is marked by a decided movement toward placing programs on a spot basis. The trend is made possible by putting programs on film, and the result is lower cost for time and a better time schedule, with consequent larger audiences."

"It is not beyond the bounds of possibility," Mr. Flanagan concluded, "that this trend in spot programs on television will be matched with a similar trend in spot radio made possible by taped programs."

LEIBMANN SETS 'Miss Rheingold' Spot Drive

LEIBMANN Breweries, New York, maker of Rheingold beer, will launch its annual radio and TV plans for the election of "Miss Rheingold of 1953" during the last week in August.

In radio the firm will use 184 spots a week on seven New York stations. The spots—minute and half-minute—tell the Rheingold story in a variety of ways, mostly featuring the jingle, "My Beer Is Rheingold, the Dry Beer. . . ." In addition, spot radio schedules are slated on Connecticut, New Hampshire, New Jersey and New York state stations. Supplementing the spot schedule, the firm continues to sponsor Jinx Falkenburg twice a week on WNBC New York; Guy Lombardo, Monday through Friday on WNBC during the summer, and the Ralph Cooper Show, Monday through Saturday on WOV New York.

In television the beer firm sponsors a mystery-adventure on WNBT (TV) New York (Wed., 10:30-11 p.m.). And starting in September, there is to be a heavy 30-second spot schedule on leading New York TV stations. In addition, special five-minute television films on the Miss Rheingold election are planned. Foote, Cone & Belding, New York, is agency.

AUTO RADIOS

Pulse Study Sees 35 Million

SOME 27,425,000 automobiles in the U. S. presently are equipped with radios and this figure can jump as high as 35 million within the next few years.

Those are two of the major conclusions highlighting the first study of national automobile radio ownership and listening made by the Broadcast Advertising Bureau and issued in booklet form last week under the title, "Listeners on Wheels—First National Survey" [B•T, Aug. 4].

Significance of radio ownership and listening also was pointed up by the discovery that radio listening in cars is approximately one-third to a half again what it is in the home and that car radios are in use all hours of the day and every day of the week.

The 13-page booklet, illustrated with photographs, maps and charts, is a follow-up to an "Interim Report" on the subject issued by BAB in June [B•T, July 7]. It was financed by BAB and conducted by The Pulse Inc. in more than 250 locations in 65 areas throughout the country. To gather data on radio listening habits, Pulse interviewed some 105,450 automobile drivers — 74,362 in radio-equipped cars and 31,088 in "radio-less" cars.

The report noted that all previous reports were "fragmentary" and did not present an accurate picture. The findings of the survey, BAB said, reflect interviews by Pulse during the March 10-23 period.

The 27,425,000 automobiles equipped with radios represent 70.5% of all cars in the U. S., the survey showed. But in the post-war years, some 92.4% of new automobiles have radios and it is reasonable to believe approximately 90% of automobiles in the next few years will be so equipped, the report continued.

Northwest Auto-Radio Leader

Pulse learned that automobile radio ownership is highest in the Northwest (75.1%) and in the central sections of the country (72.2%). But the West Coast and Rocky Mountain section did not lag far behind (70.6%), according to the report. The Middle Atlantic, Southern and South Central states, although trailing the others, chalked up a respectable 63.9%.

Automobile radio ownership was found to be highest in large cities and lowest in rural areas. For instance, in metropolitan districts with two million or more population the figure was 78.1%, while in metropolitan districts with 150,000 to 200,000 the number stood at 74.1%. Figure for "other urban markets" was 70.4% and for rural areas, 59.8%.

Of special interest to advertisers are figures compiled for sets-in-use information for various hours of the day, both during the week and on the weekend. In the Monday-through-Friday tabulation, the survey showed listening in automobiles reached a peak of 41.5% at 7 a.m. and tapered down gradually to 28.8% at 10 a.m. From that time, it rose, with occasional dips, to 37.9% at 8 p.m., the latest hour for which the survey was made.

Saturday auto listening was at its highest at 7:30 a.m. (45.0%) and reached a low of 28.5% at 11 a.m., with the figure slowly rising to 32.7% at 7:30 p.m. Figures for Sunday showed peak listening at 7:30 a.m., with the figure declining in late morning and early afternoon to a low of 23.5% at 1:30 p.m. and rising slowly to 41.0% by 8 p.m.

In a further exploration of the sets-in-use angle, Pulse found all sections of the country about equal with a uniformly high percentage of auto radios used. The West and Rocky Mountain regions led with 35.8%, followed in order by the South Central, South and Middle Atlantic (33.8%); the Northeast (32.5%), and the Middle West (32.4%).

Further data on the survey can be obtained from the Research Department, Broadcast Advertising Bureau Inc., 270 Park Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

ROCHESTER TEST

RADIO listeners spent more money and bought more goods than newspaper readers in a series of tests conducted in Rochester, N. Y., by Advertising Research Bureau Inc., according to the city's Radio Broadcast Management Council.

Surveys sponsored by four local stations—WARC, WHAM, WRNY, WVET—reveal that radio drew more customers and sold more merchandise in three out of four store surveys, with a slight differential in the fourth store.

Newspaper advertisements were published in the jointly-owned Gannett dailies. WHEC, Gannett-owned, did not participate because of company policy. Stores participating were McFarlin's, leading men's wear store; Projansky's, women's apparel; Edward's Department Store, and Sears, Roebuck, household appliances. Each store spent the same sum for radio and newspaper advertising, the ads ranging in cost from $120 to $255.

Participating stores had 35.1% more traffic than would have been the case had they used only newspapers which produced only 29.5% of the traffic, the combined results show. Radio was responsible for 44.8% of the purchases of merchandise as against 43.8% for the newspapers. Per cent of dollar value of purchases gave radio 34.4% compared to only 27.5% for newspapers. Buyers attracted by both media were in the minority, supporting the theory that there is little duplication between radio and newspapers.

Jack Knabb, public relations counsel for the Rochester radio group, said:

Radio should not be used haphazardly but on the same frequency and continuity as any other medium. Quite definitely there are two groups of buyers, one of which can be reached only by radio. Retailers are losing customers by not using radio. They positively can get more customers, more sales and more value for their advertising dollar by implementing their newspaper advertising with radio on an equal basis.

NARTB MEETING

Preliminary Plans Laid

ADVANCE arrangements for the 1953 NARTB convention to be held April 28-May 1 at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, were ratified Tuesday by a convention committee, headed by Clair R. McCollough, WGAL Lancaster, Pa. The committee reviewed plans made by Mr. McCollough and C. E. Arney Jr., secretary-treasurer, during a mid-July conference in Los Angeles.

Actual programming of the convention has not been undertaken, other than general discussion of policies. The business sessions start Wednesday, April 29 and continue through Friday afternoon. The Wednesday-Friday agenda is designed to give broadcasters a chance to take advantage of airline family rates.

Entertainment will be handled by Southern California Broadcasters Assn.

Attending the committee's meeting Tuesday besides Chairman McCollough were Calvin J. Smith, KFAC Los Angeles; Henry W. Slavick, WMC Memphis; Albert D. Johnson, KOY Phoenix; and Jack Harris, KPRC Houston. Representing NARTB were President Harold E. Fellows; Robert K. Richards, assistant to the president and public affairs director; Mr. Arney; William T. Stubblefield, station relations director, and other staff directors.

CD Matching Funds

MATCHING funds of $15 million have been allocated by the Federal Civil Defense Administration to the states for fiscal 1953, it was announced last week. States and territories can match the sum with another $15 million to buy attack warning and other communications equipment, medical supplies, etc. Provision also is made for training and public education through use of all media at the local levels. FCDA Administrator Millard Caldwell said matching funds "is one of the best means of increasing local civil defense operational readiness."

USSR SUPPORTS

Progressives on Dispute

THE CAUSE of the Progressive Party in its fight to compel U. S. radio stations to carry the acceptance speech of its Presidential candidate, Vincent Hallinan (see story, opposite page), was unofficially embraced by the Soviet Union a fortnight ago.

Monitored Soviet broadcasts in English to North America revealed that the USSR had taken up the cudgels for the party by making capital out of the Progressives' radio issue. Over 60 radio stations have agreed to air transcriptions on behalf of Mr. Hallinan.

The Soviet observed:

The Progressive Party continues to strive for opportunity to acquaint the American people with its program and candidates through . . . radio and television. So far broadcasting companies have refused to grant it time. A wave of protest against the violation by the radio and television companies of the federal law which provides that Presidential candidates should have equal publicity opportunities compelled the [FCC] to order (sic) the leading broadcasting stations to act in conformity with the law. These stations, however, continue to ignore the order. . . . Baldwin [C. B. Baldwin, secretary and manager of the party] said that in one city after another they found that either their scripts were not broadcast or the FCC's order had been simply ignored.

Phelan, Graham Named

THOMAS H. PHELAN, manager of radio technical operations for NBC and WNBC New York, and D. Gordon Graham, director of program production and public affairs for WCBS New York, have been elected chairman and vice chairman, respectively, of the Downstate Committee of the New York State Civil Defense Radio Committee.

LBS' McLendon

Asks FCC Aid on Restrictions

GORDON McLendon, president of Liberty Broadcasting System, which suspended operations several months ago, has called upon the FCC to aid revival of the network by requiring Western Union to relax restrictions on play-by-play accounts of baseball games and by preventing networks and stations from accepting any exclusive contracts for sports events.

Mr. McLendon made his requests in response to an invitation from the FCC to explain the reasons for Liberty's suspension.

Whether the Commission or its staff intends to pursue the matter could not be learned. Curtis B. Plummer, chief of the FCC's Broadcast Bureau, which normally would handle such matters, refused to say what, if any, action was contemplated.

On July 22 the FCC wrote a letter to Mr. McLendon saying, in part, "... Your cooperation would be appreciated in informing the Commission as to the reason for the suspension of Liberty's operation and as to any other factual data that you would care to furnish in connection with this matter."

On Aug. 9, Mr. McLendon replied.

He said Liberty was "forced out of business by a conspiracy to restrain broadcasting within organized baseball." Some elements of the alleged conspiracy, he said, "may fall without the Commission's jurisdiction." But, he added, "it would seem to me that two points . . . are squarely within the province of the FCC."

Elaborates on Points

First, he said, is "the tariff by which the FCC permits Western Union, a common carrier, to contract with organized baseball, restricting its transmission of play-by-play accounts to those radio networks and/or stations complying with baseball's illegal restrictions upon broadcasting of games This tariff by which Western Union is permitted to restrict its service puts Western Union in a conspiracy with organized baseball and is against all principles of unrestricted service traditionally applying to common carriers."

Second, he said, is "the exclusive contracts for the broadcast of sporting events and special events now made and being made by many networks and stations with the promoters and so-called 'owners of the news.'"

Such contracts, he said, "operate in opposition to the Commission's announced policy of permitting no exclusive contract relating to dissemination of the news."

Mr. McLendon admitted the FCC had no jurisdiction over sports promoters or networks, though it could "regulate" networks through its jurisdiction over the networks'

POLITICAL DRIVES

By JOHN OSBON

THE ACCENT was on the positive in rival political camps last week as the Democrats and Republicans cleared their organizational decks and concentrated on strategy of pre-election campaigning.

All sights were set on Labor Day 1952, generally accepted as the kickoff date for the political drives that will wend through radio-TV land toward the White House.

A series of top-level discussions marked a week of activity in both parties, with strategists bearing down hard on actual campaign planning and the role of radio and television.

Most of the preparation was sub rosa, however, with both camps keeping their plans under wraps and preferring not to tip their hands—especially on broadcast time commitments. The real spade work was continuing in agency circles—at the Joseph Katz Co. for the Democrats and Kudner for the GOP. There was some activity, too, at the Senatorial and Congressional levels.

Actual Figure Not Set

One fact became significantly clear last week. Neither party is speaking in terms of a specific radio-TV advertising budget. Both factions made plain they propose to scrape up every available penny to buy time and are prepared to pay heavily for use of broadcast media, especially TV. The high cost of campaigning in this TV year is a subject of concern among party officials. But an outlay of $3 million by each party has been estimated in informed quarters. [B•T, Aug. 11, 4].

Weekend conferences on campaign planning were held with Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic Presidential nominee, at his Springfield, Ill., headquarters. Specifics on radio-TV were to be aired, with Ken Fry, radio-TV director of the national committee, participating actively in discussions. Clayton Fritchey and David Bell, two Presidential assistants, flew back to Springfield with the Governor.

Stephen A. Mitchell took over as new national committee chairman, succeeding Frank E. McKinney (minority stockholder in WISH Indianapolis), who returns to private business. Mr. Mitchell, who conferred with President Truman last week, said details of radio-TV timebuying were being worked out in Springfield. The Campaign Advisory Committee was to convene this past weekend with Mr. Mitchell slated to attend.

His response was in answer to a newsman's query whether the national committee had bought time for speeches by the President in Milwaukee and Gov. Stevenson in Detroit on Labor Day. Details of Mr. Truman's role in the campaign had not crystalized last week, though he did say he was at the disposal of the committee for speeches. Mr. Mitchell resigned as chief counsel of a House Judiciary subcommittee probing the Justice Dept. to accept the chairman's post.

The appointment of Mr. Mitchell, still subject to confirmation by the national committee's executive unit, portended some changes in party campaign organization and planning, according to some observers. It was believed to reflect further the avowed intention of Gov. Stevenson to set his own campaign course, including frequent TV appearances.

Stevenson Drops TV Interest

Meanwhile, an amendment last week to Sangamon Valley Television Corp.'s application for TV Channel 2 at Springfield, Ill., disclosed that although Gov. Stevenson has personally given up his 2.5% interest in the firm [B•T, Aug. 4], his sister's family retains its 7.5% holding. His sister, Elizabeth S. Ives, at whose home he resides, holds 2.5% interest in Sangamon Valley Television, while his brother-in-law, Ernest L. Ives, is secretary and 2.5% owner. The Ives' son, Timothy Read, holds 2.5%.

Mr. Stevenson's 2.5% holding was taken over by WTAX Springfield, increasing the station's interest to 35% in the TV applicant.

Possibility of so-called "whistle-stop" tours by Mr. Truman were not discussed in the White House conference, nor was the nature of Vice Presidential candidate (Sen.) John Sparkman's (Ala.) participation broached.

A similar situation prevailed at Republican campaign headquarters in Washington, D. C., with respect to GOP candidate Eisenhower and Vice Presidential nominee (Sen.) Richard Nixon (Calif.).

The GOP has been moving slowly, hampered partly by organizational hurdles and getting the wheels in motion. Campaign planning aspects are being cleared through Robert Humphreys, new Republican National Committee publicity chief.

Edward T. Ingle, GOP radio-TV director, who handled preliminary arrangements involving radio-TV commitments and agency liaison, is still overseeing mechanics, coordinating his work with Mr. Humphreys. Mr. Ingle also is executive director of the GOP National Speakers Bureau, headed by Sen. Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) and Rep. Charles Halleck (R-Ind.). He is handling requirements for any Eisenhower-Nixon addresses and working on details for the campaign trains.

Stanley Pratt, personal representative of National Chairman Arthur Summerfield to Gen. Eisenhower, last week was active in Washington and at the General's Denver headquarters. Mr. Pratt, president and general manager of WSOO Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., is devoting full time to his political activity. He told BROADCASTING •

Parties Weigh Strategy

PROGRESSIVE PARTY

NBC to Air Speeches Sept. 6

PROGRESSIVE Party headquarters announced last week NBC has agreed to carry acceptance speeches from Chicago by Vincent Hallinan and Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, the party's candidates for President and Vice President, respectively, on Sept. 6. Their speeches will be heard on a simultaneous NBC radio and TV hookup.

NBC did not carry acceptance speeches at the time of the party's national convention in Chicago, July 4-6, when speakers were Mrs. Bass and Mrs. Vincent Hallinan, who was substituting for her husband. At the time Mr. Hallinan was serving a term in McNeill Island federal penitentiary for contempt of court, but he was scheduled to be released from prison yesterday (Sunday).

NBC agreed to grant nationwide network time after the Progressive Party had protested to the FCC [B•T, Aug. 11].

A spokesman at the party's New York headquarters told BROADCASTING • TELECASTING that ABC, CBS and Mutual have agreed to pipe in over a closed circuit the original speeches made by Mrs. Hallinan and Mrs. Bass to those radio stations that did not carry them last month.

The spokesman added that ABC-TV was scheduled to carry a telecast of the original talks Friday (Aug. 15) over KECA-TV Los Angeles, from which kinescopes would be made for other ABC-TV stations. He said CBS-TV is considering coverage of the Sept. 6 speeches as is DuMont, but no definite arrangements have been made.

CAMPAIGN CATECHISM

NARTB Issues

WANT to keep out of political beartraps?

Tips to radio and TV stations in handling candidates for office, as well as their enthusiastic supporters, are given in "A Political Broadcast Catechism," new booklet just compiled and released to members by the NARTB Legal Dept.

Designed as a guide to radio and TV station managers during campaigns, the catechism's question-answer contents cover frequently recurring problems and what to do about them.

An astute and sometimes cautious advisor, NARTB describes some of its solutions as speculative and leaves decisions up to the judgment and discretion of broadcasters themselves.

Some problems are tackled head-on, such as the Communist Party situation:

Q—"Do I have to make time available to the Communist Party if they demand it?"

The answer is "yes" provided the Communist Party is a legal party in the broadcaster's state and provided time has been allotted to candidates of other parties for the same office. Thereupon, this

McCarran Act proviso covering required announcement preceding a Communist speaker is cited, "The following program is sponsored by ———, a Communist organization."

Sample treatment of this problem by a broadcaster is cited. In this case the following announcement was made before and after the talk: "The following (or preceding) announcement has been sponsored by the Communist Party of the United States and is carried by this station as required by the Federal Communications Act and by the FCC." The broadcaster added, "All funds received in payment for this program have been donated to (a local charity or patriotic group)."

As to the rights of minority candidates who have no hope or possibility of being elected, the booklet says: "... The law requires the candidates of many splinter and lunatic fringe parties who put forth legally qualified candidates for the Presidency to be given 'equal opportunities' with the candidates of major political parties."

NARTB's catechism explains that the Communications Act and FCC rules require equal opportunities for legally qualified candidates, without censorship of their material, at uniform rates comparable to those charged commercial users.

Broadcasters and telecasters may legally refuse time to all candidates, the booklet reminds. Reference is made to Section 315 of the Act, the only statutory provision covering political broadcasts, and to FCC rules covering the section.

No clear-cut answer can be given to the problem of requiring advance scripts, according to the manual, with legal ban against centee believes that the plan, if adopted, will stabilize radio costs," Mr. Fetzer said. "The overall effect of the changes will be to strengthen the CBS Radio network as the lowest cost and most efficient of all advertising media with full recognition of the tremendous audiences delivered both day and night."

Mr. Fetzer, who issued the statement at a joint news conference with CBS President Stanton on Tuesday afternoon, said he thought "a few" affiliates might not go along with the plan, though he was confident that a great majority would. He said a "unanimous" motion of approval was carried after the group had voted approval by a majority, which was said to be "overwhelming."

Mr. Stanton expressed confidence that the realigned discount structure would attract new business as well as renewals to the extent that sales would justify it.

He said Thursday that only two stations had refused to sign—Goodwill Stations' WGAR Cleveland and WJR Detroit. Negotiations with those two, it was understood, are complicated by a package arrangement which the stations have had in previous affiliation contracts but which the network thus far has refused to extend above the standard compensation rate.

Commenting on the Chicago developments, Paul W. Morency of WTIC Hartford, chairman of the all-industry Affiliates Committee, voiced hope that the move will at last bring stability to the radio sales field. To the extent that it does stabilize the industry, he said he felt it is "okay."

He commended the move to de-emphasize ratings as a sales tool, and called upon broadcasters generally to stop talking radio down, to stay on the card, and to promote the medium's power as a salesman.

One of the major arguments of those who supported the plan was that it guarantees that the network's card rates will not be cut for at least a year. Thus, they felt, the move's effects on local and national spot rates should be minimized. Additionally, it was pointed out that last year's network rate cut was not carried over into local and spot rates, and observers were hopeful that this much more substantial reduction, via increased discounts, also will have little material effect on other radio rates.

Members of the CBS Affiliates Committee also drew some comfort from the fact that the network requested that the committee, or a similar group, be continued in office in order to advise with the CBS officials on matters of common interest.

This inspired an affiliate of another network, referring to NBC's past attempts to reduce rates, to say he hoped all networks would take a lesson on the importance and value of not acting unilaterally.

Only Temporary Expedient

Two of the stalwarts against the plan in the opening session Tuesday morning were Victor A. Sholis of WHAS Louisville, who had delivered the keynote address at the July session, and John Patt of the Goodwill Stations. Both are members of the Affiliates Committee, headed by Mr. Storer. Their contention, it was reported afterward, was that the plan was a temporary expedient that would not solve radio's basic problems.

The official announcement said the Affiliates Committee had previously recommended adoption of the plan by a 6-0 vote, with three members abstaining. These three were understood to have been Messrs. Sholis and Patt, and I. R. Lounsberry of WGR Buffalo, who also is chairman of the Columbia Affiliates Advisory Board. When that vote was taken the committee's tenth member, Hulbert Taft Jr. of WKRC Cincinnati, was absent.

The one-day session was not so protracted as some members had expected. It opened shortly after 10 a.m., broke for luncheon about 1:30 p.m. and resumed around 3 p.m., continuing for approximately one hour. CBS President Stanton and three of his associates—CBS Radio President Adrian Murphy, Station Relations Vice President Herbert V. Akerberg, and CBS Vice President Richard S. Salant—entered the closed session shortly before noon.

Mr. Stanton denied afterward that CBS Radio officials in their own deliberations had ever talked of a rate cut as high as 50%.

Participants in the session said there was no threat, among the affiliates, to resign from the network in protest against the cost reduction.

CBS officials, in their efforts to convince the stations that changes were necessary, were quoted as indicating that network operation under existing economic conditions not only has not been profitable but that, unless changes were made, CBS Radio might go into a syndicated program business of some sort, with the affiliates doing all the selling.

Text of the "alternative rate plans" upon which the affiliates voted was as follows, with the second representing the one which will be effectuated when 85% or more of the stations have signed for an appropriate amendment of their affiliation contracts:

"Alternative Rate Plans"

"I. CBS Proposal—35% cut in nighttime rates.

"II. CBS Radio Affiliates Committee's plan:

"1. No cut in card rates for at least one year.

"2. Additional discounts by network resulting in average cost reduction to advertisers of 25% for nighttime programs.

"Maximum discount to be earned only upon 52 weeks basis.

"3. Restoration of 10% cut by 11.1% increase in daytime rates, with affiliate receiving a 5.5% increase in compensation for daytime programs.

"4. 15% cut in station payments to all CBS affiliates.

"5. De-emphasis of ratings as a principal selling tool of network radio and active participation in, and under-writing of, a study of the present-day status of radio listening and radio sales effectiveness.

"6. NO MORE RATE CUT DEALS."

The rates and compensation portions of this plan were spelled out by CBS Radio in an amendment which its affiliates were called upon to sign. Text of the amendment in the form of a letter to stations, is as follows:

Dear Sirs:

We refer to the affiliation agreement with CBS Radio dated . . . relating to station . . . Such agreement, including all prior amendments thereto, is hereinafter referred to as the subject agreement. It is hereby agreed that the subject agreement between us shall be amended effective August 25, 1952 as follows:

1. The gross hourly card rates at which CBS Radio currently sells broadcasting time over the station for network sponsored programs as specified in the subject agreement (and after giving effect to the July 1, 1951 rate reduction), shall not be reduced by CBS Radio for a period of 12 months from and after August 25, 1952.

2. The gross hourly network card rate of the station for daytime broadcasts, Monday through Friday, shall be increased effective February 25, 1953, by an amount equal to 11.1 per cent of the gross hourly rate now charged for such time (i.e., thereby restoring for those periods the 10 percent daytime rate reduction previously effected July 1, 1951), provided, however, that for the purpose of computing station payments under the subject agreement, the increase in such gross hourly network card rate shall be disregarded and the rate payable by CBS Radio for each 'converted hour' in any week under the subject agreement (on the basis of the station's current gross hourly network card rates) shall be increased, by an amount equal to 5.5 per cent thereof, with respect to each 'converted hour' of Monday through Friday daytime programs broadcast on or after February 25, 1953.

3. Effective August 25, 1952 the payments to be made by CBS Radio to the station as specified in the subject agreement shall be decreased by an amount equal to 15 per cent of the amount otherwise computed in accordance with the provisions of said agreement, and of paragraph number 2 of this amendment with respect to programs broadcast on and after February 25, 1953.

The foregoing amendment to the subject agreement shall terminate either (1) August 24, 1953, or (2) if the subject agreement terminates prior thereto, and no new affiliation agreement is entered into with CBS Radio relating to the station, then on the termination date of the subject agreement, whichever is earlier, and shall be of no force or effect with respect to programs broadcast by CBS Radio thereafter.

Very truly yours,

Discussions which culminated in the new plan were inaugurated at the affiliates' first convention in July, after reports of imminent rate cuts by CBS Radio had become rampant.

Storer Incapacitation

Ironically, Mr. Storer, who had taken the lead in calling both that session and last week's, was not able to take part in either of the conventions, although he figured prominently in between-sessions negotiations and planning.

He became suddenly deaf following his arrival in Chicago Monday night, and on doctors' orders was forced to forego participation in the meetings. The deafness, expected to be temporary, was attributed in part to Mr. Storer's heavy schedule of business activities, and partly to his flight to Chicago at a relatively high altitude.

Mr. Storer had had to miss the original convention because of the death of a sister.

The plan was evolved by Mr. Storer's committee following lengthy negotiations with network officials. The committee, which is being continued in office at the network's request, consists of Chairman Storer and Messrs. Fetzer, Patt, Sholis, Taft, and Lounsbury; Kenyon Brown, KWFT Wichita Falls, Tex.; Saul Haas, KIRO Seattle; Ray Herndon, KTRH Houston; and William Quarton, WMT Cedar Rapids. John Poole, counsel for Storer Broadcasting, attended both conventions as counsel for the affiliates committee.

On hand for CBS at the Chicago meeting were Messrs. Stanton,

VALUE OF RATINGS

Depreciated in Sales Pitch

CBS Radio's "de-emphasis" of program ratings as a sales tool appeared to be in swing last week.

Whether there was a connection or not, on Wednesday, the day after the "de-emphasis" was approved by affiliates as part of the network's new rates-and-discounts plan (see adjacent story), sales extension director Edward F. Lethen Jr. sent letters to advertisers and agencies pointing out that low ratings "do not necessarily mean low sales impact." He continued:

"A large advertiser who spends about $1,400,000 a year in magazines and a little less in radio offers booklets to those interested. Radio is producing over three times as many inquiries as magazines. Part of the radio money goes for spots and part for the network, with similar commercials in each.

"The Network Nielsen Ratings has never been as high as the average of CBS Radio network sponsored programs, and is frequently among the lowest.

"This advertiser has been successful because he has ignored ratings and paid close attention to results. We might all be more successful if we followed his example, regardless of the mediums we use. Whether you want high ratings or high sales, or both, the CBS Radio network will best serve your purpose."

WTOP INC. PLANS

$2 Million Radio-TV Structure

PLANS for construction of a $2 million building to accommodate its combined radio-TV facilities under one roof were announced last Thursday by WTOP Inc. (WTOP-AM-FM-TV Washington, D. C.)

The new five-story structure, for which WTOP executives hope to break ground momentarily, is slated for completion in the summer of 1953. It will house all facilities and personnel of WTOP radio and television operations, save a 50 kw AM radio transmitter at Wheaton, Md.

The building will be erected at 40th & Brandywine Sts., NW, in Washington, site of present TV studios and WTOP-TV transmitter. The announcement points up a remedy for a situation dating back to the time when WTOP Inc. facilities were spread out in four different locations. Radio studios and executive offices of WTOP Inc. and CBS radio-TV newsrooms are now located in the Warner Bldg., 13th & E Sts., NW, in downtown Washington.

This move by WTOP Inc., owned 55% by the Washington Post and 45% by CBS, is part of the network's broad expansion program involving new building construction in New York, Los Angeles and Chicago.

In announcing plans for the new structure, John S. Hayes, WTOP Inc. president, noted that the Nation's Capital and its surrounding area are perhaps the most important in the world for radio and television broadcasters. He promised that the new air-conditioned building would be the "most modern center of broadcast communications in the world." The CBS Washington radio-TV outlets plan to use the studios for originating a number of key programs (panel and forum discussions, etc.) to CBS Radio and Television.

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE

Set for NARTB Dist. 6

MEMBERSHIP committee representing NARTB District 6 (Ark., La., Miss., Tenn.) was announced last week by William T. Stubblefield, NARTB station relations director. Chairman is Ray Herndon, KTRH Houston.

Members of the committee, named by Henry B. Clay, KWKH Shreveport, La., district director, are:

Arkansas—Storm Whaley, KUOA Siloam Springs; Jay P. Beard, KBMT Jonesboro; Emil Pouzar, KXLR Little Rock; Weldon Stamps, KFSA Fort Smith.

Louisiana—Tom Gibbons, WAFB Baton Rouge; James E. Gordon, WNOE New Orleans; George Thomas, KVOL Lafayette.

Mississippi—Hugh O. Jones, WGCM Gulfport; Joseph Carson, WMOX Meridian; Paul Schilling, WNAT Natchez; Robert Evans, WELO Tupelo.

Tennessee—Parry Sheftall, WJZM Clarksville; Frank Proctor, WTJS Jackson; John Hart, WBIR Knoxville; J. B. Thomas, WHIN Gallatin.

BLUEPRINT of proposed new $2 million building to house combined facilities of WTOP-AM-FM-TV Washington is shown in this architects' sketch. Plans call for five-story 60-ft. structure with 100,000 square ft. of floor space. Project will provide for FM and TV transmitters, three TV and five radio studios, audience seating capacity, film processing and editing facilities, dressing rooms and a garage for radio-TV mobile units as well as offices for WTOP Inc. personnel and news staffs of CBS Radio and Television networks. Added features will be a snack bar, employees' lounge and locker rooms. Two of the TV studios will be erected to hold audiences of over 200 people, with accommodations for 80 more guests in observation galleries. Clyde M. Hunt, vice president in charge of engineering for WTOP Inc., is supervising project. Architects are Faulkner, Kingsbury and Stenhouse, Washington.

WHETHER the Paramount hearing—involving the merger of ABC with United Paramount Theatres Inc.—continues for another "several months" or is concluded immediately was put directly up to FCC Hearing Examiner Leo Resnick last week.

Mr. Resnick immediately scheduled a further meeting of attorneys in the combination case for Aug. 20.

It is believed it will be up to FCC Hearing Division Chief Frederick W. Ford to convince Mr. Resnick additional testimony is essential to the record and that it will not unduly delay completion of the seven-month-old hearing.

In a "Memorandum Opinion and Order" issued last week, the Commission told Mr. Resnick that although it wanted the hearing expedited, he would have to decide whether to keep proceedings going to permit testimony regarding anti-trust activities since August, 1948.

The Commission also told the hearing examiner that its Aug. 1 ruling applied to the Scophony case.

Both decisions were in answer to Mr. Resnick's request for clarification of the Commission's Aug. 1 order that evidence about anti-trust violations prior to August 1948 should be deleted from the record [B•T, Aug. 11, 4]. The FCC's Aug. 1 order was in response to formal petitions by ABC, UPT, Paramount Pictures and CBS.

There had been some thought that the Commission's action in establishing a three-year cutoff for anti-trust evidence did not apply to the Scophony testimony. This was because the Commission exempted from the cutoff date any anti-trust activities involving "radio communications."

Scophony testimony dealt with activities of Paramount Pictures in the development of the Skiatron system of TV reception and associated apparatus.

The tri-partite ownership of Scophony Corp. in the early 1940s comprised Paramount Pictures and General Equipment Corp., each owning 25%, and parent British Scophony the remaining 50%.

The combination was broken up by a consent decree in 1946 after an anti-trust suit was filed by the Department of Justice.

Introduce Later Testimony

Since the bulk of the FCC counsel's case has been on the anti-trust activities of Paramount Pictures prior to the August 1948 cutoff date, Mr. Ford had asked that he be permitted to introduce testimony concerning anti-trust violations occurring since then.

He estimated he would need a month for investigation and "several months" to put his case into the record, if his request were granted.

Among the more recent anti-trust cases which FCC counsel has in mind are the 16mm film complaint [B•T, July 28, et seq.], the Madison Square Garden suit [B•T,

ACLU APPROVES

ABC-UPT Merger

MERGER of ABC and United Paramount Theatres Inc. was approved last week—by the American Civil Liberties Union.

In a letter to FCC Chairman Paul A. Walker, ACLU Executive Director Patrick Murphy Malin said that "no valid objection on civil liberties grounds can be raised to the contemplated merger."

The civil liberties organization, which has had an observer sitting in on the 90 days of hearings, said that arguments against the merger were outweighed by the probable strengthening of ABC which would insure "greater diversification of communication and increasing competition between the American Broadcasting Co. and its two principal competitors," CBS and NBC.

Theoretically there might be a conflict of interest between theatre exhibition and TV, Mr. Malin said. But practically, he added, it was difficult to think of any specific situation.

Decision to "approve" the ABC-UPT merger was made by ACLU's radio committee and board of directors, Mr. Malin informed Chairman Walker.

March 24] and the National Screen Service Corp. complaint [B•T, May 12].

Some 234 anti-trust suits were filed against Paramount Pictures between September 1948 and the end of 1951.

At a one-day hearing last week, Mr. Resnick told attorneys he would expect proposed findings within 30 days after the close of the hearing. He also stated he would order proposed findings on the DuMont-Paramount Pictures control issue within 20 days after the end of the hearing.

There will be no extensions, Mr. Resnick emphasized.

One of the issues in the combination Paramount case is whether Paramount Pictures controls Allen B. DuMont Labs. through 29% stock ownership of the latter company.

Other issues in the case involve the sale of WBKB (TV) Chicago to CBS following the merger approval, renewal of the license of KTLA (TV) Los Angeles to Paramount Pictures and several subsidiary elements.

Meanwhile, DuMont petitioned the FCC last week to have the three-year cutoff provision applied to the control issue.

DuMont also asked that the Commission rule that (1) its Aug. 1 order does not apply to non-licensees UPT and the merged ABC-UPT company (American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres Inc.), and (2) the credibility of witnesses

IDAHO RADIO HOMES

96.5% Density

ASA UNIT REVIEWS Recommendations to CCIR

RADIO SET ownership in 96.5% of Idaho homes is shown in the decennial U. S. Census, according to figures compiled from the housing census and just made available by the Census Bureau. Census data were collected in April 1950.

Among cities, the highest rate of set ownership was found in Moscow, amounting to 98.9% of all homes in the city. Two other cities had rates of 98% or better—Pocatello with 98.2% and Twin Falls with 98.1%.

Practically every home in Franklin County was radio-equipped, the Census Bureau finding an ownership rate of 99.6%—2,435 of 2,445 homes. Not far behind was Madison County with a rate of 98.5%, followed closely by Oneida County with 98.8%.

With no TV stations in Idaho, the state showed a TV homes percentage of 0.5%. This figure was compiled at a time when there were fewer than five million sets in the nation compared to the present 18-million set circulation.

Statistics in adjacent table are extracted from a final report of the 1950 Census of Housing, Series H-A, No. 12, for Idaho, which will be available in about six weeks from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C., at 35¢ per copy.

Statistics on distribution of the population in Idaho are presented in a final report of the 1950 Census of Population, Series P-A, No. 12, now available from the Superintendent of Documents at 20¢ a copy. Descriptions and maps of "urbanized areas" are presented in this report.

Statistics on characteristics of the population in Idaho are presented in a final report of the 1950 Census of Population, Series P-B, No. 12, available from the Superintendent of Documents, at 40¢ a copy. Descriptions of Standard Metropolitan Areas, if any, are presented in this report.

A Standard Metropolitan Area is generally described as a county or group of contiguous counties with at least one city of 50,000 or more. In New England, it is defined on a town or city rather than county basis.

An urbanized area contains at least one city of 50,000 or more and includes surrounding closely settled incorporated and unincorporated areas.

NEW STANDARDS covering sound reproduction on disc and tape, with worldwide adoption envisioned, were reviewed Wednesday and Thursday at meetings of two industry-government committees at NARTB headquarters, Washington.

Group Z-57 of the American Standards Assn., of which Neal McNaughten, NARTB engineering director, is chairman, met Wednesday to examine sound recommendations to be taken up late this month at Geneva by Study Group 10 of International Radio Consultative Committee (CCIR). Represented on the group are NARTB, Institute of Radio Engineers, Radio-Television Mfrs. Assn., Navy and Audio Engineering Society.

U. S. Preparatory Group 10 on broadcasting, a CCIR unit, met Thursday. Mr. McNaughten is chairman of this group as well as the international CCIR group. Reports and comments submitted by the ASA group were adopted. No proposed standards came out of the ASA meeting.

The CCIR group finalized reports on high-frequency broadcast directive antenna systems and use of more than one frequency per program in high-frequency broadcasting. Single-side band sound broadcasting problems were studied along with reception of high-frequency broadcasts with synchronized transmitters.

The two meetings provide the basis of the U. S. position when the CCIR Study Group 10 meets in Geneva Aug. 25. Mr. McNaughten will leave shortly for Geneva.

Gentlemen:

It has just come to my attention that your radio station went to a great deal of trouble and expense to bring to the citizens of Wichita and the surrounding communities the live telecasts of both national political conventions by means of micro-wave relays.

I am aware of the fact that except for your service in this connection, many thousands of our citizens would have been deprived of this opportunity. It is most regrettable that there is no television station in operation in the entire State of Kansas; and in my opinion, this adds to the importance of such public service.

CONSUMERS continued to buy automobiles and other durable goods "at very high rates" in 1951 and are purchasing new model TV sets this year to replace postwar acquisitions, according to the Federal Reserve System's board of governors.

In a "1952 Survey of Consumer Finances," released Friday, the board studied purchases of durable goods and houses in 1951 and "planned purchases" for the current year.

Ownership of television receivers "is still far from general, despite substantial purchases," the survey noted. Purchases of radio-TV sets in 1951 remained about equal to those the previous year, it reported.

Turning to prospective purchases, the survey predicted 1952 would find 33 of every 100 spending units buying new TV sets in the $5,000-a-year-and-over salary bracket. Other data showed TV set purchase prospects of 23 per 100 buyers in the $4,000-4,999 bracket; 20 in the $3,000-3,999; 13 in the $2,000-2,999; 6 in the $1,000-1,999, and 5 in the below-$1,000-a-year group.

For 1951 the survey found 43 of every 100 buyers in the $5,000-and-over group bought TV sets. Only notable departure was in the $4,000-4,999 and 3,000-3,999 brackets. Ratio was 17 per 100 to 21 per 100, respectively, buying TV sets in these income groups. The same apparent paradox was noted for 1950 and 1949.

Planned purchases for 1952 were estimated for radio receivers at 600,000 (or 1.2% of all buying units), with median expenditure of $40. Planned TV set purchases were placed at 2.9 million (or 5.6% of spending units), with a median outlay of $300.

Median outlay for actual purchases of telesets ranged from $300 in 1951 and 1950 to $330 in 1949. Actual TV buyers approximated

6.3 million in 1951, 6.1 million in 1950 and 2.9 million in 1949, the board reported, accounting for 12%, 11.8% and 5.6% of buying units, respectively.

Actual median outlays for radios were $50 in 1951, $45 in 1950 and $55 in 1949, compared to planned purchases medians of $40 for 1952.

"Ownership of television sets increased rapidly after volume production was first attained in 1949 and by early 1952 about one-third of the spending units had acquired sets," the board explained. The report continued:

Since most television stations are located in large cities, ownership of receiving sets is more frequent in urban areas. About half of all spending units in metropolitan areas owned television sets early in 1952 as compared with about one-fourth of those in smaller cities and less than one-tenth of those in the open country.

The level of consumer income also affects television set ownership. At the beginning of this year [the board gave no actual figures for 1952, of course] about 1 in 10 spending units with incomes of less than $2,000 owned sets. This proportion ranged upward to nearly 6 in 10 with incomes of $7,500 or more.

When classified by family status, the highest frequency of television set ownership (4 in 10) was among spending units consisting of married persons with children. Television appears to have a special appeal to spending units headed by skilled and semi-skilled workers.

Early this year, the board estimated, 30 of every 100 spending units owned telesets. The percentages scale upward for each salary bracket, with 59 of every 100 in the $7,500 and over group owning sets.

The survey also tabulated place of residence, with 51 of every 100 spending units owning sets in metropolitan areas; 26 per 100 in cities of 50,000 or more population; 23 per 100 in cities between 2,500 and 50,000; 21 per 100 in towns under 2,500 and 8 in the "open country."

The survey also estimated the percentage of purchasers of radio-TV receivers who bought on installment credit each of the last five years. Percentages included 45% doing so on radio sets and 48% on telesets in 1951, 32 on radio and 44 on TV in 1950, 42 and 47 in 1949, 42 on radio (none available for TV) in 1948 and 34 (none available for TV) in 1947.

TALKATHON DEBUTS IN WISCONSIN

Schmitt Seeks McCarthy Seat in Senate

THE POLITICAN'S Talkathon made its debut in Wisconsin's state capital, Madison, last week, and will take over the airwaves in Appleton and Green Bay today (Monday). The star politico in the Badger State Talkathon is Len Schmitt, an attorney from Merrill, Wis., who is opposing Sen. Joseph McCarthy for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator.

Mr. Schmitt talked himself and 4,000 questions out with residents throughout the southern part of the state in a 25-hour speaking stint on the four Madison stations, WIBQ WMFM WISC and WKOW, and WIBU Poynette, which has studios in Madison.

The Talkathon, a copyrighted system for politicians, is promoted by Houck & Co., Miami advertising agency [B•T, Aug. 11].

The attorney took the air Tuesday at 8 p.m., continuing to 9 p.m. Wednesday. Although the answered questions totaled 4,000, there was no score on the number of calls placed to a battery of seven telephone operators.

Dane County and southern Wisconsin audiences reached a low point, as expected, between midnight and 5 a.m., although there were enough calls coming in from listeners to keep the candidate busy. The venture was termed "highly successful" by Kenneth Schmitt, WIBA manager, who said interest built up so that in the closing hours the Talkathon "scored a smashing success." His station and the other four rotated time for the attorney, who will use the same techniques today at WHBY Appleton and WBAY WDUZ and WJPG Green Bay.

The candidate also is understood to have scheduled Talkathon dates on stations in Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Milwaukee before the Sept. 9 election.

The talk marathon has been conducted in Florida and, most recently, in Arkansas, where Judge Francis Cherry, a dark horse candidate, won the nomination for governor with an 80,000 plurality. Michael V. DiSalle, former price stabilization chief, plans to use the vote-getting system in Ohio, where he is seeking the senate seat held by John Bricker (R).

SUIT charging Fulton Lewis jr., MBS commentator, with libel was filed Thursday in U. S. District Court, District of Columbia, by Blood Bank Foundation, Nashville. Plaintiff asks $500,000 damages, charging Mr. Lewis last Dec. 3 branded it as non-profit front for a profit corporation. The foundation describes itself as a charitable, non-profit organization operating a blood bank and carrying on research into uses of blood plasma.

LBS' McLendon Asks FCC Aid

owned and operated stations.

"... The Commission can act to correct this deplorable thwarting of the public interest in only one way; through its power to prevent any network and/or radio station from accepting an exclusive contract for any sporting event or special event," he wrote.

"A simple, expeditious plan for handling such situations could easily be evolved. This rule would operate to prohibit any radio network and/or station from operating against the public interest by presenting inferior coverage of any sporting event or special event, as is the case today.

"This ignorance of the public interest by networks and stations is no real fault of the stations which can never govern the situation for themselves because of the competitive necessity of getting an exclusive before the next station gets one. The situation can only be handled . . . by the FCC.

"A vast majority of networks and radio stations have for years been incensed by the arrogance of many sports promoters, price-fixing tactics, exorbitant and even prohibitive broadcast rights fees, making it difficult if not impossible, for the station to perform sports broadcasts in the public interest, discrimination against radio in favor of newspapers, territorial limitations, exclusives granted by tax-supported institutions, censorship of announcers and practically every other practice repugnant to the idea that radio should be as free as the press."

Mr. McLendon urged the FCC to "give most serious consideration to the two issues presented in this letter."

The president of the suspended

LBS also has been urging the U. S. Dept. of Justice to prosecute an anti-trust action against organized baseball. In his letter to the FCC, Mr. McLendon said Liberty itself had been obliged to file a civil anti-trust suit against baseball because "the Justice Dept. continues derelict in its duty despite entreaties from embattled broadcasters and continues its old policy of collaboration with baseball."

A few days before he dispatched his letter to the FCC, it was learned, Mr. McLendon renewed his efforts to get the Justice Dept. to intercede in the case.

In a letter dated Aug. 5 to Victor Kramer, chief of the litigation section of the Anti-Trust Div. of the Dept. of Justice, Mr. McLendon said Liberty could "provide you with fully documented proof of the conspiracy not to compete among the [baseball] club networks."

He said the arrangements within organized baseball constituted "the same situation as when the major producers - distributors - exhibitors [of movies] years ago divided up the country into zones, each taking a zone and agreeing not to try to compete by invading the other fellow's area."

"Such was held to be a violation of the anti-trust laws by the United States Supreme Court, and baseball's 'club network' conspiracy not to compete is on all fours with the theatre agreement, which the Supreme Court held illegal," Mr. McLendon said.

"... There is no club in the major leagues which will sell you the rights to broadcast against a local baseball club."

Mr. McLendon claimed that although baseball had claimed to have eliminated its Rule 1-D, governing relations between major and minor leagues, in the fall of 1951, the effects of the rule still continue to be recognized.

"After the fictitious abolition of Rule 1-D in the fall of 1951," he wrote, "Liberty wrote to all of its stations telling them that, due to the abolition of this rule, those stations no longer had to worry about local restrictions and that Liberty was contemplating carrying a night schedule and that if we did so, the stations would be able to broadcast regardless of their local club's restrictions.

Station Reaction Cited

"Stations were delighted. We can produce their answers.

"Then in New York Ford Frick [Commissioner of Baseball] told the general manager of the Liberty network, James Foster, that he was extremely angry at us for sending out the letters and getting the clubs in an uproar.

"Frick told Foster that the clubs may have abolished Rule 1-D but that Liberty certainly was not going to broadcast any night baseball, against or not against any local club, and that if we didn't send out an immediate retraction of the letter, satisfactory to him (Frick), he'd see that we broadcast no baseball games at all in 1952.

"We were forced to send out a correction and tell our stations that, although the rule had been abolished, we had no rights to broadcast night games in 1952 (we had never told them we did have rights but simply that we were contemplating such a schedule)."

Mr. McLendon also charged there had been attempts to "price us out of the business."

"In 1951," he wrote, "we paid a basic price of around $10,000 per club for 77 home games per club. In 1952, the Dodgers charged us $60,000 for 35 home games."

"In no case were we able to get games for any less than seven times as much per game as we had paid in 1951. In short, for the few poorer games we had in 1952, the clubs kicked the price up astronomically."

A spokesman at the Dept of Justice told BROADCASTING • TELECASTING last week that Mr. McLendon's letter was under consideration.

"This new 7-inch Professional reel gives big reel results!"

Norman P. Hull

Chief Engineer, WEBC,
Duluth, Minn.

It's the new large-hub 7-inch professional reel of "SCOTCH" Magnetic Tape!

- ✓ CUTS TIMING ERRORS! New larger hub reduces tension changes, cuts timing errors 50%.
- ✓ REDUCES PITCH CHANGES! Lower hub-to-outside-diameter ratio means a marked reduction in pitch changes between spliced portions of broadcasts.
- ✓ LESS VIBRATION, FASTER REWIND! Bigger hub produces 10% faster rewind speed, yet rotational speed is lower than that of the standard reel. Operation is so smooth that wear on equipment is cut, with resulting maintenance savings.

The term "SCOTCH" and the plaid design are registered trademarks for Sound Recording Tape made in U.S.A. by MINNESOTA MINING & MFG. CO., St. Paul 6, Minn.—also makers of "Scotch" Brand Pressure-sensitive Tapes, "Underseal" Rubberized Coating, "Scotchlite" Reflective Sheeting, "Safety-Walk" Non-slip Surfacing, "3M" Abrasives, "3M" Adhesives. General Export: 122 E. 42nd St., New York 17, N.Y. In Canada: London, Ont., Can.

New improved tape matches reel improvements!

Supplied on the new 7" professional reel is a new type of magnetic tape that offers many technical advantages:

- New "Dry Lubricating" process eliminates tape and head squeal, produces a tape that turns in a faultless performance in extreme heat and humidity.
- New thinner construction allows more than 1200 feet of tape to be wound on the new 7" reel despite larger hub. Magnetic properties of this new tape are identical in every respect to the older "Scotch" Brand #111-A tape, the industry's standard of quality.
- Tape supplied on the new reel is 100% splice-free.
- Output variation is guaranteed to be less than plus or minus ¼ db at 1,000 cps within the reel, and less than plus or minus ½ db from reel to reel.

SALES SEMINAR

WSAB Hears Mitchell

FACTS provide the best tool for radio salesmen and should be used to direct businessmen to the audience they are attempting to reach, a three-day Washington State Assn. of Broadcasters sales seminar in Seattle was told Aug. 4-6 by Maurice B. Mitchell, vice president and general manager of Associated Program Service.

Mr. Mitchell conducted the seminar, which was open to Washington, Oregon and British Columbia broadcasters. Active in arrangements were Chairman Bill Simpson, KRSC Seattle; WSAB President Leo Beckley, KBRC Mt. Vernon, and Joe Chytil, KELA Centralia, WSAB Sales Committee chairman.

Radio salesmen must grasp the tools at their disposal and apply them for the best use of the time-buyer, Mr. Mitchell told the 85 broadcasters attending the seminar. He reminded that salesmen are now dealing with a second or third generation of a business family once thoroughly sold on radio and they must be supplied with the latest information on the true value of radio advertising.

Mr. Mitchell's topics ranged from discussion of newspaper competitive tactics to successful merchandising tie-in techniques adapted to radio. He called for a united selling campaign on behalf of radio as opposed to cut-rate station tactics which cut the value of the advertising dollar.

The original BMB measurement approach will emerge as one of the most accurate audience analyses yet developed, he predicted, pointing to its success in Canada. He praised work of Advertising Research Bureau Inc., which measures point-of-sale value of radio vs. newspaper advertising. "There is still no substitute for the actual merchandise being sold by radio as the only real test which satisfies the retailer and station owner and manager—and ARBI studies show that radio more than carries its end of the bargain in this regard," he said.

Mr. Simpson presented an engraved pocket watch to Mr. Mitchell for his services.

Safety Council Awards

NATIONAL Safety Council's "Award of Merit" has been presented to Gabriel Heatter, Cedric Foster and Bill Henry, MBS newscasters, for their activities on behalf of the 1952 safety campaign. Citation was awarded to the three newsmen for their participation in NSC's The Fight for Life series, special transcribed programs carried by 1,135 radio stations across the U. S., according to Dan Thompson, NSC director of radio and television.

FM FORMULA

Designed To Promote Sales

FORMULA designed to promote sale of FM sets as an "extra" in a radio set-selling campaign is presented by NARTB and Radio-Television Mfrs. Assn. in a 48-page booklet titled "F-M-phasis."

Developed during the series of FM promotion test campaigns conducted in North Carolina, Wisconsin and District of Columbia under NARTB-RTMA auspices, the booklet gives detailed instructions. Included are available promotion devices, brochures, press releases, dealer broadsides, radio announcements and form letters.

The formula calls for four-week campaigns. Roles to be taken by broadcasters, manufacturers, distributors and dealers are outlined in detail. Coordinating for the two trade associations are John H. Smith Jr., NARTB FM Dept. director, and James D. Secrest, RTMA general manager. In addition, NARTB's FM Committee will participate under direction of Michael R. Hanna, WHCU Ithaca, N. Y., member of the association board of directors for FM and committee chairman. A special FM promotion group functions for RTMA.

AM SET SALES

Bright Future Seen by Brandt

DESPITE television, radio will continue as big business with retail set sales around $250 million annually, Arthur A. Brandt, general sales manager for General Electric Co.'s Receiver Dept., predicted last week.

Speaking from Syracuse after completing a regional tour, Mr. Brandt said the crux of the sales problem today hinges not upon the ability of the consumer to buy, but rather upon the ability of the salesman to sell a public well able to buy. He added that new features, like the clock-radio and a large replacement market plus the continued trend toward multiple ownership of radios, assures a substantial annual volume.

'COME ON DOWN'

Little Asks 'Saucermen'

TOP scientists and military authorities may not be at a loss for words to describe the current flying saucer phenomena, but few have agreed on the most plausible explanation.

In all the shouting from the labs to the Pentagon, nobody apparently thought to ask the "saucer-men" themselves—that is, until a broadcaster got the idea. It remained for Lee Little, enterprising manager of KTUC Tucson, to go into action. In an actual broadcast, Mr. Little extended this personal invitation to the "gentlemen" in the saucers:

This is Lee Little, Manager of Radio Station KTUC Tucson, Ariz.; United States of America; North American Continent; Planet Earth. I wish to inform you "gentlemen" in the saucers that we of Planet Earth are friendly and have no intention of harming you in any way. The open area to the south of our building and to the east of our transmitting tower, though usually used for parking our antiquated means of terrestrial propulsion, is adequate for your landing needs. We would like to meet you and find out all about you. We are not your enemies. Rather, we are merely curious about you and your extra-terrestrial objects that have been cluttering up our skies for some years. Come on down.

Here are the conditions at the Earth's surface at present. Our atmosphere is composed of 78.03% Nitrogen, 20.99% Oxygen, 0.93% Argon, and 0.01% Hydrogen with much smaller proportions of Neon, Helium, Ozone and Xenon. The weight of this layer of atmosphere at the surface in Tucson is 27.39 inches of mercury. There is no wind or shifting of this atmospheric layer at the moment. The surface temperature based on a scale where water solidifies at 32 degrees and where it vaporizes at 212 degrees . . . that temperature is now 85. If these conditions will support your ability to exist, come on down and visit us.

ALL-DAY annual outing of NBC Chicago employees took place Aug. 5 at Medinah Country Club. Affair was sponsored by the company's Athletic Assn., and included a golf tournament, dining, dancing and entertainment.

DEFENSE DRIVE

Wyoming Stations Aid

THOUGH Wyoming is not considered an obvious target for an atomic attack, broadcasters of the state are planning a heavy schedule of civil defense programs and announcements during the Aug. 18 week at the request of Gov. Frank A. Barrett.

William C. Grove, KFBC Cheyenne, said the object of the drive is to bring home to people of the state, slow to react to importance of civil defense, the fact that "it can happen here." Each station is broadcasting a minimum of six spots per day, using both civil defense transcripts and locally written spots. Messages are being carried during sports broadcasts, man-on-street interviews and similar features.

Stations taking part, Mr. Grove said, are KOWB Laramie; KRAL Rawlins; KVOC Casper; KWOR Worland; KFBC; KWYO Sheridan; KODI Cody; KGOS Torrington; KWVO Cheyenne; KPOW Powell; KSPR Casper; KWRL Riverton, and KVRs Rock Springs.

WJR Honored

SECOND public service award within a week was made to WJR-AM-FM Detroit Aug. 9 when the Michigan American Legion Auxiliary presented a citation to Worth Kramer, WJR vice president-general manager, in recognition of the station's quarter century of patriotic public service. Mr. Kramer accepted the award on behalf of the station before the assembly of Michigan delegates at the Legion State Convention in Grand Rapids. A week previously, Mr. Kramer was presented a "Certificate of Achievement" from the Dept. of the Army for WJR's outstanding cooperation with the Michigan Military District.

KBIG Avalon, Calif. and its operations was the subject of a 1,500-foot documentary film, produced last week by a 12-man camera crew from the United States Air Force. Dealing with the theme of two airmen on a week-end visit to a modern station, the film is intended primarily as a training mission.

Broadcasting, where he remained until 1939.

In that time, the company's column went from "about 15 shows a month to 499," operating one large studio 24 hours daily to accommodate transcription-hungry agencies. He was working as a junior salesman when he resigned to join International Radio Sales, the Hearst radio subsidiary which acted as sales representative for Hearst's dozen stations.

In 1942, two weeks before he was married, he learned from BROADCASTING Magazine that he was about to be de-jobbed. The major Hearst properties were to be sold, and IRS to be disbanded. Undeterred by the prospect of unemployment and a call to the Army, he was married on schedule to the former Ranelda Ruch. They live in suburban Evanston with their youngsters, Bobby Jr., 8, and Kathleen, 5.

Army Service

For eight months before going into the Army, Mr. Flanigan worked in spot sales for the Red Network (later NBC), billing $1 million among his accounts in that time. Radio's verdant pastures nevertheless were replaced by Texas' dreary plains as he attended Coast Artillery OCS, switched to the Quartermaster Corps and convoyed trucks into China. His 18 months in the C-B-I Theatre ended in 1946, with Mr. Flanigan a first lieutenant.

He returned to Chicago and NBC and, shortly after the split between radio and TV sales efforts, was named manager of Radio Spot Sales early in 1951. His staff now includes four salesmen, with whom he works on local and area business.

Mr. Flanigan is a member of the Chicago Radio Management Club, and has taught radio sales at several NBC-Northwestern U. summer radio-TV institutes.

UNIFORM TUBES

Aim of Sept. 3 Meet

AN International Electrotechnical Commission session starting at Scheveningen, the Netherlands, on Sept. 3 will act upon a plan to promote the standardization of electron and radio tube sizes by manufacturers throughout most countries of the world.

Declaring that the eight-day meeting will clear the way for standardizing the base dimensions of tubes, Virgil M. Graham, director of technical relations of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., who will represent the Joint Electron Tube Engineering Council (JETEC) at the session, said standardization—interchangeability—is "of utmost importance from the viewpoint of both military application and international commerce."

Mr. Graham left last Tuesday for the Netherlands meeting.

Gets Miss Sloat's Tips

SIX-POINT program by which broadcasters can help timebuyers, with renewals and new business as a reward, was offered West Virginia stations Saturday at the West Virginia Broadcasters Assn. semi-annual meeting, held at the Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs. The two-day session opened Friday.

Elaine Sloat, radio-TV timebuyer for Procter & Gamble at Benton & Bowles, New York, told the association that "in a sense all advertising is conceived on a local level so that the message will reach the maximum number of people by means of advertising which has the greatest appeal to them.

"Adding these locals together is what gives the client national coverage with a broad scope in mind to select the most effective combination of media in relation to national and local markets."

Miss Sloat listed her six points as follows: Maintain a clean operation; truthful and informative presentation and promotion pieces; good sales representation; cooperation in industry evaluation studies; cooperation in merchandising; active part in broadcasting industry associations.

"We are looking more critically at radio because of the appalling rise of TV in the advertising world," Miss Sloat said. "Radio has two extra plusses: Out-of-home listening, and in-home (other than the living room) listening. As long as radio continues to maintain its high standards we as advertisers will be interested."

Stephen Douglas, director of sales promotion, Kroger Co., Cincinnati, gave an illustrated talk on salesmanship at the luncheon session. A. Lovell Elliott, Charleston advertiser, spoke on the topic, "On the Other Side of the Dotted Line."

TV appeared on the agenda with a talk by James M. Caldwell, WAVE Louisville, on selling radio in a television market. Kevin B. Sweeney, vice president of Broadcast Advertising Bureau, explained work of the industry sales organization. CBS showed its film presentation, "More Than Meets the Eye."

Officers of the association are John T. Gelder, WCHS Charleston, president; William E. Rine, WVVA Wheeling, vice president; Alice Shein, WBTH Williamson, secretary-treasurer. Board members are Les Golliday, WEPM Martinsburg; Fred Zimmerman, WBLK Clarksburg; Charles High, WGKV Charleston; Virginia Cooper, WJLS Beckley; Flem Evans, WPLH Huntington; Pat Flanagan, WHIS Bluefield; Lawrence H. RADIO BEST FOR SAVINGS & LOAN FIRM

Hausmann Agency Finds in San Diego Survey

TO HOME Federal Savings & Loan Assn. of San Diego, radio is the "best business getter" and the medium that pays big dividends in new customers for advertising dollars spent.

In this way, Jack Hausmann, head of his own advertising agency in San Diego, described results of a survey the agency made for the savings association, when speaking to members of the San Diego Advertising & Sales Club.

Combined spending of only 38% of its advertising budget on radio, TV and newspapers brought in 52.8% of the firm's new business, Mr. Hausmann said. Survey showed that of 62% spent for all other media only 41.8% returns in new customers were realized.

Home Federal has sponsored a five-per week morning newscast on KSDO and only of late a similar afternoon program on KCBQ. An average of four spot announcements also is used weekly on KFMB-TV. Additionally, spots are used on other San Diego outlets during the firm's month-end consolidated period. Mr. Hausmann personally handles newscasts for his client.

When Home Federal asked for detailed analyses on how its advertising money was being spent and which medium was giving the best results, Mr. Hausmann employed a three-section card survey plan. Each section contained a set of questions which were mailed to the 538 newest clients. A brief letter from the firm's president, Charles K. Fletcher, asked the client's cooperation. A self-addressed stamped return envelope was enclosed.

Medium Credits

Cards were keyed to give the dollar bracket in which the interviewee could be placed. Question was "How did you hear about Home Federal?" and listed these media: Radio, street poster, television, bus cards, billboards, a friend, newspaper, direct mail and others.

Section two asked whether the client listened to radio or viewed TV, and the third section asked for a check on the reason the client finally selected Home Federal. Some 273 cards were returned. Home Federal handled all the mechanics of mailing and even analyzed the results.

Some of the results: In the $1-499 group, 77.8% listened to radio and 22.2% viewed television; $500-999 bracket, 63.1% radio and 36.9% TV; $1,000-5,000 group, 69.6% radio and 30.4% TV. In the highest bracket, over $5,000, 76.9% radio and 24.1% TV. Overall picture in the four groups gave radio, 71.8%, and TV, 28.2%.

As Mr. Hausmann explained, radio led in all four income brackets and was strongest in the lowest and highest, while TV made the best showing in the two middle income groups.

"The lesson we deducted," he said, "was that while TV is a rapidly growing medium and a very healthy one for its age, radio is still a mighty factor in the advertising program of our type of financial institution."

Although not revealing budget figures, he noted that "while radio brought more of our business and 71.8% of Home Federal's clients said they listened to radio and only 28% viewed television, my client spent substantially more on radio than on television."

Responses to the question, "How did you hear about Home Federal?" showed that substantially more people in each bracket listed radio as the media, he declared.

In the $1 to $499 and $500 to $999 groups, the survey placed newspaper advertising in second place. The $1,000 to $5,000 bracket had TV second and in the over $5,000 video and newspapers tied for second place.

Television was third in the $1 to $499 group, direct mail third in the $500 to $999 and newspapers third in the $1,000 to $5,000 category. Video and newspapers tied for second place in the over $5,000 bracket.

Giving a breakdown, Mr. Hausmann revealed the following total percentages by groups:

$1 to $499

Radio	36.5
Newspaper	12.6
TV	8.7
All Other	42.2

$500 to $999

Radio	28.2
Newspaper	15.2
Direct Mail	8.7
All Other	47.9

$1,000 to $5,000

Radio	41.5
TV	12.9
Newspaper	10.8
All Other	34.8

Over $5,000

Radio	33.3
TV	9.5
Newspaper	9.5
All Other	47.7

The overall percentages in all groups combined were listed as radio 36.3; newspaper 12.6; TV 9.3; and all other 41.8.

"Analyzing the survey report from the angle of income brackets, radio scored an across-the-board victory in the lower, middle and upper brackets," Mr. Hausmann said.

WEBSTER-CHICAGO sold and produced 44.1% of all tape recorders manufactured during the first four months of this year, according to Howard McClosky, vice president in charge of manufacturing. Claim is based on records of the Armour Research Foundation, Chicago.

NARND AWARDS

Entries Being Accepted

ENTRIES for the National Assn. of Radio News Directors 1952 radio and TV competition now are being accepted, NARND Awards Committee Chairman Baskett Mosse announced last week.

Mr. Mosse, who is chairman of the radio and TV division of the Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern U., Evanston, Ill., said deadline for this year's entries is Oct. 15. The NARND awards committee chairman said all radio and television stations in the U.S. and its territories are eligible.

Nominations may be made by stations, networks or any other party including advertising agencies and universities which have radio and television courses.

Classifications, all of which may be entered by any station, are (1) To the radio station providing the most complete and enterprising general news service of the year in its community, (2) to the television station providing the most complete aural-visual news service in its community and contributing most to the general progress of television news and (3) to the radio or television station which did the best and most complete job or displayed the most enterprise and/or courage in reporting one news story or feature during the year.

Mr. Mosse said his committee's policy is that the board of judges use as its yardstick the facilities available to each station, weighing each entry in accordance with the size of its staff and the available facilities in the newsroom.

Winners of the gold trophies, who also will receive distinguished achievement certificates, will be announced at the annual NARND convention banquet. Last year's winners were WHO Des Moines, WBAP-TV Fort Worth and WTIC Hartford, Conn.

Income Data

WAGES and salaries in private industry rose $500 million in June over the previous month, reaching an annual rate of $146 billion, according to the Office of Business Economics, U. S. Dept. of Commerce. OBE also reported that slightly higher employment and average weekly earnings in non-durable goods industries offset a wage loss in durable goods (radio-TV receivers, etc.) industries. Overall personal income during June was up $1½ billion over May, with an annual rate of $266 billion, as was employment in manufacturing.

WILLIAM R. TRAUM, director, radio-TV division, The Town Hall, and Seymour Siegel, director of New York's Municipal Bestg. System, spoke on "Radio in Stimulating Community Action" at the New School for Social Research July 29.

ALLOTMENTS

Materials Plan Set

AN AUTOMATIC allotment procedure designed to free many radio-TV set manufacturers and other companies from filing requirements and boost their quotas of materials will go into effect Jan. 1, 1953.

Set makers who received certain allocations for the current quarter will be eligible for the new system, announced last Monday by the National Production Authority. The procedure was devised partly because of slashes in NPA personnel dictated by appropriation cuts. It assures that set manufacturers will continue to receive enough materials to meet receiver demand.

Self-authorization technique, under which producers of receivers may certify their own orders for steel, copper and aluminum, will be continued, NPA said. This enables manufacturers to order up to 25 tons of steel, 10,000 pounds of copper and 20,000 pounds of aluminum.

Under the new allotment procedure, set makers may calculate their own requirements and obtain materials without NPA approval providing their third-quarter allotments do not exceed 500 tons of carbon steel, 40,000 pounds of copper and 60,000 pounds of aluminum. System goes into effect with first-quarter 1953 quotas, relieving these producers of the need for filing with the agency.

In effect, "the automatic method picks up where the self-certifying technique leaves off," according to NPA Administrator Henry H. Fowler. It will apply to those firms who use more materials than permitted under self-authorization but who were allotted in this quarter less than the above-mentioned quotas.

Spelled out in the method goes a bonus for those companies eligible for the automatic procedure—a bonus not accorded those who still must file CMP-4B applications. They will receive 100% of the first 60 tons of carbon steel, plus 60% of the excess between 60 and 500 tons—or the ceiling on third-quarter usage.

A new priority system also has been set for radio-TV broadcasters intent on constructing new buildings or making major project alterations. The system applies criteria for potential new construction, restricting broadcasters on requests for steel until the first of the year [B•T, Aug. 11].

Pulse Adds 5 Markets

THE PULSE INC., New York, last Monday announced the addition of five new markets to its Pulse Reports, according to Dr. Sydney Roslow, director. New areas to be measured include Pittsburgh, Columbus and Portland, Ore., for radio, plus Dallas and Fort Worth for both radio and television.

The firm now is supplying TV ratings in Pittsburgh and Columbus.

BUS DISASTER

WACO, WAVZ Claim Scoops

SCOOP is being claimed by WACO Waco, Tex., in its coverage of the worst bus tragedy in National Safety Council records. Two buses carrying 57 persons collided near Waco on Aug. 4. Over a score of persons were killed. First to break the story was Goodson McKee of WACO when the station went on the air at 5:30 a.m.

Lee Glasgow, manager of the station, and Jesse Dove, chief engineer, went immediately to the emergency room of Providence Hospital where on-the-spot tape interviews with survivors were obtained.

WACO fed telephone interviews to KTSA and KITE, both San Antonio, KNUZ and KTRH Houston and WFAA Dallas. An interview also was fed to ABC's Headline Edition program by WACO.

WAVZ New Haven, Conn., independent station, claimed a scoop over network rivals in coverage of the Texas disaster.

Station newsmen George Phillips and George LeZotte placed a telephone call to the Waco Times-Herald and taped a telephoned interview with the newspaper's executive editor, Sam Wood, one of the first to reach the scene. Cuts of the tape recording were used on five newscasts.

NBC CHICAGO

Announces Five Renewals

NBC Chicago last week chalked up five radio network renewals totalling $2,345,000 in billing, according to Gordon Mills, network radio sales manager there.

Armour & Co., Chicago, through Foote, Cone & Belding, same city, re-ordered Dial Dave Garroway for 52 weeks from Sept. 1. The quarter-hour daytime strip is aired on the full AM network for Dial soap. Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., Milwaukee, renewed for the eighth consecutive year The National Farm and Home Hour on Saturdays from Sept. 5 through Bert S. Gittins agency, also Milwaukee.

Henri, Hurst & McDonald, Chicago, for Skelly Oil Co., Kansas City, ordered renewal of a five-a-week quarter-hour newscast with Alex Drier and the 15-minute Saturday feature, This Farming Business, both on a 30-station network for 52 weeks from Sept. 1.

Wesson Oil and Snowdrift Sales Co., New Orleans, through Fitzgerald Adv. agency, same city, renews the quarter-hour daytime strip, Dr. Paul, on 62 stations for 52 weeks from Sept. 1. Fifth order was from Faultless Starch Co., Kansas City, for 52-week renewal of Faultless Starch Time on 60 stations from Oct. 1 for 52 weeks through Bruce B. Brewer agency, same city.

PI OFFERS

Christmas Avalanche Begins

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

With more than four months to go, broadcast stations already are being greeted by a per inquiry offer covering Christmas cards. The offer comes from Radio Adv. Corp. of America, Jersey City (TV, radio, publicity and general advertising).

Handling the Welcome Greeting Card account, the agency offers to pay $1.65 less 15% ($1.40 net) on each lead for agents to sell cards. "There's no money to handle, no refused COD's, no 'nixies,'" according to a letter sent stations by Michael A. Fiore, president.

"If it clicks on the test, you can schedule it as often as possible," Mr. Fiore adds. The campaign runs to about Nov. 1. "Best of all," he concludes, "they pay promptly."

An offer to stations from Robert J. Enders Adv., Washington, D. C., proposed to pay $5 less 15% per telephone lead for a low-priced vacuum cleaner selling below $20. Letters conclude, "Our client is prepared to spend up to $1,000 per week with your station." The agency represents a group of vacuum cleaner stores.

Bitter protest against a free-plug program offered by Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York was made to the company by Karl F. Janssen, program director of KTUL Tulsa. Mr. Janssen's letter reminded that a polio program included publicity for the company. He adds that information on the subject is provided stations by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. "Of all the advertising media, radio stands far out in front regarding the amount of time and talent given in the public service," he points out.

WFDF EXPANSION

Leases 3-Story Building

EXTENSIVE expansion program to make its physical plant "one of the most modern radio stations in the country" will be launched by WFDF Flint, Mich., Lester W. Lindow, secretary-general manager, announced Thursday.

WFDF, now in its 31st year of broadcasting, has leased a three-story downtown building at Garland and First Ave. in Flint, and plans to start alterations and remodeling shortly. The station, an applicant for TV Channel 12 [B•T, July 7], plans to leave room for further expansion in anticipation of FCC grant of the VHF channel.

Mr. Lindow said the AM station will be located on the second floor of the building, with the remainder of space available for rental. The facility will have four major radio studios and a master control room for radio, he said. New technical equipment also will be installed in many instances, he added.

Mr. Lindow said no date has been set for completion of remodeling, when WFDF will move into its new quarters.

STAFF SHIFTS

Made for Clearfield Outlets

W. K. ULERICH, president, Clearfield Broadcasters Inc., Clearfield, Pa., last week announced personnel shifts and promotions among the three corporation stations, WCPA Clearfield, WAKU Latrobe, Pa., and WJCM Sebring, Fla.

William J. Thomas, WCPA manager, has been named general manager of the trio of company-owned stations. Mr. Thomas formerly was Main Street Editor on KDKA Pittsburgh.

Joe Milsop, a WCPA staffer since it went on the air in 1947, has been promoted to be manager of WCPA. Miss Margaret Nemeth was made assistant manager.

LeRoy W. Stauffer, formerly assistant manager at WCPA, continues as manager of WAKU Latrobe. Mr. Stauffer also at one time was manager of WNCC Barnesboro, Pa.

Jonas Termin, who has been serving as commercial manager at WCPA, will become station manager at WJCM, later this month. Al Frank, announcer-engineer at WJCM, has been named assistant manager of the Sebring station.

BLOOD CAMPAIGN

More Radio-TV Aid Asked

ALL MAJOR media, including radio and television, and the Advertising Council are being asked to continue their operation on behalf of the long-range blood donor campaign.

The call was sounded anew last Monday for the National Blood Program by Dr. John R. Steelman, acting director of the Office of Defense Mobilization. He requested an all-out public information drive utilizing all media to obtain donors.

President Truman has assigned responsibility to ODM for coordinating the joint efforts of the American National Red Cross, the Dept. of Defense and the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

The Red Cross is serving as collecting agency for the drive. Blood collections have dropped off in successive weeks of the Armed Forces Donor Program, now in its 47th week. Military pitch is one phase of the overall national program to meet military, civilian and civil defense needs.

TELEPHONE number for WPIX (TV) New York has been changed to Murray Hill 2-6500.

MISS OKLAHOMA

KVOO Star Wins Title

Miss Barbour receives congratulations over the KVOO telephone upon winning the Miss Oklahoma contest.

KVOO Tulsa, Okla., will have more than passing interest in the Miss America contest this year. This year's Miss Oklahoma is Shirley Barbour, 19-year-old moderator of For Feminine Ears, 15-minute KVOO variety program.

A Tulsa U. sophomore, Miss Oklahoma carries a fulltime school workload. She joined the KVOO staff as receptionist a year ago and rose rapidly to her present position at the station.

The Oklahoma beauty, who won the Miss Tulsa title on her way to the state beauty title, says she wants to win one of the scholarships at the Atlantic City beauty pageant Sept. 1-7.

KVOO listeners found it hard to believe that Miss Barbour, who was 19 on July 23, was so young. On her program she advises her radio audience on planning showers, meals and household decorations.

WMT Special Feature

EIGHT radio farm directors from drought-ridden areas in the South, East and Southeast sections of the country have cooperated with WMT Cedar Rapids in producing Operation Disaster, a half-hour documentary for Iowa's rural listeners. Cooperating on this special feature were the following farm directors: John Holmes, KLRA Little Rock, Ark.; Jake Brofee, WCSH Portland, Me.; John McDonald, WSM Nashville; Frank Atwood, WTIC Hartford; Malcolm McCormick, WBZ Boston; Frank Raymond WDVA Danville, Va.; Jack Timmons, KTBS Sheveport, La., and Bob Crom, radio-TV service, Dept. of Agriculture. The WMT series was written by Doug Grant, with commentary by Chuck Worcester and John Combs, of the WMT farm department.

'FORCED LISTENING'

Candidates' Stand Demanded

DEMAND that the Democratic and Republican Presidential candidates make known their stands on "forced listening" by "captive audiences" was made to Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower last Monday by the National Citizens Committee Against Forced Listening.

The committee, which said it was organized in 1949 to campaign against "infliction of forced listening," demanded of the candidates that they "make known to voters without undue delay where you stand on the question of eradicating the totalitarian evil known as forced listening by means of a federal statute."

"Forced listening" and "captive audiences" are the general terms used to refer to listeners of functional music broadcasts over FM systems in busses and street cars.

Referring to the U. S. Supreme Court decision in favor of WWDC-FM Washington [B•T, June 2], which operates an FM functional music system over city busses and street cars, the NCCAFI said the the Supreme Court did not decide that "forced listening" was either desirable or "in keeping with . . . personal, individual liberty," but merely that it could not find it to be "unconstitutional."

"It is clear," the NCCAFI added, "that the growing evil of forced listening, which we now find in public transportation vehicles in a number of cities, including Washington, can and should be halted through the enactment of an effective federal statute."

Philco Sales Report

SALES of Philco Corp. for the second quarter of 1952 were the largest for that three-month period in the corporation's history and totaled $80,917,000 as compared with $57,499,000 last year. William Balderston, president, added that earnings from operations before taxes in the second quarter of 1952 increased to $4,604,000 from $492,000 last year. In the first six months of 1952, sales of Philco Corp. totaled $165,156,000 as compared with $171,023,000 in the same period a year ago. Earnings in the first six months of 1952 reached $4,289,000, as against a revised net income of $5,741,000 in the same period last year.

WCBS PROGRAMS Add Kimbrough in Bolstering

THIS afternoon (Monday) Emily Kimbrough launches a new weekday afternoon program on WCBS New York. For Miss Kimbrough it means an entry into commercial radio in search of new laurels to add to those already won as an author and lecturer. For WCBS it means the latest in a series of program changes designed to increase the station's sales and profits.

How well this new plan has succeeded was revealed last week by Carl Ward, WCBS general manager. "Sales for each month this year have been ahead of the same months of 1951," he told BROADCASTING • TELECASTING, "with increases for two months exceeding 25%. The outlook for fall is good, with a lot of new business already signed. In two days last week, for instance, our salesmen brought in $169,000 worth of new business."

As key station of the CBS Radio Network, required to carry a full network schedule, WCBS has only a limited amount of time available for local programming and local sales. There is the morning period from sign-on time at 5:30 until 10, and late afternoon stretch from 4 to 6, and a late evening period, 11 to 11:30.

Shortly after Mr. Ward became WCBS manager (in August 1951) he and Sam Slate, who was named program director of WCBS about two months later, agreed on a fundamental theory of operation: That the local programming should be built around personalities, scheduled so as to compete most effectively with programs of other New York stations.

Tried Faulk Show

"One of our chief problems," Mr. Slate noted, "was that we had two expensive shows in the afternoon—John Reed King's Missus Goes A-Shopping and Hits and Misses, a quiz show—on which the station was losing money. We decided to try a different kind of show—John Henry Faulk, a Texas humorist and authority on folk songs, in an informal, homey kind of program which we spotted five afternoons a week from 5:05 to 5:55 p.m., starting last December.

"It's an inexpensive show, but it was still a calculated risk in view of the opposition," Mr. Slate said, pointing out that two of New York's most popular disc jockeys—Martin Block and Art Ford—as well as NBC's soap operas are on the air at that time.

The gamble paid off, Mr. Slate reported. During that time period today WCBS enjoys both higher ratings and increased sales to sponsors than formerly, he said.

"Our second problem was that the morning period was comprised of solid talk programs," Mr. Slate said. "Their ratings were good but there seemed to be potential for even better ratings. Since competitive stations also had talk programs at the time, with the exception of music on WNEW, we thought of a musical show with a personality. Specifically, we thought of Joan Edwards, so we got together with Gordon Auchincloss, writer-producer who had worked with Joan, recorded some audition platters and they were immediately successful.

"As a matter of fact, the show was 60% sold out before it started on the air, in the 9:30-10 a.m. period, Monday through Friday. The rating figure when she started in March was 2.8. It has climbed steadily, month by month, and the program is now the top rated participating show in New York, according to Pulse, whose June report gave it a rating of 3.9."

The success of the Joan Edwards show, which is now completely sold out, prompted the WCBS executives to extend its early morning musical programming and last Monday (Aug. 11) Bob Haymes, young singing star, started on WCBS in a five-a-week program from 8:15 to 9 a.m. The change not only will strengthen the WCBS schedule at this time, the station's management believes, but it also eliminates the Bob Haymes program on WNEW which has been Miss Edwards' strongest competition.

"Realizing also that news plays a major role in station operation, we have increased our news periods at every opportunity," Mr. Slate said. WCBS now has five-minute local news programs at 6, 6:30, 7, 7:30 a.m. and at 5 p.m., in addition to the network news shows it carries.

Mr. Ward pointed out that the Faulk, Edwards, Haymes and Kimbrough programs all fit in with the general programming theory of providing local shows of broad audience appeal, built around a personality.

In addition to the program changes, Mr. Ward stated that WCBS also has benefited from a change in the sales set-up which now gives the station 14 salesmen in place of the four it had a year ago. With 11 men on the New York staff of CBS Radio Sales, plus three assigned exclusively to WCBS sales, WCBS has the added sales strength it needs in the face of current competition, he said.

"The picture is appreciably better, spot-wise, than it was a year ago," Mr. Ward said. He credited the improvements in both sales and ratings to the teamwork of Mr. Slate, sales manager Bill Miller, promotion manager Don Foley and the entire WCBS staff.

1951 INCOMES UP

To Raise Demand, Prices

PERSONAL incomes were up in 1951 over the previous year—and so were prices and production under the impetus of expanding demand.

That was the latest inflationary word from the Commerce Dept.'s Office of Business Economics, which surveyed incomes in 1951, by states. Total individual incomes rose 12%, per capita, 10%.

Individuals in four states stood to gain the sharpest pay boosts—ranging from 18% to 23%—largely because of a sharp rise in farm income. These states were Arizona (23%), South Carolina (21%), and New Mexico and South Dakota (18% each).

Increases of 16% were shown for Colorado, Georgia and Nevada and of 15% in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Utah, Virginia and Wyoming.

Per capita incomes last year ranged from $771 in Mississippi to $2,100 in Delaware and the District of Columbia. Other top-rankers were Nevada, Connecticut, New York, California, Illinois and New Jersey—the last four comprising the more populous states.

Perfect Host

RAYMOND MORIN, WTAG-AM-FM Worcester, Mass., was touring Puerto Rico, Jamaica and Haiti gathering special recordings of voodoo and native drum music for use on his weekly World's Greatest Music series. Frank Magloire, who operates station MBC in Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, gladly dubbed some discs for Mr. Morin, and altogether was much more cooperative than a fellow broadcaster would have a right to expect. When Mr. Magloire discovered that he needed the use of a turntable which was then on the air, it created no insurmountable problem to him. He simply picked off the broadcast disc, thereby taking the station completely off the air. An hour later, MBC went back on the air—but only after Mr. Magloire had finished helping Mr. Morin.

WMRO PETITIONS

For Immediate Renewal

PETITION for reconsideration and grant without hearing of its license renewal application was submitted last week to FCC by WMRO Aurora, Ill. The renewal hearing, now indefinitely postponed, had been ordered to determine whether WMRO has filed timely applications and reports with the Commission and whether it has operated in compliance with FCC's rules and engineering standards.

WMRO acknowledged certain reports unintentionally had been filed late with the Commission in the past, but asserted new office procedure has been adopted which assures prompt attention to such matters in future. The petition also said that as of Aug. 5 an examination of FCC's engineering and monitoring files showed no outstanding citations against the station. WMRO contended it can "unequivocally state" it is "operating in complete compliance" with the rules and standards.

The petition acknowledged that on two occasions last winter the 250 w daytime outlet (1280 kc) operated past regular sign-off time in contravention of the rules, but the FCC was so advised. WMRO in December, at the request of the Aurora mayor, broadcast overtime as an emergency public service during a blizzard, the petition stated, and similarly in January operated overtime because of an impending transportation strike.

WMRO is owned by Martin R. O'Brien. The petition was filed by A. Harry Becker, Washington radio attorney.

Today's time selling techniques call for a re-evaluation of All selling tools

Some thoughts on time selling inspired by the Spot Radio Promotion Handbook which consolidates many years of research into time buying practices.

In the old days the general philosophy of selling was charm, glamor, glad-handing the prospect. Radio station managers were no exception.

But today, judging from our continuing studies, radio managers and their representatives are making a highly successful transition to modern SERVICE-Selling. Here the emphasis is on discovering and serving the needs of each prospect.

So how do you line up your sales tools today?

The basic tools of selling time break naturally into two groups:

1. Tools of SERVICE-Selling —
 - a. Station salesmen and representatives
 - b. Service information for media files
 - c. Service-Ads in buyers' service publications
2. Tools of PROMOTIONAL-Selling —
 - a. Direct mail promotion
 - b. Advertising in the trade publications

PROMOTIONAL-Selling Tools are used to stress one or more features of the station; seek to impress all who may ever become interested; and to direct those who are currently interested to available service information.

SERVICE-Selling Tools are used to supply the advertiser with needed buying information; make this information available to the men who use it, at the time they need it.

Here are good examples of SERVICE-Selling Tools at work

When Service-Ads in RADIO RATES AND DATA contain useful information like the ones reproduced here they become a preliminary to promotional selling . . . and serve a double purpose: (1) they give buyers the kind of information needed, right where they are looking for it; (2) they "file" up-to-date expanded information in the logical place for quick reference when promotional selling creates interest in your station.

Audience on Wheels

IN THE ambitious Pulse survey of the automobile radio audience which BAB underwrote and is distributing, the number of radio-equipped passenger cars in the U.S. was put at 27.5 million.

Not one of these 27.5 million sets is included in the computation of rates for any radio station. It has not been a mark of extraordinary business acumen that radio consistently has given away its traveling circulation for free.

Other media have not acted with such selfless generosity.

Does anyone know of a newspaper which fails to count the copies which are read on trains?

Is there a magazine which refuses to include in its circulation guarantees the copies that are sold at air terminals?

It has been an appalling fault of radio management that until now no important study of out-of-home listening has been made. Happily, though only because new competition is requiring radio to make more serious efforts to measure itself, corrective research is being conducted at last. It is too bad that similar studies were not conducted long ago, for if they had been, the growth of television would not have affected radio so severely.

Just because an audience happens to be on wheels does not mean it is not an audience.

Radio Sells Everything

IN WINNING the Democratic primary election for governor of Arkansas, a little-known country judge last week had two measurable advantages over his opponent, the incumbent Gov. Sidney McMath. For one thing, his rival was burdened with the endorsement of Harry S. Truman. For another, the judge used the radio "Talkathon."

It is hard to say which of these was the more important to Judge Francis Cherry's victory in the run-off election last Tuesday against Gov. McMath. Certainly, however, he would not have emerged from the pack in the preferential primary July 29 if he had not been able to elevate himself from his former obscurity and introduce himself to the electorate. Radio made that possible.

Voters were bound to find an appeal in a candidate who was willing—on one occasion for a 24½ hour stretch—to expose himself to random questioning by the audience, as explained in an article in this publication a week ago. It does not take a political soothsayer to predict that the Talkathon will be used more and more as a political weapon.

Indeed last week it had already been taken up by Leonard Schmitt, who is running for the Republican nomination as U.S. Senator from Wisconsin. He set out to beat Judge Cherry's record in Arkansas. He went on the air in a 25-hour Talkathon.

Whether Mr. Schmitt wins or loses against the formidable opposition of Sen. Joseph McCarthy, the Talkathon obviously has become standard equipment in regional political campaigns. Assuming financial backing were available, it could be translated to television. On either radio or television, however, the Talkathon presents another illustration of the great power of broadcasting to enlighten and inform.

The Net Dollar

NETWORK radio is now a new kind of business.

As a medium, radio has always been the best buy, dollar for dollar. Network radio now becomes the biggest bargain in the history of advertising.

The CBS rate realignment, sweated out after weeks of negotiations, inevitably establishes the new base for all network radio. The forces of competition so dictate. Actually, it recognizes what has been a going condition in network selling (or dealing) for many months. It gets the network back on the rate card. And the affiliates agree to share the burden.

NBC, which has been waiting since its Boca Raton imbroglio of last year, can be expected to meet the CBS move with rate realignments of its own. But don't expect this overnight. ABC and MBS also will modify to meet the new competitive pattern.

Recriminations, at this stage, benefit no one except the competitive media. The issue is no longer debatable. There's a bed-rock job to be done by the business men in broadcasting. It is the job that wasn't done years ago, when radio was just rolling along, content to sell itself short.

Television isn't mentioned in the CBS affiliates plan. But its influence was there. The real tragedy is that non-TV markets, which now thrive, nevertheless are forced to bear their portion of the across-the-board cuts.

The CBS compromise isn't all bad. It could have been lots worse, had not the affiliates committee interceded. Here are some of the plusses that should stabilize the medium: (1) There will be no card rate cuts for at least a year. (2) The advertiser must buy 52-weeks to earn maximum discounts, knocking out the demoralizing 13-week summer hiatus. (3) Monday-through-Friday daytime charges go up about 5%. (4) Ratings go out the window as a principal selling tool. (5) There will be no more rate deals.

If point No. 5 doesn't stick, then no gains whatever will accrue. The under-the-table deal must go. The bulk of network business sold during the last two years has been concession-dealing in time and talent or both. The networks have absorbed these deals. Now, in the CBS plan, the affiliates propose to help underwrite the average 25% nighttime discounts by taking a 15% cut in network compensation.

This cut-back is at the network level. There's a vast difference between network and spot. Thus, that which has been done at the network level should not be transmitted to the station level. The station sets its own rates for its time. The advertiser can buy it or not. If it's over-priced he won't buy. More spot is being bought than ever before. They're buying more spot than network.

Call it a strategic retreat, or charge it to blunders of the past. But it's done. Now all radio lines must hold fast. The advertisers have served notice on other media that they want an accounting. Television has affected newspaper and magazine readership. But that's their fight.

The resourceful broadcaster won't use the new network scale as an excuse for downgrading of his operations. The advertiser isn't going to strike again if he feels that by so doing, cut-backs in personnel and programming will result. That can only make his use of the medium less productive. The advertising manager, after all, has to make an accounting, too. Too many businesses have been "made" by radio—spot and network alike—to risk bleeding the medium dry.

For the moment, the profit dollar may be harder to come by in radio. But the broadcaster willing to work will find the way.

our respects to:

DONALD AIMERS NORMAN

WHEN Donald Aimers Norman joined NBC in 1943 he looked forward for the first time to a permanent base of operations where he could enjoy home and family. Now, nine years later, as general manager of KNBH (TV), the network's Hollywood television station, he finally has succeeded.

Steady advancement, which always seemed to involve moving from one city to another, has combined with housing shortages to keep Mr. Norman away from the hearth which loomed so large in his considerations after years on the road.

To settle down permanently after spending 50 weeks a year traveling, Mr. Norman actually took a salary reduction when he joined NBC in 1943 as spot salesman in San Francisco—only to spend eight months vainly looking for a house while his family waited in Los Angeles for the word to move north.

After that the fates were kinder for awhile. He was transferred to Los Angeles as manager of National Spot Sales for NBC's Western Div. For nine months he and his family basked in the sunshine of each other's smiles. Then came word of transfer to New York. It took another eight months to find a place to live.

The long road which brought Donald A. Norman to Hollywood and a home in suburban Glendale began in Chicago where he was born May 27, 1913. He attended public and high schools in Oak Park and in 1930 enrolled in the U. of Illinois.

He majored in history and journalism. On the extracurricular side he played intramural baseball and golf—"I was too small for varsity." He was business manager for campus Little Theatre productions and active in Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

His college career ended in 1933 for economic reasons. He had supported himself waiting on tables, but the combined academic and financial burden became too much. He went job hunting.

That was the first year of the Chicago World's Fair. Mr. Norman probably had one of the shortest records in the history of show business as a performer at the exposition. The famed "Greeter" Gaw had written a song celebrating the glories of the Century of Progress. He hired the ex-college man to bark it along the midway. He lasted but one day.

He went to work for Standard Brands in the summer of 1933 as a junior salesman, a euphemistic title coined to give dignity to the drivers of route trucks who contacted stores selling Fleischmann's yeast. The salary was $65 per month. It later skyrocketed to $90

Every Link is Strong

WREC strength and stability are based on a long chain of events that have gained listener confidence through the years. . . . Service to the Community—Responsibility to the listener—and Mechanical perfection are a few of the reasons why WREC continues to pull the greatest audience.

Closely linked are the important facts that WREC has the highest Hooper rating of any Memphis radio station and rates are actually 10.1% lower per thousand listeners than in 1946! The advertising pull is greater because you get top coverage in this market of over $2,000,000,000—in addition WREC prestige adds weight to your message to bring in MORE sales at LESS cost.

Claiming Stockton, Calif., as her birthplace, Miss Ridley marks Dec. 14, 1920, as the eventful day. The family moved to Oakland and then to Sacramento before settling permanently in Los Angeles in 1931 when she was 11. Completing her grade schooling, she continued to Los Angeles High, and was graduated in 1938. Then 1½ years at Los Angeles City College with a major in dental hygiene ended her formal education.

She was a dental hygienist for the next two years and a receptionist for a similar period. She then became a private secretary for two years.

Wanting to see the rest of the U. S. and Canada, she resigned the secretarial post in 1942 and worked at various jobs in her travels to meet expenses. She rejoined her family in Los Angeles in late 1945.

Miss Ridley shares an apartment in suburban Sherman Oaks with Tenney, her black-and-white cocker spaniel. An outdoor enthusiast, she also claims cooking as a hobby, and admits to "sewing a mean seam" which accounts for her always smart appearance.

TENN. PRIMARIES Sponsor Bids for WMPS in '54

WMPS Memphis did such an outstanding job of covering the Aug. 7 Tennessee primaries that already a sponsor has put in a bid for primaries two years hence, station reported last week.

"This is unprecedented in the history of our business, but I certainly want you to come to us with this when elections are on two years from now," said E. C. Krausnick Jr., sales and advertising manager of the Tennessee Brewing Co., Memphis.

WMPS had reporters spotted at candidates' headquarters, at the Courthouse when the ballot boxes were brought in, and at other key posts throughout the city. Station used tape recordings and "beeper" reports in addition to regular news sources which flowed into the studios.

MORGAN SUIT

GF, B&B Seek New Trial

GENERAL FOODS Corp. (Maxwell House coffee) and its agency, Benton & Bowles Inc., New York, will ask a new trial or "if necessary appeal" the Los Angeles Superior Court verdict which awarded Raymond R. Morgan Co., Hollywood agency, $375,000 compensatory damages for the appropriation of a promotion idea involving radio. Al Kaye, vice president and Hollywood manager of Benton & Bowles, also was a defendant in the suit.

The jury in Superior Judge William B. McKay's court, after three weeks of testimony, brought in the verdict Aug. 8 for the plaintiff after an hour's deliberation.

Charging unfair competition and breach of an implied contract in the appropriation of a copyrighted "doorbell ringing plan," Raymond R. Morgan Co., originally had sued for $1.5 million damages [B•T, June 25, 1951].

During the hearing, this figure was scaled down to $500,000. The jury, not advised of the change, first awarded the plaintiff $750,000. Sent back by Judge McKay for further deliberation with instructions to lower the figure, the jury then made a judgment of $375,000.

The Morgan firm in its suit charged Benton & Bowles had requested a presentation and detailed working account of the merchandising plan used by the former agency for four years in increasing Folger coffee sales. Cost for its use was quoted, with a royalty price set at $200 per week in each key city and $100 weekly in smaller communities. It is licensed to other agencies and firms in areas where it does not conflict with Folger coffee promotion.

General Foods Corp., according to testimony, appropriated the merchandising plan to promote Maxwell House coffee in Folger coffee territory and without agreement or compensation to the plaintiff. Both General Foods and Benton & Bowles had contended the promotion idea was in public domain.

That contention was reiterated Tuesday in a formal joint statement when General Foods and its agency revealed intentions to "move for a new trial and if necessary appeal the verdict."

The promotional idea is a combination of radio broadcasting, couponing, house-to-house selling and sampling. Under license arrangement, it has been used by Los Angeles Soap Co. (White King Soap), a client of Raymond R. Morgan Co., and by other agencies for various national accounts.

TELEVISION-Radio Workshop of the Ford Foundation has appointed Jack Perlis, radio-television public relations consultant, to handle publicity promotion on behalf of Omnibus, 90-minute Sunday variety television show to be launched Nov. 9 on CBS-TV.

From where I sit by Joe Marsh

If They're Wild, They Belong To Tik!

Saw Tik Anderson last week and was reminded of the first time I ever spoke to him. The missus had sent me out one Saturday afternoon to hunt for some blackberries.

I took a long hike and couldn't find any. Finally, I came to Tik's house along that low stretch east of the fork on River Road. "Hi there," I says, "any blackberries around here?"

Tik says, "There used to be—but I don't know much about things that grow wild." Later, I found how Tik supports his family by picking berries. Ever since that time I've been like the rest of folks in town—respectful of his right not to tell where "his" berries grow.

From where I sit, respecting other folks' rights comes natural in our town . . . in America for that matter! Whether it's a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale if he wants, or whether it's Tik Anderson's right to keep secret where his berries are, it's all a big part of a real democracy!

CONELRAD

Plan Nears NSRB Approval; FCC Declassifies Parts

OPERATION Conelrad moved two steps closer to reality last week with twin developments involving the FCC and the National Security Resources Board.

The broadcast alert plan designed to meet emergency conditions, particularly the imminence of air attack on the U. S., currently is in the interim phase pending official approval of the the permanent long-range project.

Last week, Operation Conelrad was reported close to approval by the security board. Its chairman, Jack S. Gorrie, was preparing to give the agency's assent and thus make it official, in line with provisions in the President's Executive Order of last December.

In the meantime, FCC has notified stations they may declassify certain documents in their possession dealing with various phases of the plan.

The project already has approval of the Secretary of Defense. Once NSRB tenders its okay, the FCC will be able to issue appropriate orders to put it into effect. Rules and regulations will be adopted by the Commission to set the wheels in motion.

It was understood some 600 AM radio stations are interested and actually participating in the interim phases of Conelrad. To take part they were required to make certain modifications in technical equipment. FCC has been told by NARTB that changes in its requirements covering operators and remote-control operation would implement the plan, too [B•T, Aug. 11].

Two Specified Frequencies

Under Conelrad all but participating stations would be silenced in a threatened air attack or similar emergency. Subscribing stations would notify listeners to tune their receivers to two specified frequencies. Use of FM and TV outlets is not contemplated now.

Under the present interim system a number of 50-kw stations throughout the country have been operating 24 hours daily over a specified period. This is called the "skywave" aspect, tailored to provide fulltime alert until Conelrad becomes a reality. Local civil defense organizations have been cooperating.

In the FCC memorandum to stations, broadcasters were advised they could declassify certain documents relating to the operating system, alerting system, emergency control and proposed plan of operation relating to control of electromagnetic radiations (Conelrad) in the continental U. S. and North American region.

Documents on tentative plans for alerting and operating types of stations other than broadcast with respect to the President's Executive Order also were declassified. The memorandum was signed by William J. Norfleet, FCC security officer.

All but the more minute and security-type details are well known to the industry and broadcasters, who participated in discussions with the FCC early last year [B•T, April 2, March 26]. The Executive Order implements Sec. 606 (c) of the Communications Act as amended to cover other than broadcast stations whose signals could serve as homing devices for enemy craft.

Programming Formula By CD

The Federal Civil Defense Administration is charged with devising a programming formula for Conelrad operation. It will meet periodically in the field with broadcasters, local CD groups, and with NARTB and allied groups [B•T, July 14, June 2].

FCDA activity along this line has been slowed by lack of agreement over costs for certain lines, including installation of sequential lines connecting stations and telephone connections at local CD levels. It is presumed the Air Force will shoulder the cost burden for connecting participating outlets.

FRAUD SUIT AIMED

At Coast Firm Officials

REMOVAL of the president and two directors of Camera Vision Productions Inc., Beverly Hills, on charges they misappropriated and misapplied corporation funds, was demanded last Tuesday in a federal court suit filed by two investors in the firm.

Arthur S. Lyons, president, and Edgar R. Morris and Edward C. Flynn, directors, are named in the suit by Mrs. Gloria Dahlberg of New York and Mrs. Rose K. Davis of Hawaii, both of whom claim their investments of $50,000 each, plus $52,100 from other sources, have been "dissipated." They seek injunctions to keep the trio from disposing of assets of the firm, organized about a year ago to develop a new camera which supposedly would cut time and costs of film production in half.

Campaign Suggestions

SUGGESTIONS for planning an anniversary campaign have been published in outline form by Castle Island Press, Chicago. "How To Plan an Anniversary Campaign," written by Jay J. Broderick, public relations director at Castle Island Press, is available free of charge. Outline is preceded by an introduction on the function of a public relations man.

RADIO-TV HELP NEWSPAPER TOP RIVAL

Three Lamb Media Work Hand-in-Hand in Erie

THIS is a newspaper success story in which radio and TV played major roles.

For the first time in the five years broadcaster Edward Lamb has owned the Erie (Pa.) Dispatch, it is leading the opposition, Erie Times, in food advertising linage.

Latest figures from Advertising Linage Service for the first half of 1952 show the daily Dispatch carried 664,680 lines of food advertising compared to the rival Times' 621,043, Mr. Lamb reports.

In great part this success is due to the use of the Lamb-owned WIKK and WICU (TV) as a service in the merchandising help given food and kitchen product advertisers in the newspaper, according to Mr. Lamb.

Selected advertisers of food products in the Dispatch get their products mentioned on both the AM station and on TV. The way it works is this:

The newspaper buys time on WIKK for a group of participating announcements.

Food Products Tie-In

Similarly, it has bought the whole Wednesday half-hour of the weekly TV participating Kitchen Arts Show on WICU. Food products using the Dispatch's merchandising service are mentioned and shown on the show.

So successful have the combinations been in selling products to consumers, that the use of radio and TV is now considered the backbone of the newspaper's merchandising plan.

Other forms of selling aids continue, of course, Mr. Lamb explains. The two-man newspaper merchandising staff continues the usual forms of such activity—surveys, mailings, guaranteed outlets, retail tie-ins, posters, etc.

The Erie Dispatch has a cir-ulation of 45,000, up 15,000 from its readership when Mr. Lamb bought the newspaper in 1947. Its opposition has a circulation of 52,000, down 2,000 from its dominant position five years ago. Mr. Lamb says.

The use of his radio and TV to help his newspaper is not entirely one-sided, Mr. Lamb points out. The success of his TV operation can be laid in significant measure to the assistance given WICU by the newspaper. The newspaper not only runs regular features on the station and on TV in general, but it also cooperates in merchandising broadcast advertisers—through news items on shows, talent and advertisers' products.

In addition, the Sunday Dispatch carries a regular TV section.

The merchandising staff of WICU numbers five men. They also engage in the usual array of sales aids for advertisers.

The fact the Dispatch is part of one newspaper-radio-TV property has helped "enormously" in building its circulation, Mr. Lamb says. The paper is promoted heavily on the air. Not only do newspaper by-liners have regular programs on WIKK and WICU (the sports editor has a sportscast, the society editor a social "column," etc.), but both stations carry references to Dispatch feature stories, news beats, etc.

Although all three properties are owned by Mr. Lamb, the sales staffs of each are competitive, Mr. Lamb emphasizes.

Is there a trend toward a joint advertising rate—one charge for newspaper space, radio and TV time?

"Not yet," Mr. Lamb replied. "But it is not a far-fetched idea. Time will tell."

Campaign Catechism Issued by NARTB

sorship of a candidate's talk cited. A broadcaster, of course, should try to persuade a candidate to delete such matter but the FCC's interpretation of Sec. 315 requires that the material go on the air uncensored. NARTB notes that this FCC position is of questionable validity.

In case of defamation, the speaker is liable in every state, the booklet explains, with 21 states having laws or court decisions lessening the liability.

Speeches of political speakers not actually candidates may be edited to remove defamatory or poor-taste passages, it is stated. Stations may "editorialize" on public issues, though FCC expects them to give the other side a chance to reply.

Premium rates for political broadcasts are forbidden by a 1952 amendment to Sec. 315. Stations are advised they must give candidates the right to purchase comparable time at an equal rate. If a station confines political programs to sustaining time it must cancel programs, if necessary, to provide equal opportunity.

Stations are not required to keep a script or recording of political speeches, the bulletin concludes, but must keep a record of requests for time and what was done about them. Scripts and recordings are a safety factor in case of libel suits or other objections.

WOR PRODUCT POLL

Pulse Survey Shows Market

GROWING popularity of chlorophyll dentifrices at the expense of "ammoniated-only" and regular-type toothpastes in the New York market was highlighted in a special WOR New York product poll released last week by Robert M. Hoffman, research director for WOR and WOR-TV.

The survey, conducted for WOR by Pulse Inc., shows the market situation in January 1952, just prior to the debut of chlorophyll dentifrices, and in July 1952, in interviews of 1,600 families. Some 25.8% of families surveyed stocked chlorophyll dentifrices in July, while ammoniated toothpastes declined from 20.4% in January to 15% in July. So-called regular dentifrices dipped from 87.1% in January to 70.4% in July. (Chlorophyll figures include chlorophyll brands that are ammoniated.)

Daytime leading five network programs were Ma Perkins 14.9, Pepper Young's Family 12.4, Right to Happiness 11.8, Life Can Be Beautiful 11.8, and Big Sister 11.6.

Five leading French evening network shows were La Pause Qui Rattrait 18, Jouez Double 15.3, La Raconteur de Chez Nous 14.1, Faubourg 13.6 and La Rue des Pignons 10.4. Five leading daytime French shows were Rue Principale, 21.4, Jeunesse Doree 20.8, Grande Soeur 17.3, Francine Louvain 17, and Tante Lucie 15.1.

Levine Wins Scholarship

IRVING R. LEVINE, NBC correspondent in Korea, has won a Council on Foreign Relations scholarship for the 1952-53 academic year. He will return to the U. S. in September to begin a year of study at the Council's headquarters in New York. Scholarship is a sum equal to his salary.

School Buys KPAC Time

PORT ARTHUR Independent School District for the second year has purchased regular commercial time from KPAC that city to broadcast 1952 football games of the Thomas Jefferson High School's Yellow Jackets. The PAISD has sold its own sponsor, Texas Co. of Port Arthur, and will use its own play-by-play announcer and "color" man, with KPAC handling only technical aspects. KPAC also will carry the 1952 Southwest Conference football games for Humble Oil Co., also for the second year.

DAMAGE SUIT

Filed by Roche-Eckhoff

SUIT, asking $121,000 in damages has been filed by Roche-Eckhoff & Assoc., Hollywood advertising agency, against George Patton, former account executive with the firm and now head of a Beverly Hills agency bearing his name.

Legal action, instituted Aug. 5 in Superior Court of Los Angeles County, charges that Mr. Patton took with him three accounts he had been handling when he severed relations with the plaintiffs, Nov. 1, 1951. Ulrich's Serve Yourself gasoline stations and James J. Kerwin Co., Los Angeles distributor of Raytheon TV, joined the defendant immediately with Dr. L. A. Brinkley, chiropractor, following three months later.

Frank Roche and Irving Eckhoff, through their attorney, Austin Clapp, ask damages of $21,000 for gross commissions lost when Mr. Patton and the three accounts left the agency and $100,000 future damages accruing from continued loss of commissions.

Claiming the defendant is guilty of unfair competition, Roche-Eckhoff charges him with violation of the law of contractual relationship, if he solicited the accounts after leaving the firm, or violation of the California law giving an employer rights to whatever an employe acquires during the period of employment, if he solicited the accounts while with the firm.

In filing an answer, Aug. 15, Mr. Patton through his attorneys, Ryan & Burlington, issued a general denial.

FTL PRESIDENCY

Holden Succeeds Buttner

VICE ADMIRAL Carl F. Holden, USN (Ret.), has been elected president of Federal Telecommunication Labs. Inc., Nutley, N. J., an IT&T research unit, it was announced last week.

He succeeds Harold H. Buttner, who will assume duties as vice president of IT&T in New York, coordinating the research and development program of the parent company. Admiral Holden was director of naval communications in 1942 and 1943. He was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1917 and received an M.A. degree in electrical engineering from Harvard U. in 1924.

Ziv's 'I Like America'

SLOGAN SERIES, I Like America, has been recorded by Tyrone Power for radio stations carrying Frederic W. Ziv Co.'s Freedom, U.S.A., according to John L. Sinn, Ziv executive vice president. Campaign is intended as a public service and as an "audience-creating tool" for the series. Individual recordings by Mr. Power, will be adapted to each station.

RADIO BARRED

REFUSAL of a U. S. Dept. of Labor official to permit recording of a Littlefield, Tex., hearing was protested last week by KGNC Amarillo, with department officials later explaining the incident was due to a misunderstanding.

Garland (Cotton John) Smith, KGNC farm reporter, attended the session with a tape recorder but was not allowed to record the proceedings, designed to acquaint farmers with the Mexican labor program of the Labor Dept.

Tom Kritzer, general manager of KGNC, sent a protest to Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), terming the ejection "the sort of thing that leads eventually to a totalitarian government." He asked Sen. Johnson to find out "what reason, if any, they had for this treatment and if this is the type of thing we can expect in the future in dealing with the Dept. of Labor."

Mr. Smith described the meeting as first of a series in West Texas. Principal speakers were two Labor Dept. officials—Michael J. Galvin, Undersecretary of Labor, and William S. Tyson, solicitor.

According to Mr. Smith, a man in the back of the room who described himself as John Leslie, a department information director, refused to let him operate his tape recorder. Reporters were allowed to take notes and photographers took photos. With about 100 per-

KTAN AUCTION

6,000 Respond to Sale

AUCTION planned three years by KTAN Sherman, Tex., saw a crowd of 6,000 jamming the Bearcat football stadium in that city to buy several hundred items with KTAN trade certificates. Details of the auction were worked out by William A. Jaco, station manager, and Charles L. Cain, station owner.

Mr. Jaco said the station sold "practically every merchant" in Sherman on the plan, which included a 13-week contract with merchants furnishing customers KTAN trade certificates on a dollar-for-dollar basis in the amount of their purchases, along with a package of 39 spots for the 13-week period.

Merchandise for the event was purchased by the station from local merchants and included a refrigerator, console television set, gas range, bedroom suite, automatic washer and other items. The auction began at 6 p.m. and lasted to 1:15 a.m. The affair was so successful that KTAN plans to make it an annual event.

Assisting Mr. Jaco, who was m.c. and auctioneer, were announcers Jim Shelton and Walter Vaughn, engineer Otis Smith, Mr. Cain and his wife, Jessie Mae, Continuity Director Carol Rogers, Traffic Manager Loraine Adams, stenographer Jean Vaught, W. T. Smith, E. A. Hudnall and Dr. P. T. Vaught.

Labor Dept. Prohibits Tape Recording sons present, only a fraction of 1% of those interested could hear the proceedings compared to the audience available by radio, Mr. Smith pointed out.

Herbert Little, Labor Dept. information director in Washington, gave this explanation of the incident to BROADCASTING • TELECASTING:

"The incident resulted from a series of honest errors. The trip was for the purpose of giving the Texas people the facts about the Mexican labor program of the Department, and we hoped and expected these facts would be distributed fully by press and radio. This meeting, like the other meetings in Texas, lasted several hours, some of it speeches and some of it general discussion, and Under Secretary Galvin felt that a direct recording and live direct broadcast from the hall would be unduly long and bad radio technique.

"Consequently, before the Littlefield meeting he suggested that a radio program be arranged separately wherever possible to summarize the discussion and get the program on the air quickly and help the radio men in their work. Unfortunately, this arrangement was not made. Mr. Galvin was in the midst of the meeting and did not learn of the request of the KGNC reporter for a tape recording until after he left, when it was too late to catch him and make a separate recording for him.

"Mr. Galvin stated that the error grew solely out of the desire to help the radio men.

"After learning of the error, Mr. Galvin offered to make a recording explaining the farm labor program for KGNC. This, of course, would also be available to other stations that might request it."

Portrait Industry

TRADE practice conference for the portrait photographic industry is scheduled by the Federal Trade Commission for Chicago Aug. 27. "The production or marketing of portraits for newspaper, periodical, motion picture, television or other commercial use, is not to be considered as a part of the business of the industry for which the conference is being held," FTC noted. Purpose of the meet is to promulgate trade rules for the industry, similar to those evolved for radio-TV set manufacturers and other groups. Conference will be held in the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

TEMPO Record Co., Hollywood, will produce and transcribe 14 quarter-hour programs, starring Ray Anthony and his orchestra, for U. S. Navy and 26 quarter-hours, starring Bob Crosby, for U. S. Marine Corps. Frank Danzig is writer-director.

UN PROMOTION

Council Outlines Plans

ADVERTISING Council and the National Citizens' Committee for UN Day outlined advertising and promotion plans for the celebration of UN Day (Oct. 24) at a breakfast for newsmen in New York Tuesday.

The 1952 program will attempt to set up UN Day as a world-wide, traditional "holiday" for sending greetings and gifts to people in other UN countries.

Allan M. Wilson, vice president of the council, said radio and television will be asked to implement the council's "allocation plan" used in other campaigns. He said he expected the radio and television drive to begin about mid-September.

Volunteer advertising agency for the campaign is BBDO New York, under direction of Willard Pleuthner, vice president. Advertising materials will be distributed by the council.

'Planet Man' Series

PALLADIUM Radio Productions Inc., 445 Park Ave., N. Y., last week announced the offering of Planet Man, a new series slated for general release Sept. 15. The series consists of open end transcriptions designed for three 15-minute programs a week. It is to be sold on an exclusive basis in each market.

WSYR's Local Radio Sales UP 39%

KIRK APPOINTED

Heads Strategy Board

APPOINTMENT of Alan C. Kirk as director of the Psychological Strategy Board, effective Sept. 15, was announced by the White House last Thursday.

President Truman named Admiral Kirk, ex-U. S. ambassador to Moscow, to succeed Dr. Raymond B. Allen, who will be retained as a senior consultant for a month. Dr. Allen, ex-president of the U. of Washington State, becomes chancellor of the U. of California at Los Angeles.

PSB is charged with coordinating the foreign information activities and psychological warfare policy of the U. S. The board deals with the Defense Dept., State Dept. and Mutual Security Agency, with membership comprising the Undersecretary of State, Deputy Secretary of Defense and director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Gordon Gray, president of WSJS-AM-FM Winston-Salem, N. C., and other radio properties, was the first director of the board.

Admiral Kirk has served as chairman of the American Committee for the Liberation of the Peoples of Russia.

ATS-REC Conference

NOMINATING committees of American Television Society and Radio Executives Club of New York will meet Wednesday afternoon to nominate candidates for officers of the new organization as yet unnamed, resulting from an ATS-REC merger which becomes effective this fall.

CREDIT UNION ASSN.

Radio Sells Ideas As Well As Services

CREDIT UNION National Assn. is selling the concept of regular saving and intelligent borrowing to working people in Canada and the U. S. by radio. For the company's first full-fledged advertising promotion, J. Walter Thompson Co., Chicago, has chosen radio as the strong base from which ideas as well as services could be sold. Believing in the convincing salesmanship of two leading broadcasting personalities, agency officials selected Gabriel Heatter in the U. S. and Lorne Green, "Mr. Radio" of Canada. Mr. Green, with his observations and human interest features, appears weekly on 21 Canadian stations.

In this country, hard-selling but easy-going Gabriel Heatter is sponsored each Tuesday night on his regular Mutual newscast, aired on 530 stations. Mr. Heatter has been on the air for CUNA since January on a 52-week contract, with results that are "more than satisfactory" to the client.

Credit Union National Assn., which headquarters in Madison, Wis., and employs 200 persons, chose radio as its first advertising medium last fall after appointing J. Walter Thompson Co., as agency.

Needed Mass Medium

It wanted a mass medium to tell its story nationally. This was a story of its service of helping to organize credit unions within businesses and religious and club groups. Encouraging workers to establish and operate their own credit groups, independent of any outside loan company or bank, CUNA supplies the plans and physical equipment (pass, books, ledger forms, etc.) necessary in each shop.

Mr. Heatter, chosen for what the client terms his "believability," espouses the virtues of company credit unions, frequently citing specifics of successful cases. His first "sale" was completed only four days after the program went on the air for CUNA. In that time, a listener sent in for a booklet outlining the group's objectives, a CUNA representative contacted management where the listener worked, and the entire credit union operation was installed and put into effect.

On the first four shows, more than 10,000 questionnaires were returned by interested listeners who had requested the free booklet. Their answers, providing credit union data for field representatives, gave CUNA leads for prospective credit unions.

CUNA, and credit unions generally, follow a plan originated in Europe 100 years ago, and which passed through Canada to the States in the early 1900s. The plan is to aid the worker in meeting his bills, saving for the future and cutting his borrowing costs. The credit union idea is based on the fact that a common bond exists among workers and individual companies and within each group of religious and club organizations. This provides the means for CUNA members to help each other as they help themselves. Other objectives along with that of organizing new credit unions are to urge greater participation by non-members in companies where credit unions now exist, and to broaden the insurance coverage on both savings and loans.

The national association is supported by assessments paid by the 58 Credit Union Leagues operated in the U. S., Canada, Puerto Rico and British West Indies. The leagues, in turn, are comprised of chapters consisting of groups of individual credit unions. The Credit Union National Assn. is the parent organization for CUNA Mutual Insurance Society.

MILTON BLAIR

Former Ellis Official Dies

MILTON J. BLAIR, 64, former vice president and secretary of Sherman K. Ellis & Co., New York agency, and one time member of the Advertising Council, died in Edgartown, Mass., Aug. 12.

Mr. Blair was with the Ellis agency from 1938 to 1943 when he retired because of illness. Later he joined the staff of the Advertising Council. Prior to 1938 he had been a vice president in the Chicago office of J. Walter Thompson Co. for 14 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Cora Blair; a daughter, Mrs. Alleyne C. Howell; and three sons, Charles J., John A. and F. Roberts Blair.

RECRUITING PACT

Agencies File Bids

REPLIES have been received from 64 of the 90-plus agencies invited by the Defense Dept. to bid for the $1 million recruitment advertising contract, it was revealed last week.

Questionnaires listing qualifications were sent by the Army and Air Force recruiting services to all advertising agencies with annual domestic billings of $5 million or more. Of the 64 replies received as of Thursday (Friday was the deadline) 28 said they would be interested in competing for the contract and 36 expressed disinterest.

After all replies are received, Military Personnel Procurement Division authorities will sift out a group of finalists who will make their presentations. Finalists may be chosen in the next fortnight.

The new contract is effective Oct. 1 at which time the present one with Grant Advertising Inc. expires [B•T, Aug. 4].

'PIONEER' SALES

30 Buy Thesaurus Show

RCA Recorded Program Services announced last week that RCA Thesaurus' Sons of the Pioneers show has been sold to 30 sponsors by subscriber stations. Ten sales were for 52 weeks and 12 for 26 weeks, the announcement said.

High sponsor response was attributed by RCA Recorded Program Services to the sales-aid package that was mailed to the stations as early as Aug. 1. The promotion package on the program—a quarter hour, five-day-a-week western program featuring cowboy and prairie music and songs—includes a sponsor-selling brochure, an audience-building promotion kit and a sales audition disc.

RADIO and TV scholarships worth $100 each were awarded fortnight ago to the two top students enrolled at the annual NBC-Northwestern U. Summer Radio and Television Institute in Chicago. Harry Kopf, NBC vice president, awarded the scholarships to Ulysses Carlini, instructor in speech and radio at DePaul U., Chicago, in radio, and to Albert M. Cohn, assistant professor of drama at Emerson College, Boston, in television.

at headquarters, cannot adopt any idea of the sort Mr. Storz proposes without careful study followed by action by the board and membership.

At many past district meetings and NARTB (NAB) conventions the members have adopted resolutions condemning rate-cutting practices. The NAB Broadcast Advertising Dept., abandoned in 1950 when Broadcast Advertising Bureau was set up in New York as a non-association activity, supported the association's oft-recorded opposition to rate-cutting.

"The rate-cutting problem is the greatest problem in broadcasting today," Mr. Storz told BROADCASTING • TELECASTING. "It is a much more serious threat to the future of the industry than television. Some stations probably should reduce their rates. Most stations should publish more rates on their cards. But all this will come automatically when and if the majority of stations decide to publish all rates available and to stick by the rates as published."

In submitting the seal plan to NARTB President Fellows, Mr. Storz pointed out that while many stations have held the line by selling at card rates, "a greater number of stations are virtually forced into 'special deals' to meet the competition and keep in business.

"The problem has become particularly acute in the last few months, and many advertisers are beginning to feel that a radio station's rate card means very little," Mr. Storz continued. "I believe that the association is a natural source to take steps to curtail the vicious practices now prevalent.

"You will note that the proposals in this letter have nothing to do with 'rate fixing' or any monopolistic price agreements. I certainly believe that each station should have the right to have complete and full control over its rates."

Mr. Storz described his idea as a plan by which stations voluntarily signify that they will sell time only at their published rates. Stations joining the group will still have the complete and full right to revise their rates in whatever manner, and whenever they desire.

NARTB itself would draw up the requirements for membership, Mr. Storz feels, adding that "there should be real teeth in it and the seal should have real meaning."

Looking at the effect on time-buyers, Mr. Storz said, "A station using the seal would be immediately recognized by timebuyers as selling only on their established rates, and if the plan was functioning properly, buyers would soon realize that it was fruitless to proposition stations using the seal for special deals."

In order to get the seal, Mr. Storz said, a station should do the following:

Furnish NARTB with a complete schedule of rates, and agree that all rates available will be published on a rate card and that all sales will be in accordance with the published rates. This includes both local and national, and a regional rate if one is used.

Each station asking for the seal would agree to mail to NARTB a copy of each and every contract made for sale of time.

If sales were made at less than published rates, or if a station neglected to send a copy of any contract to NARTB, permission to use the seal would be revoked, after the station was given a fair hearing in the matter.

The plan is simple from an administrative standpoint, Mr. Storz explained. At the station level it would only be necessary to make an extra carbon copy of each contract. At NARTB it would be necessary to file rates, and an employee on a parttime basis would spot check incoming contracts against rate data on file.

NARTB should adopt the plan immediately, in Mr. Storz's opinion, but he emphasized the need for "teeth," recalling that "many stations subscribed to the NARTB Standards of Practice, dutifully published the commercial content for programs of various length and then proceeded to completely ignore their own standards. That certainly should not be the case in this rate matter. The seal should positively identify stations as selling time only on their published rates.

"A great service to the industry will be rendered if NARTB will take steps looking toward an elimination of the present wholesale rate-cutting practices. A plan similar to this would be effective and very economical in operation for stations and NARTB alike from an administrative viewpoint."

Paramount Hearing Length

remain an issue, even though the evidence is deleted under the three-year limitation decision. DuMont also asked that the FCC reconsider its denial of the petition seeking severance of the control issue from the remainder of the Paramount case.

If the Commission does not rule favorably on the above, DuMont asked that the entire Aug. 1 order be rescinded as "vague, indefinite and contradictory" and as "an unreasonable and late modification of the issues."

The Aug. 1 order, DuMont said, was an "undue and arbitrary interference" with the examiner.

The Aug. 12 hearing was mainly concerned with corrections to the record and the tying up of loose ends. However, it was marked by a spirited argument by FCC Counsel Max Paglin that the Commission's three-year cutoff date did not apply to UPT and the new merged company because they were not licensees. He also argued that contradictory testimony should be resolved even though it concerned evidence stricken from the record.

Mr. Resnick ruled against Commission counsel on both points. He said that agreement with Mr. Paglin's viewpoint would nullify the intent of the Commission's Aug. 1 order—which was to expedite the proceedings.

The Commission's opinion last week found Comr. Hennock dissenting, and Comrs. Jones and Sterling not participating.

Miss Hennock does not believe there should have been a limitation put on the anti-trust evidence in the case, she explained, but was absent when the Aug. 1 order was voted on. That is why she dissented from last week's opinion, she said.

In clarifying the Scopphony question, the Commission in last week's opinion said in part:

We intended by this ruling to include as directly involving radio communications only those activities which involved the conduct of radio communications services or directly restrained the conduct of such services. Thus, a conspiracy to restrain radio broadcasting, or any other radio service, by restraining the flow of advertising or programs to broadcast stations would be an activity directly involving radio communications; on the other hand, a conspiracy to restrain the manufacture of radio apparatus, while it might have some indirect effect upon radio communications services, would not, within the meaning of our opinion, be considered an activity directly involving radio communications.

As to continuing the hearing, the Commission said:

With respect to the question of continuance, we note at the outset that the questions of the granting of continuances or the holding of the record open to give parties time to adduce additional evidence primarily call for the exercise of informed discretion by hearing examiners in the light of all the circumstances presented. We do not wish to hamper that discretion, even at the request of the hearing examiner. At the same time, however, we believe it proper to make certain general observations. We noted in our Memorandum Opinion and Order that 'We are convinced that every possible effort should be made, consistent with a full and fair hearing to all parties concerned, that these proceedings should be expedited.' A further extensive investigation and the prolonged continuances which that investigation would entail, would scarcely be consistent with the objective of a speedy determination of the proceeding. Consistent with such speedy determination, however, we believe that if any participant desires to present any evidence which has thus far not been presented, but which is now believed to be of importance in light of our Memorandum Opinion and Order, such participant should have reasonable opportunity to present that evidence and other participants should have appropriate opportunity to rebut it.

MINORITIES

Right of Expression Defended by Walker

"IF WE seek to deny the right of any minority in freedom of expression, then we are jeopardizing the sacred principle of American democracy that guarantees freedom of expression for all of us," FCC Chairman Paul A. Walker declared Monday in a talk on radio-TV and religion at the seventh annual radio workshop at the School of Religion, Butler U., Indianapolis.

The three-week workshop, sponsored by the Broadcasting & Film Commission of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., is being attended by religious leaders from 11 states and seven foreign countries.

Chairman Walker said that "if we are to preserve our historic stand for freedom of conscience, we must insist that the licensee of a broadcasting station be fair to the members of the various faiths in his community, for the frequency he uses is a publicly-owned frequency and he is not an owner but a steward."

"The Commission has always regarded the broadcasting of religious programs as being in the public interest," the FCC chairman stated. "I am happy to say that despite the numerous and delicate problems facing the licensees of 3,000 aural stations and more than 100 television stations in making time available for religious broadcasting in a land of 265 different denominations, they have achieved a remarkable record of service and fairness."

Religious Applicants on File

Pointing out that religious organizations "may apply for commercial channel assignments in AM, FM and TV" and "operate them either commercially or non-commercially," Chairman Walker noted that three religious institutions have applied for commercial TV stations. He cited Loyola U. (WWL), New Orleans; Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod (KFUO), Clayton, Mo., and Baptist General Convention of Texas, Corpus Christi.

"Like other licensees of commercial stations," the FCC chairman continued, "they may not operate these stations merely to propagate their own views and beliefs, but are expected to offer a well-balanced program service."

Although acknowledging television to be the most powerful medium of mass communication yet devised, Chairman Walker stated that AM radio is America's "universal, instantaneous medium of mass communication." He said:

While there have been some melancholy predictions as to the ultimate impact of television competition on radio, there is still a brisk demand for new stations. As of today, there are 300 applications for new stations on file with the Commission. More communities already have a radio station than have a daily newspaper of their own. Virtually every American home has at least one receiving set. In addition, 27,500,000 autos are equipped with radio sets. For all practical purposes, radio is America's universal, instantaneous medium of mass communication.

Noting that the "technological marvel of broadcasting" has been used elsewhere in the world not to enlighten people but to "stifle freedom," Chairman Walker concluded, "we have a solemn responsibility—all of us, broadcasters, religious leaders and the government licensing authority—to exert all our intelligence, our good will and our tolerance to insure that this instrument shall promote freedom, not injure it."

Custom Record Sales

SALES by the RCA Victor Custom Record Div. have reached a new high for the summer months, James P. Davis, manager of the division, announced Wednesday. He prophesied that August will be as active a selling month as June and July. "We ascribe the increase in sales activity to a more efficient, streamlined service, an improved production set-up and an effective summer selling campaign," Mr. Davis declared.

SPONSOR USES RADIO'S 'CISCO KID'

Cowboy Theme Introduces Hawaiian Bakery Product

A HONOLULU bakery which was looking for an effective way to introduce a new loaf of bread to the public hit upon a novel idea by its co-sponsorship of the Cisco Kid radio cowboy series there, using as a wrapper trademark the figure of "Paniola, the Hawaiian Cowboy," and distributing among dealers a promotional gimmick with the cowboy motif.

When Lorin W. Dolim, president-general manager of Snowflake Bakeries, Honolulu, saw the response to the Cisco Kid series on KULA Honolulu, ABC radio affiliate in that city, he decided to tie in his new Butter Crust white bread loaf with the American West theme.

Six-Shooter Promotion

On the day before Snowflake's inaugural ads, Jack Miller, Lund & Heitman Adv. commercial manager, who handles the account, forwarded to certain dealers a life-like "six-shooter" to which was attached, by a Cisco Kid saddle ring, a proof of the introductory ad. When the dealer pulled off the proof, a red streamer shot out, lettered with the words, "Hey pardner—pull the trigger on a fast sales-ringer!"

Snowflake reported an excellent response to the campaign, which included roping demonstrations at various markets by a real cowboy named Pedro, billed as "The Cisco Kid's Friend."

WHDH JULY SALES

Highest In Its History

INDEPENDENT WHDH Boston reported it had the "hottest" July in its history in billings, with national and local business up 14.8% over July 1951, previous high for that period. The 50 kw station also entered August with the largest amount of signed business in its history for that month, according to William McGrath, WHDH managing director.

"New national accounts are entering the spot radio field and others who left for a total fling at TV are putting some of their money back into the medium that still is the only one reaching all the people," Mr. McGrath said.

Citing the July 1952 Pulse which reported 22% of WHDH's total audience was located outside the home, Mr. McGrath said AM stations concerned about the coming of TV to their towns have "little to worry about if they stay continually aggressive, and stick to their guns, their facts—and their rate cards."

YOUNGSTERS from orphanages in the metropolitan New York area can thank Margaret Arlen, WCBS-TV New York star, for making their annual Orphans' Outing Day Tuesday at nearby Long Beach, L. I., a splashing success. Miss Arlen asked viewers of her television series (Mon.-Fri., 4-4:30 p.m. EDT) to send in bathing suits they didn't need for children aged 6 to 16. She received 2,283 suits and distributed them to the children at Long Beach on the day of the outing.

Making Hay

YOU can't make hay when the sun shines too much—that's what farmers have discovered in the rain-starved Ozark region. Faced with a crisis, they turned to radio—and the Missouri Farmers Assn.—for relief. MFA sponsors daily programs throughout the state, touching on farmers' problems. The Ozark lads called on Loyd Evans, farm director of KWTO Springfield, Mo., and MFA commentator, who requested listeners to send hay. Other stations joined in the campaign with the result, according to MFA in Columbia, Mo., that "the highways are full of hay rolling south."

Cited as 'Guidepost'

PUBLIC service programming of WBAL-AM-TV Baltimore has been cited as a "guidepost" for similar cooperation between the American Red Cross and other radio-TV stations throughout the country. Mrs. Jean Nowak, radio-TV director for the Red Cross' eastern area, expressed appreciation to the Hearst-owned station for donating public service time on a continuing basis. WBAL-TV was lauded for giving a live presentation of all Red Cross activities and services and for interest shown by Arnold Wilkes, public service director, and Anne Holland, his assistant, who is commentator for a weekly TV program.

EXAMPLES of radio's pulling power—and its use in the public interest—was reported by WPPA Pottsville, Pa., in connection with the city's drive to raise $450,000 for new industry. With $436,500 pledged for the campaign, it appeared that the saturation point had been reached. Station's staff combined with management and live talent, however, to give a series of marathons, including one all-night program. As a result, WPPA raised over half the sum needed ($7,670) and helped push the rest of the drive over the top. Station claims it was the first time an all-night radio marathon was used in central Pennsylvania.

TAYLOR STAYS
Until New SDPA Head Named

GEN. TELFORD TAYLOR, former FCC general counsel, has agreed to stay on as Small Defense Plants Administrator until his successor is named — perhaps by Sept. 10.

Gen. Taylor, who also was chief counsel for the Joint Committee on Educational Television, notified President Truman last week of his intention to resign [AT DEADLINE, Aug. 11]. He will return to private law practice in New York, he told newsmen.

Gen. Taylor was named SDPA chief last October, and pointed out he had stayed beyond the six or eight months he had agreed to serve.

After World War II, he served as chief American prosecutor at the Nuremberg trials in Germany. Before and after this appointment, Gen. Taylor had been mentioned for FCC membership vacancies. He was named chief counsel in 1940 during the chairmanship of James Lawrence Fly and took leaves of absence in succeeding years to assume other duties.

Political Drives Strategy Weighed

TELECASTING he probably will maintain a heavy commuting schedule while on leave of absence from the station. It was not known whether he planned to attend upcoming NARTB District 8 meeting, of which he is director.

Sizable time chunks have been reserved through blanket contracts for radio-TV time, according to Mr. Humphreys. Television's limited originating points in certain key cities may limit use of video, he said, adding that the national committee will "probably use more radio time but spend more for television." No budget figures are available, he said, although the GOP target is $4.8 million for overall campaigning.

Mr. Humphreys intimated that the GOP is just as far along on lining up radio-TV time as the Democrats. Late evening segments on the major radio-TV networks are earmarked for contract because there's less a problem of pre-emptions involved here, he feels. Mr. Humphreys has been maintaining close contact with the Kudner Agency. Time purchases imply use of segments not only for major speeches, but for special programs utilizing visual aids and other material.

Local Commitments Underway

Local commitments by diverse GOP groups also are underway. The Committee for Eisenhower, as an example, has bought a series of Sunday night programs on KTTV (TV) Los Angeles, running Aug. 17 (yesterday) through Nov. 2. Series is titled What's Ike Like?

The Eisenhower and Stevenson speeches before the American Legion in New York Aug. 25 and Aug. 27, respectively, were not set up through the GOP national committee machinery, indicating that networks will carry them as public service sustainers on an equal basis to each candidate. Gen. Eisenhower may elect to open his frankly political campaign in Philadelphia Aug. 28.

All campaign planning of the national committee and the Republican Congressional and Senatorial committees are being coordinated at the GOP Campaign Committee level. A definite program is taking shape for the House campaigns.

The Congressional Committee is supplying House candidates with recordings of 30-second and 60-second station break radio spot announcements. Each candidate will receive, without charge, at least one 16-inch record containing a wide variety of spots using effective sound effects and covering basic issues.

The one-minute spots will utilize services of two professional announcers dissecting a political issue to get the listeners' attention. Accompanying each record will be a suggested script to be read by the local announcer.

Material is slated for delivery Oct. 5, but candidates are urged to purchase spot time as soon as possible. Time segments during the breakfast and dinner hours were recommended.

A series of five-minute radio shows also are being prepared, with scripts covering vital campaign issues and utilizing "live voices" of Democratic leaders. "A dramatic and listener-catching effect which would be difficult to achieve in a straight radio speech" was promised. Delivery date is Sept. 20.

Candidates with TV facilities in their districts also will benefit through the Congressional Committee's preparation of station break spots on 16mm film. Basic format is the tie-in method used for radio announcements.

"TV time is difficult to purchase," the committee points out, calling on candidates again to purchase TV spot time early, preferably adjacent to end-of-the-day newscasts or early evening hours. Delivery is promised Oct. 5.

With respect to programs, the committee points out that "television shows must move" and that "speech-making, common to radio, is not good TV." Panel or question-and-answer type formats have been used though not too successfully, the committee felt.

Cost-Cut Preparation

In a move to hold down costs, the committee has prepared 5-minute and 15-minute TV scripts, together with charts, photographs and slides. Use of the 16mm film, "The Case for a Republican Congress," telecast on NBC-TV May 2, also was suggested. Production of 5-, 10- or 15-minute TV film spots is underway. Candidates were invited to submit their reactions to committee headquarters because of "cost and other factors." Delivery of packet material is set for Sept. 30.

Only inkling of activity on the Senatorial level was evidenced by Michael V. DiSalle, former price stabilizer and now a candidate for the seat of Sen. John Bricker (R-Ohio) in the November elections. He announced plans for a series of radio and TV programs during which he would answer questions telephoned to him by the listening-viewing audience. He may open the series in Columbus next month, though his limited funds and availability of air time posed two problems.

Meanwhile, Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney (D-Okla.) expressed hope last week that Congress would revise election laws on campaign expenditures. Under present law, Senators are limited to a $25,000 ceiling and House members $10,000. A Senate Election subcommittee studied a series of bills intended to remedy this failing during the last session but took no concrete action.

It wasn't too many months ago that it became necessary for every radio station to make a complete run on frequency response, distortion, noise, hum and frequency shift every four months. We were to have this technical information on hand for the inspector to see on his visits. Now it is suggested that every radio station of 10 kw or less not using directional facilities need not even have on its staff a man who can even read the curves, let alone make one. ...

EDITOR:

... I say let the station owners who are yelling for a third class holder to be allowed to operate without supervision look at the files of stations who are offering a livable wage and see just how many good, competent first class tickets are on the waiting list as prospective employees. Just last week I was talking to the owner of a 5 kw station that is paying $90 a week for first class engineers, and he said that they have a waiting list of applicants all the time, and any time he has need of a man he has at least 20 to choose from.

Does this look like a shortage? The only shortage at the present time is the shortage of enough stations that are willing to pay a man enough to live on. If these stations would up their offers about $20 a week, I'll bet they'd get plenty of applicants.

EDITOR:

Although this comment is a little late on the operator requirements issue, I think it covers an argument not before touched in the dispute.

First-class ticket holders are frequently the only personnel in a station that have any regard at all for FCC rules and regulations regarding programming (in combo operations) and transmitter requirements.

As a matter of fact, the first-class operator is the greatest control the FCC has over the operation of a station, simply because the operator knows full well that willful mis-operation can cost him his ticket and livelihood. A man who has obtained a third-class ticket by declaration or even examination is not a man who regards the operational side of radio a career. ... His interest in the proper operation of the equipment within the regulations wanes from vague curiosity to indifference as time passes. ...

monthly when the NRA came into being.

Standard Brands hired Mr. Norman as one of a group of college men on an experimental basis. When he left that company in 1937, he was the only one left of the original group. By that time he was assistant manager of the Standard Brands branch office on Chicago's West Side.

When he joined A. C. Nielsen Co. in 1937, his travels really began. Completing a training course in Chicago, he was sent to Los Angeles, and with that base, traveled the Western United States, laying out the Nielsen samples.

Eventually he got a roving assignment, relieving vacationing Nielsen field men. It was on this job he traveled 50 weeks of the year in 44 states.

It also was during these travels, while in New Orleans, he met Virginia Carolan, a striking brunette from Booneville, Ark. She became Mrs. Norman April 18, 1941. The Norman family today also includes Donald Jr., 10, and Doug, 8.

Now married, he was ready to settle down. A. C. Nielsen co-operated by limiting assignments to the West Coast, making him a field supervisor. But this still meant traveling. Mr. Norman resigned in Sept. 1943, to become an NBC spot salesman.

In May 1944 he moved from San Francisco to Hollywood; in February the following year he went to New York, eventually to become sales manager of WEA, soon to become WNBC.

During his WNBC days Mr. Norman and Thomas B. McFadden began an association which made them one of NBC's most effective teams. When Mr. McFadden was manager of WNBC and WNBT, he appointed Don Norman his assistant. Upon Mr. McFadden's shift to Hollywood in 1950 as manager of KNBH, it was natural his assistant should join him as sales manager.

Upon Mr. McFadden's return to New York last April to become director of NBC national spot sales, Mr. Norman succeeded him as KNBH general manager.

Although willing to go wherever NBC may send him, the energetic Don Norman is happy with his home in Glendale and hopes his long Odysseys are over. As an executive he goes from crisis to crisis, quietly and in a business-like fashion, solving problems. He rarely works late, and if forced to, feels he has failed as an organizer.

Pleased and excited to be part of a great new medium, the young executive believes TV barely has scratched the surface of its ultimate potentialities.

Neither a joiner nor a hobbyist, he admits playing golf in the 80s and low 90s at the Lakeside Country Club.

to the Cleaners

Dry cleaners, Yerbury-Dana Co., with 3 stores, 4 routes serving Quint-Cities, has sponsored "Good News" on WOC since February, 1950... five 5-minutes weekly, with Mary Louise Marshall handling woman-slanted commentary.

Firm's only media advertising, "Good News," has increased business to extent that new finishing equipment had to be installed. Has sparked many special promotions... e.g.: last Fall, Yerbury made special dry cleaning offer on sweaters. Ordered 1000 cellophane bags for packaging these sweaters. Heard there was shortage of such bags, so ordered additional 1000 from another firm.

Both supply houses delivered; Yerbury had 2000 bags on hand—plus doubts that there were that many sweaters in area needing cleaning.

BUT "GOOD NEWS" TURNED THE TRICK. Helped deliver the necessary customers in less than 3 weeks... and there were 2000 freshly cleaned in the Quint-Cities. Take your cue from Yerbury-Dana... buy at their local "cash register level" and you'll buy on this station.
