AN EXCITING BASEBALL GAME...

... HAS A DISASTROUS CLIMAX...

LATER...

GOSH, BILLY, MAYBE YOU SHOULDN'T HAVE CRASHED THROUGH AFTER THAT BALL! I BET MR. JONES WORKED A LONG TIME ON HIS GARDEN, 'N NOW IT'S SPOILED!

AW, FORGET IT. ALLERGY... SAY, WHY DON'T YOU STOP AT MY HOUSE AND SEE THE LATEST MODEL PLANE I'M WORKING ON? IT'S KEEN!

MY AIRPLANE MODEL-- IT'S BROKEN! WHO DID THIS?

OH, BILLY, IT'S TOO BAD. THE BABY THREW HIS BALL AND KNOCKED IT OFF THE TABLE. IT WAS AN ACCIDENT.

IT'S TOUGH, BILLY, BUT I GUESS THE BABY'S TOO LITTLE YET TO STOP AND THINK. MAYBE I CAN HELP YOU FIX IT UP.

THANKS, ALLERGY. BUT FIRST, LET'S PAY MR. JONES A VISIT. I UNDERSTAND BETTER NOW HOW HE MUST FEEL.

DON'T THANK US, MR. JONES. IT'S THE LEAST WE COULD DO. WE'RE OLD ENOUGH TO STOP AND THINK.

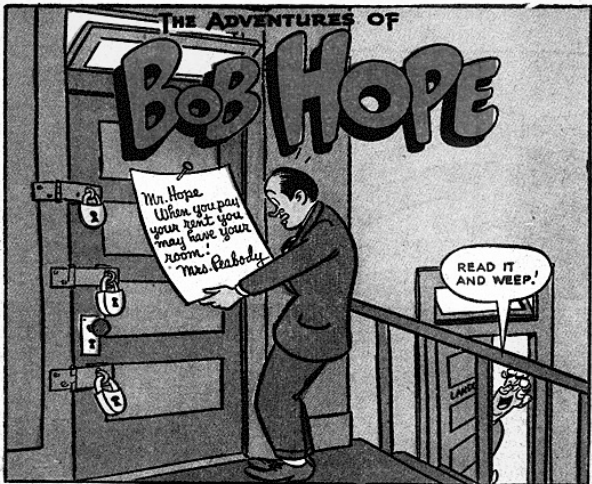

YEAH--THAT'S ONE OF THE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN BABIES AND US KIDS WHO ARE MORE GROWN UP.

LEARNING TO BE THOUGHTFUL AND NOT CAUSE OTHERS EXTRA WORK AND WORRY IS A SURE SIGN OF GROWING UP! SO TAKE A TIP FROM BILLY AND ALLERGY.

THE WONDERFUL WALTZES OF RICHARD RODGERS

OH, WHAT A BEAUTIFUL MORNING
FALLING IN LOVE WITH LOVE
LOVER
IT'S A GRAND NIGHT FOR SINGING
I'M IN LOVE WITH A WONDERFUL GUY
THIS NEARLY WAS MINE
OUT OF MY DREAMS
CAROUSEL WALTZ

Earlier this year, Paul Britten and his Orchestra offered a wonderful album collection of "Noel Coward Favorites" which thousands of record fans found exciting. You'll find this new album survey of "The Wonderful Waltzes of Richard Rodgers" even more striking. The eight great waltz titles herein contained are listed above. Arrangements are exciting, the performances are perfection itself, and the recorded sound is top-notch. Entertaining listening of a high order.

8. TIN ROOF BLUES

"At The Jazz Band Ball" there's Dixieland done in the way your ears and your feet like to find it. One of the great Dixie groups of our day—Preacher Rollö and The Five Saints—have gathered together eight two-beat standards here and they play the living daylight out of them. The group has given us some swell albums before this, but, somehow, we think this is the topper thus far. In case you've forgotten, Rollo and the Saints are Rollo Laytan, drums; Marie Marcus, piano; Tony Parenti, clarinet; Tommy Justice, cornet; Jay Gorman, trombone; and Al Mariucci, bass.

KEYBOARD KINGS

2. YESTERDAYS
3. ST. LOUIS BLUES
4. THE LADY IS A TRAMP
5. ELEGIE (Massenet)
6. WHEN YOUR LOVER HAS GONE
7. THE BLUE ROOM
8. TAKING A CHANCE ON LOVE

Here's the latest addition to MGM's stellar album series "Keyboard Kings"—and we guarantee it's one of the best! Talented Ken Clarke has plenty of bright, original pianistic comments to make on the neatly-varied eight numbers he parades here. We found his ivory-tickling especially striking in "The Lady Is A Tramp" and "Elegie"—but you'll find your own favorites along the way!

Columbia Records Issue "Kismet" Album

Some years ago a teen-age pair of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical arrangers were commissioned to make a Hollywood film operetta out of some music by Tchaikovsky. The music was mostly Tchaikovsky's Fifth Symphony; the operetta was "Maytime", which starred Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald; the young arrangers, Robert Wright and Charles Forrest, promptly became Hollywood authorities on operettas and classical composers. In the next seven years they did three dozen musical films for which they wrote such gems as

"The Donkey Serenade" and "At the Balalaika."

Then the Messrs. Wright and Forrest decided to "retire" from the movies and take to the Broadway stage.

Edwin Lester, impresario of the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera Association, approached the team with the idea of doing a musical based on compositions by Grieg. This turned out to be "Song of Norway," a highly successful production. Next, at Mr. Lester's behest they did "Magdalena," based on music by Villa-Lobos. When Mr. Lester decided that he wanted to do a musical version of that Near Eastern melodrama, "Kismet," he naturally invited Wright and Forrest to do the musical adaptation.

But whose music? It was a choice between Tchaikovsky, Rimsky-Korsakov and Borodin. Borodin won. Wright and Forrest proceeded to study his music. They became "musical chameleons," steeped themselves in all available Borodin compositions.

Out of an incomplete opera, "Prince Igor," a string quartet, assorted songs, piano and orchestral pieces they ferreted fragments of music and pieced them together for a score. The verse for "Stranger in Paradise," (a Hit Parade best-seller by the time "Kismet" opened in New York) is from a song, "From My Tears Spring Flowers." The rest is from the "Polovtsian Dances." So are "Not Since Nineveh" and "He's in Love." Borodin's Symphony No. 2 was the source of "Fate" and a piano composition titled "Serenade" provided "Night of My Nights." From the last act of "Prince Igor" came the melody for "Rhymes Have I," and from his Love Duet Messrs. Wright and Forrest adapted "The Olive Tree." The D Major Quartet yielded "Was I Wazier" and "And This Is My Beloved." "On The Steppes of Central Asia" will be recognized in "Sands of Time."

After the opening night huzzas for the brilliant new version of "Kismet" had quieted down somewhat, someone jokingly asked producer Charles Lederer if he thought that Borodin was just a one-hit-show composer. Had anyone queried Wright and Forrest they would probably have said "Yes! There isn't enough Borodin music left after "Kismet" for another show."

Fifteen unforgettable songs direct from the Warner Brothers sound-track of "The Eddie Cantor Story" are available exclusively in a Capitol album this month. One of the world's most popular and beloved showmen, Eddie Cantor sings "If You Knew Susie," "Margie," "Makin' Whoopee," "One Hour With You," "Ida," "Bye, Bye Blackbird" and "Now's the Time to Fall in Love."

Early next month the film portrayal of Cantor's fabulous career will be released throughout the country.

Cantor grew up on the east side of New York City. Both his mother and father died before he was two years old. He began his career singing and mimicking on street corners and on his first amateur show at Miner's Bowery Theatre he walked off with first prize—five dollars. This convinced the big-eyed youngster that he was meant for show business.

He took a job as singing waiter in a Coney Island cafe where Jimmy Durante was pianist and from there graduated into a big-time juggling act. In Atlantic City he got his big break, at a stag party for a yacht club, with a troupe that included George Jessel and Walter Winchell. Later he obtained a small part in a musical comedy, "Canary Cottage," and then in 1919 Florenz Ziegfeld featured him in his famous "Follies." The next ten years were golden ones for Cantor; he starred in Ziegfeld's "Kid Boots," "Whoopee" and many others.

However, in 1929 Cantor found himself broke with no plans for the future. Then he made an appearance on the NBC Rudy Vallee variety show, and a few months later he was heading his own Sunday program. He is generally credited with revolutionizing radio presentation technique with an innovation now taken for granted. He insisted on a live audience.

In the past year Eddie Cantor has invaded television and proved to be, as in radio, a national favorite.

Possibly his is one of the nation's best-known marriages. His romance with his wife, Ida, began when he was 13 years old and carried her books home from school. They were married in 1914, and with their five daughters, recently celebrated Cantor's 60th birthday and his 42nd year in show business.
