Why Was I Born?

M-G-M's delightfully different mood album comes your way here! Taking a cue from the sentiments of several great standard songs, LeRoy Holmes has gathered together a lovely swatch of "Music for Crazy Mixed-Up People"—setting it forth in lush, languorous arrangements just right for those moments when you'd like to relax from the stress and strife of a work-a-day world! The cover is really eye-catching and the accompanying notes are divertingly amusing! A "conversation piece" album, if there ever was one, with lasting listening pleasure built-in.

HI-FI DIXIELAND

ART MOONEY and The Dixieland All-Stars

Just A Closer Walk With Thee
Dixieland Rock 12th Street Rag
South Rampart Street Parade

It's "Hi-Fi Dixieland"—solid, tempting two-beat fare that's nostalgic in feel, yet cracklingly modern from the standpoint of striking up-to-date sound reproduction! Art Mooney has gathered together here a band of musicians that really qualifies for the designation "Dixieland All-Stars"—and, man, do they play! The musical fare mixes neatly a group of old Dixie standards with some newer items that will be fresh and welcome to your ears. You can really give that hi-fi rig a workout with this one! On the yellow M-G-M label.

MOVIE SOUND TRACKS FEATURED IN RCA VICTOR FEBRUARY ALBUM RELEASE

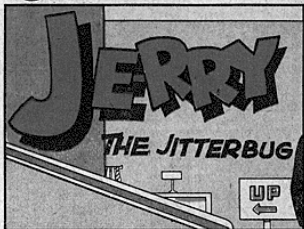

The first of four film sound tracks scheduled for February release by RCA Victor is "The Seven Hills of Rome," starring Mario Lanza. In his first foreign-made film, the popular tenor displays both his dramatic talent and his magnificent voice.

Side 1 of the album contains the high spots of the original sound track which was recorded in Rome. The selections range from the operatic "Questa o quella" from Rigoletto to the popular "Arrivederci Roma." Included on Side 2 is a newly recorded melody, "Never Till Now," from the motion picture "Raintree County," plus five other popular singles previously recorded by Lanza.

Give "safety thru skill." Train me to handle, shoot a gun properly. Daisy is the best for this. Since 1888 Daisy has used the same safer spring-type action—the safer short range—the safer low "factory limited" power. It is NOT a lethal pneumatic, gas, pellet or compressed air gun. I have checked the Daisy Training Rifle. I want for my birthday.
