WIN THIS FULL-SIZE GEMINI SPACECRAFT

REVELL'S GEMINI SWEEPSTAKES

First Prize... a Gemini Spacecraft!

No put-on. This is for real—the wildest, way out prize ever awarded in any contest: a 19-foot prototype of the famed NASA spacecraft. Your Gemini capsule is just like the original. There's a detachable hatch, equipment section, and retro-fire package. Accurate from the ground up! When you win Gemini you'll be at the airport when it arrives in a "Flying Guppy" Aero Spacelines plane. Your name and picture will be in newspapers and magazines all over the country. How will it feel to present your spacecraft to your city for a park or museum? Famous, that's how. There's more. As the grand prize winner, you'll receive a professional Vox "Serenader" guitar—plus, every Revell Model Kit! Sounds great.

630 TOTAL PRIZES! 29 Second Prizes! Vox guitars are winners. Ask the Beatles, the Rolling Stones or Paul Revere and the Raiders. And every second prize winner gets a Vox "Serenader," the wild six-stringer with the big beat sound that's "in" from L.A. to Liverpool.

600 Third Prizes! Five hundred lucky third prize winners will receive a six-kit package of Revell plane and ship model kits. And one hundred others will get the big, realistic Gemini Kit. Blast off!

HOW TO ENTER: All you have to do is send in the end panel (or reasonable facsimile) from any Revell Model Kit to Revell with your name and address on the reverse side. Enter as many times as you wish. It's that simple. So do it now! The Gemini Sweepstakes officially closes on May 15, 1967. Get with it.

Winners will be selected after June 1, 1967. All entries become the property of Revell, Inc. and none can be returned. Judges' decision final. Contest subject to local, state and Federal laws, and void where prohibited. Revell employees, employees of distributors, dealers or their immediate families are ineligible.

Revell Inc. 4325 Glencoe Ave., Venice, California.

HOUSE OF MYSTERY

MEET THE WEIRDEST AND SCARIEST GUY IN THE FANTASTIC RAINBOW RAIDERS!

DC

Hi Fans!

Tad told me what happened in school today. The class had been warned they'd have an oral test in poetry, so good old Badger Goldliver wrote the answers on the inside of the waistband of his pants. When the teacher called on him for some of the answers, he casually hooked his forefingers into his belt, and pulling down the waistband, he was able to read off all the names and dates he'd inscribed.

Everything was going okay until the teacher asked him the name of the famous American poet known for his works about Abraham Lincoln. Badger took a quick glance at the lining of his pants, and before he realized what he was saying, snapped back: "Robert Hall!"

Last week, Badger's father got a letter from his math teacher, telling him that junior was failing in the course. So Pop angrily called up the teacher to know why his bright heir was flunking. "My dear, Mr. Goldliver," said the angry instructor. "On the latest exam, your son received 21 out of a possible 100 points. It may interest you to know, sir, that in a recent research experiment, a chimpanzee scored 37 on the same test!"

But that Badger is a real spoiled, rich teen-age fink. The other day he was slumped dejectedly in a chair when his old man came home from a hard day counting his money and oil wells, and asked his mother, "What's eating him?"

Mama uttered a sigh of resignation. "He wants to go down to the drug store, but he can't. The car won't start!"

Say, speaking of cars, our lad Tad is such a square, he must drive a warm-rod!

But nothing's too good for Mr. G.'s little boy Badger, you know. Years ago, when he wanted to learn how to spell, his old man hired a college marching band to spell-out words for him!

When the family took a trip to Niagara Falls, he wasn't fazed one bit when one of the awed spectators said, "What a beautiful sight. I bet you've never seen anything like that before!"

"You're right," Badger shot back. "We've got a plumber back home who could stop that leak in 10 minutes!"

But Badger must've inherited his personality—as well as his millions—from his father. I'm told the old feller visited a dentist, who told him, "Your teeth are in perfect shape. There's no work necessary. They don't even need polishing."

"Start drilling anyhow," said Pop. "I feel lucky today!"

What a guy! Last week, he bought a Cadillac and paid for it with a ten-thousand-dollar bill. "Give me my change," he said to the salesman, "in Volkswagens."

Believe me, he's so rich, he's the only guy I know who bathes in a solid gold bathtub and leaves 14-karat rings.

And once I heard him complain that he owns a gold mine, but it's no good. Oil keeps coming out!

Believe me, old man Goldliver lights up a whole room—when he walks out of it!

And his hefty son is no bargain either. "You wanna lose 15 pounds of ugly fat?" he was asked when complaining of overweight. "Cut off your ugly head!"

Some day that kid is going to find himself, and is he going to be disappointed!

I think that girl he dated recently hit the nail on the head when she told Badger, "You remind me of the ocean."

"Why?" said Badger snuggling up to her. "Because I'm so wild, romantic, and magnificent?"

"No, because you make me sick."

What a kid! He likes to stay up late nights, watching baseball games. The other morning, after he failed to hear the alarm clock ring, one of the servants hurried in to wake him up for school.

"Master Badger," he said, shaking him gently.

"Get up, sir! It's five to seven!" And Badger, his eyes still puffed with sleep, mumbled back,

"In whose favor?"

That's all for now, kiddies, and if you're looking for a laugh till I get back, I want to recommend that you buy my buddy Jerry's book next month. It's called "The Adventures of JERRY LEWIS," but I call it the best bargain in belly-laughs. Not for a half-dollar, not for a quarter. Would you believe 12 cents?

Make all kinds of icky, sticky things to wear... bloodshot eyeballs, scars, mustaches, drooling lips, monster fangs, and more. You make them with Mattel's new Fright Factory Thingmaker.* It comes with a Thingmaker, molds, 4 colors of Plastigoop* ... everything you need to make yourself into a new monster every day.

And while you're out scaring the neighborhood, why not fill it with slinky, creepy, ugly bugs and beetles and lizards and centipedes. The kind you make with Mattel's famous Creepy Crawlers Thingmaker.
