DIRECT CURRENTS

Well, this is the BIG month! This is the time when Superman gets his greatest change in many years—possibly in his entire career! But that's not all—far from it! We have new Giant issues . . . a new feature in ADVENTURE . . . a fantastic team-up in SUPERBOY . . . and plenty more. Oh, yes . . . before I get into this month's line-up, I want to tell you there will be TWO new mags from the great Jack Kirby next month—THE FOREVER PEOPLE and THE NEW GODS! Watch for 'em!

Sgt. Rock and Easy Company find a terrifying mystery in the North African desert—an American force wiped out . . . and their bodies stripped of equipment. Maybe a sheik can tell them . . . and maybe he has a reason for not wanting them to find . . . the answer to this startling puzzle. Even men accustomed to war are shocked by this callous murder and robbery, in the January issue of OUR ARMY AT WAR (#227), on sale Nov. 3.

Hawk, the SON OF TOMAHAWK, is back with more power-packed Western thrills, along with his dad, his kid brother . . . and two of Tomahawk's Rangers, Stovepipe and Big Anvil! Want to find out what happened to these men after their service in America's war for independence? It's here—and it will stun you! It certainly had that effect when editor Joe Kubert and writer Bob Kanigher told me about it! #132 (February), on the stands November 3!

JERRY LEWIS goes out West to visit Uncle Yahoo and gets mixed up in a madcap series of complications involving the local yokels and an Indian tribe, in "High Man on a Totem Pole." Then Jer gets entangled in a web of espionage and intrigue, and winds up playing the role of—a prima ballerina!! Yep—there are plenty of "ballet-laugh" in this issue of the World's Funniest Comic—February, #122, on sale Nov. 12.

Artist Jim Aparo and author Steve Skeates strike again in the February AQUAMAN! In "Return of the Alien," the Sea King goes back to the dimensional world to clear up some unfinished business from issue 52. Then there's "Computer Trap"—the tale of a dead civilization and the only "living" thing left in it . . . a computer that gives Aquaman the struggle of his life! It's issue 55, on sale November 3!

LOIS LANE is transformed into snow . . . Superman doesn't know it . . . she can't move or speak . . . and she's melting! No wonder "The Snow-Woman Wept!" That's the title of the tale that headlines the January issue of this mag, #107, on the stands Nov. 12. But there's more—Rose and the Thorn, in an action-packed epic called "My Executioner Loves Me!" And it means just that—the killer hired by the 100 to "hit" the Thorn falls for her. Now the mob is out to get both of them!

"SUPERMAN Breaks Loose" in the January issue of his magazine (#233)! A strange experiment rids Earth of the Man of Steel's greatest nemesis, Green Kryptonite! That should make him happy, right? Not necessarily! You see, that same experiment has spawned a frightful, new menace for the Metropolis Marvel! What is it? And how does it affect Superman? You'll get your first look at the strangest thing ever to threaten the Man of Might when this goes on sale, Nov. 5!

Imagine the Batman and Robin trapped in a giant bowling alley . . . with a mammoth ball rolling right toward them! Or underwater, with a machine gun set to blast them the instant they come up for air! These are only two of the many traps for the Dynamic Duo in the February GIANT BATMAN (G-79; issue 228). You'll see them caught by a clever big-game hunter; on the spot in a town run by criminals; menaced by a huge mechanical bat . . . by the Batplane . . . even by the Batcave itself! On sale Nov. 10!

Joe Orlando has two eerie entries for this month. First comes the February HOUSE OF MYSTERY (#190), with more spine-tingling tales told by Cain the Caretaker. That's on sale Nov. 10. Next, a PHANTOM STRANGER chiller in which glowing triangles appear in the sky all over the world. And people expressing hate suddenly vanish! The Phantom Stranger tracks the phenomenon to Egypt via Israel, in his February issue (#11), on sale Nov. 17.

Johnny Cloud, the Navaho ace, goes berserk and threatens the lives of his fellow Losers! Must Capt. Storm, Gunner and Sarge kill their partner to keep him from killing them? It's a thrill-a-second battle blockbuster that'll have you on the edge of your chair right up to the smash ending. That's why the February issue of OUR FIGHTING FORCES (#129) is must reading for all fans of blazing action and searing emotion! On sale Nov. 10.

A LETTER FROM JERRY

B-823

Hi Fans!

There are some things that happened that I didn't tell you about in "High Man on a Totem Pole." For instance, we took the train and ate dinner that first night in the dining car.

"Hey, waiter!" I said to him, eyeing the plate in front of me. "One of this chicken's legs is shorter than the other."

"So what?" he snapped back at me. "You gonna eat the chicken or DANCE with it?"

Which reminds me of one of the times Uncle Yahoo came to visit us. We knew what that meant; he'd say he'd only stay a couple of days and stretch it out to a month. So Renfrew and I worked out a plan so he'd just HAVE to leave. At the table, we'd start a fight, forcing Yahoo to take sides. If he sided with Renfrew, I'd make him go, and vice-versa.

The three of us sat down then I "accidentally" dropped a plate of spaghetti in Renfrew's lap.

"What'samatter with you, you clumsy creep!" yelled Renfrew.

"Don't talk to me like that!" I hollered back.

"I will so! You're a helpless idiot! I never saw such a weirdo!"

"I'M helpless? What about your marks in school? What about your clothes and your shoes you drop off and leave all over the place? Who picks 'em up and gets 'em cleaned? If I didn't, they'd stay there till they ROT! And where's your thanks? Where's your respect for an adult? Let's hear what Uncle Yahoo has to say!"

"Ah ain't sayin' nothin," said Yahoo, digging into his pork chops. "Ah'm stayin' a couple more months!"

The first time we went out west to visit him, I stopped to talk to an Indian, sprawled out near the station as we got off the train. "Is that all you do? Why don't you get yourself a job?"

He looked up at me, sleepily. "Why?"

"So you can make money."

"Why?"

"So you can make enough to retire and never have to work again!"

"Paleface make foolish talk. Me don't work NOW!"

Another Indian came up to me and asked if I wanted to buy a blanket for $10. "That's too much," I said.

"Nine dollars," he said.

"Still too much."

"Seven dollars and 50 cents," he said, hopefully.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," I countered. "I'll give you

$24 for the whole lot."

"What are you, a wise guy?" he answered. "Bargains like Manhattan Island you ain't gonna get!"

Uncle Yahoo came along and took us to his ranch. One of his Indian hired hands came into the house and asked for a bottle of cough syrup.

"Somebody sick in the bunkhouse?" asked Yahoo.

"No sick."

"Then why in tarnation d'ya want cough syrup?"

"Me likeum on PANCAKES!"

Later, we went out to the stables to saddle up and ride the trail. I guess I was fussy, picking out a horse. I kept rejecting one after the other. Finally, I saw a stallion that looked okay.

"Is this one a thoroughbred?" I asked.

Yahoo snorted. "Thoroughbred? Listen here, Jerry, if this here critter could talk, he wouldn't speak to EITHER of us!"

By the way, the smartest horse in the world was owned by Buffalo Bill, Yahoo told me. The old feller fell off his horse once and was knocked unconscious, right in the path of a herd of thundering buffalo. The horse dragged Buffalo Bill to safety, covered him with a blanket, nudged a canteen of water near his hand, then raced off to find a doctor. Buffalo Bill used to say he did a right smart thing, but there was only one trouble. He came back with a HORSE doctor!

Far off in the distance, Yahoo pointed out his neighbor's big, lush spread with thousands of heads of cattle. "And with all that, the poor old coot who owned it died last week," he added. "It was some funeral. Cost $5,500."

"That's a lot of money," I said.

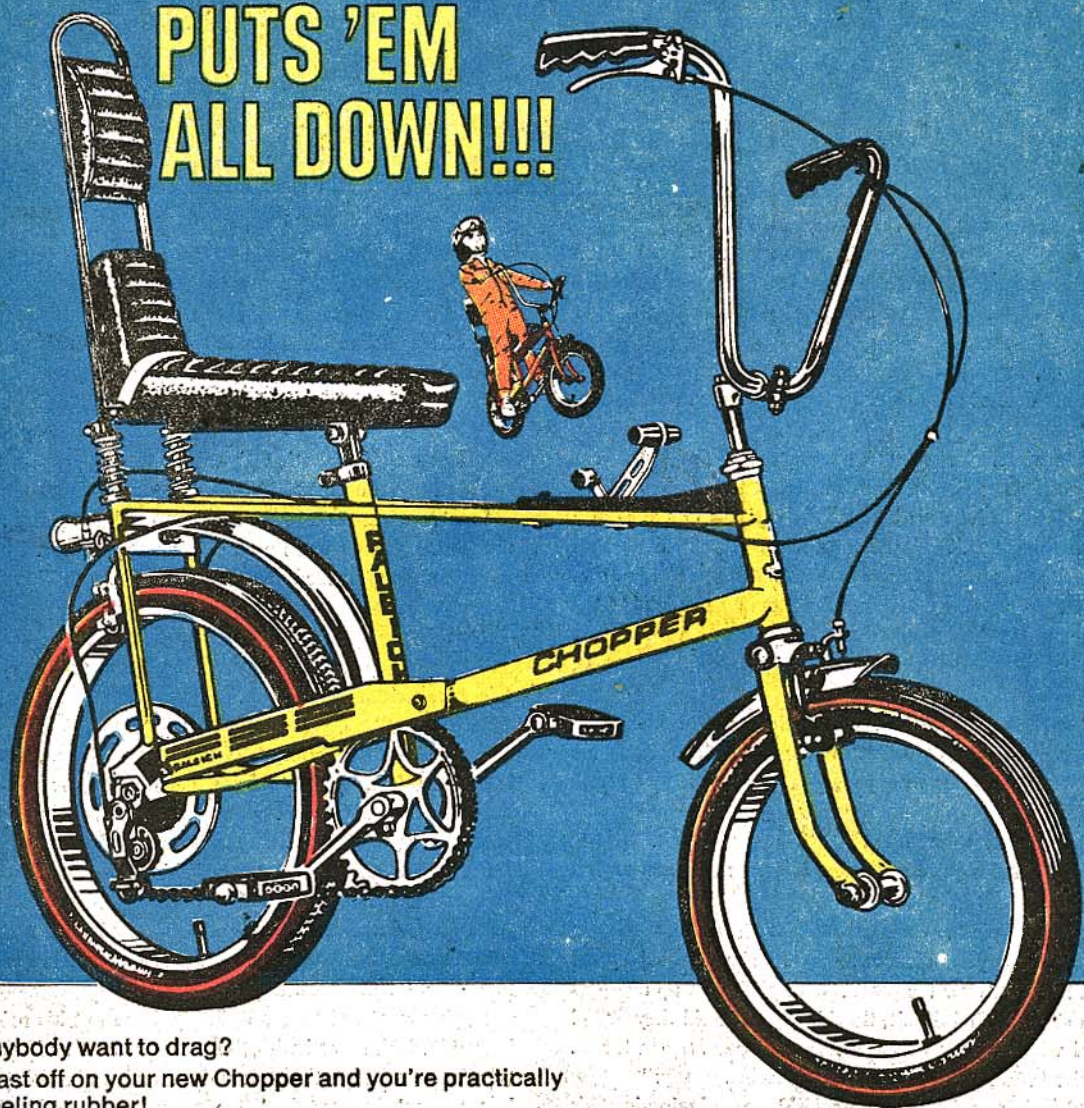

"Yeah," he drawled. "For a few hundred more, he coulda been buried in an AIR-CONDITIONED CADILLAC!"

While riding, we came across a scowling feller in khakis and a Stetson. He was watching smoke signals spiral up towards the sky. "He's the air-pollution control inspector," explained Yahoo. "Them Indians have just GOT to stop sending smoke signals!"

And when we got back to the ranch, I overheard one of Yahoo's Indian hands telling his young son, "One day soon, all this land will belong to us again. White men all go to the moon!"

POWERSLICKS®

Powerslicks. Cars so big and fast, we had to find ways to control them.

So we bolted on mag wheels and racing slicks. Big, fat racing slicks for better control. Less fish-tailing. Fewer spin-outs.

We built a special powertrack system so you can put the power where you need it most. And save your batteries for the tight spots.

Powerslicks. Big, freewheeling machines that coast till they hit the powertrack. Then you hit the control button, and Powerslicks go like crazy.

And that's what it's all about. Racing slicks, powertrack. Powerslicks.

Cars so fast, we had to find ways to control them.
