NAB REPORTS

Copyright, 1934, The National Association of Broadcasters

Vol. 3 - No. 11
FEB. 21, 1935

COPYRIGHT CONFERENCE SATURDAY

The views of the broadcasting industry upon the proposed adherence by the United States to the International Copyright Union treaty will be laid before the Department of State by the National Association of Broadcasters next Saturday morning. Later the views of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers will be given to the Department.

The conferences at the Department have been called at the request of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which body has before it the question of ratification of the Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Property. The Department is drafting a revision of the present copyright laws of the United States to enable this country to adhere to the copyright convention.

Virtual agreement has been reached between the motion picture exhibitors, hotels and broadcasters with respect to provisions of the proposed bill and these interests will present their recommendations to the Department at the same time. Labor, newspaper publishers and other interests will likewise present their views.

These conferences constitute the most important development in the copyright situation in many years. The Department of State, urged by the Roosevelt Administration, which has already urged ratification of the treaty, is endeavoring to compose the opposition of various groups in order that it may within the next few days make specific recommendations to the Senate.

The broadcasters will present a number of amendments to the proposed draft of a bill the principal amendment being elimination of the $250 statutory damages provision of the present copyright laws.

The NAB will recommend that copyright owners be given the right to collect only such damages as they are able to prove in a court of law rather than a statutory amount.

PRESIDENT RECOMMENDS NRA EXTENSION

President Roosevelt sent to the Senate this week a strong message recommending that Congress pass legislation extending for two years the National Industrial Recovery Act. The act, if it is not extended, would expire on June 16 by its own limitation.

The President's message was interpreted here to mean that the administration is not only desirous of continuing the NRA but that it proposes to tighten up administration of codes.

The President used such language as: "The fundamental purposes and principles of the Act are sound. To abandon them is unthinkable. It would spell the return of industrial and labor chaos."

Dealing with the question of voluntary enforcement he said that "voluntary submission of codes should be encouraged but at the same time, if an industry fails voluntarily to agree within itself, unquestioned power must rest in the government to establish in any event certain minimum standards of fair competition in commercial practices, and, especially, adequate standards in labor relations. For example, child labor must not be allowed to return; the fixing of minimum wages and maximum hours is practical and necessary." On the labor question the President said:

"The rights of employees freely to organize for the purpose of collective bargaining should be fully protected."

Right in this connection Donald Richberg at a press conference stated that in his personal opinion, evidently shared by the administration, that the present section 7(a) will work out alright. He stated that there would be no need of changing this section at all, unless it can be clarified. It was apparent that he did not believe that it could be.

Dealing with the question of the anti-trust laws the President said in his message:

"The fundamental principles of the anti-trust laws should be more adequately applied. Monopolies and private price fixing within industries must not be allowed nor condoned. 'No monopoly should be private'. But I submit that in the case of certain natural resources, such as coal, oil and gas, the people of the United States need government supervision over these resources devised for the purpose of eliminating their waste and of controlling their output and stabilizing employment in them, to the end that the public will be protected and that ruinous price cutting and inordinate profits will both be denied."

Richberg explained how the suggestions for the message had been evolved during the past few months by continual conferences among all of the interested government departments and bureaus. These conferences were then followed by conferences with the President himself and then with members of congress who will be charged with the enactment of this extension legislation.

He asserted, in opposition to rumors current here, that no final bill had been sent to congress by the President with the intimation that they sign on the dotted line. He contends that the President simply submitted recommendations as a basis for legislation and that "no last word bill was sent to congress."

On the question of the imposition of codes on industry when it refused to write its own code Richberg said that the industrial recovery board has felt all along that there could be no imposition. He said that probably in the new law the imposition section would not differ greatly from the present law but "it will be clarified."

In his message the President said "in the development of this legislation I call your attention to the obvious fact that the way to enforce laws, codes and regulations relating to industrial practices is not to seek to put people in jail. We need other and more effective means for the immediate stopping of practices by any individual or by any corporation which are contrary to these principles." The President himself was not disposed at a recent press conference to interpret this but Richberg said that this could be obviated by a process of injunction or by the use of cease and desist orders by the federal trade commission. In this latter connection he intimated that congress might broaden the use of these orders of the commission and make them immediately applicable instead of the present slow process of enforcement of these orders. He said that such orders would meet the need of the code situation.

Richberg stated that "the filing of prices does not necessarily mean price fixing." During the course of this decision also he stated that "the steel basing point in itself is not price fixing."

WLW STAY ORDER DISSOLVED

The Court of Appeals on Monday dissolved the stay order under which Station WLW, Cincinnati, Ohio, has been operating since the Federal Communications Commission ruled that the station could no longer operate with 500 kw night-time power. The order was dissolved pending argument before the court on the merits of the case. The Commission, without hearing and solely on the complaint of Canada, ruled that the station discontinue its night-time operation with 500 kw and operate with but 50 kw after sunset. It was alleged that WLW was interfering with a Canadian station on 690 kc.

MANAGING DIRECTOR'S PLANS DELAYED

Daily rounds of conferences in connection with legislation and other matters of importance has caused delay in the plans of the Managing Director to visit the states for the purpose of forming state committees. He will resume his travels just as soon as pressure of work at headquarters is relieved.

FOOD AND DRUGS BILL ACTION

The Senate Committee on Commerce has referred to a sub-committee headed by Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri, the Copeland food and drugs revision bill (S 5). It is not yet determined whether the sub-committee will hold hearings on the measure.

While the NAB has taken no position with respect to the measure as a whole, it will vigorously oppose the provision in Section 708 (e) of the bill which states that "no retail dealer shall be prosecuted under this section for the dissemination, in good faith, other than by radio broadcast, of any advertisement offering for sale at his place of business any article which is not distributed or sold in interstate commerce by him or others." This amounts to a direct discrimination against radio broadcasting and in the judgment of the NAB should be opposed irrespective of such other changes as are made in the bill. The only purpose in including broadcasting in this provision is to discriminate against newspaper advertising and manifestly this is unfair and unjust. As long as this provision remains in the bill, broadcasters cannot be expected to give their support to the measure. This is particularly true inasmuch as the provision contributes nothing to the general purpose of the measure but on the other hand amounts to a direct discrimination against radio advertising.

CODE OFFICER IS ILL

James W. Baldwin, executive officer of the Code Authority for the Radio Broadcasting Industry is ill at his home. He is recovering but it will be a week or more before he will be able to return to his desk.

COMMISSIONER BROWN TO HOLD HEARINGS

The Broadcast Division of the FCC this week decided to hold three hearings outside of Washington, and designated Commissioner Thad H. Brown to preside. The hearings to be held are as follows:

San Antonio, Texas, March 15, 1935: Application of Mrs. Nellie H. Morris and W. C. Morris, a partnership operating Hotel Eagle, for authority to transmit programs from Hotel Eagle, Eagle Pass, Texas to Station XEPN, Piedras Negras.

San Antonio, Texas, March 25, 1935: Application of Farmers & Bankers Life Insurance Company, Station KFBI, for renewal of license.

Los Angeles, California, April 8, 1935: Application of Beverly Hills Broadcasting Corporation, Station KMPC, for renewal of license now pending before the Commission; and directing, under Rule 17, the following licensees to submit applications for renewal of license: Warner Brothers Broadcasting Corporation, Station KFVB, Ben S. McGlashan, Station KGFK, Radio Broadcasters, Inc., Station KRKD, and Cannon System, Ltd., all of which were designated for hearing.

LLEWELLYN REINSTATED IN FCC

As a result of a hearing held before the Federal Communications Commission, George Llewellyn, former radio inspector in the Atlanta office of the Federal Radio Commission, was reinstated in the field force of the FCC, occupying a rank similar to that formerly held. The re-instatement decision was made by the FCC on February 12.

SECURITIES ACT REGISTRATION

The following companies have filed registration statements with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act:

Distributors Group, Inc., New York City. (2-1287, Form C-1)
New York Mine Company, Inc., Providence, R. I. (2-1288, Form A-1)
American Terminals & Transit Company, Henderson, Ky. (2-1289, Form E-1)
State National Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo. (2-1290, Form A-1)
Mutual Industrial Bankers, Inc., Newark, N. J. (2-1291, Form A-1)

A. T. & T. INVESTIGATION APPROPRIATION

Effort was made this week to jam the $750,000 Rayburn resolution for the Federal Communication Commission's investigation of American Tel. & Tel. and other phone companies through the House of Representatives on the unanimous consent calendar. Opposition developed and so the resolution has gone to the regular calendar where it will be taken up in its regular order.

WHOM RENEWAL RECOMMENDED

Broadcasting Station WHOM, Jersey City, N. J., applied to the Federal Communications Commission for a renewal of license and construction permit. The station uses 1450 kilocycles, 250 watts power and unlimited time on the air. George H. Hill(e) in Report No. I-21 recommends that the license renewal be granted and that if the application for renewal be granted that a construction permit also be granted.

The Examiner found that the broadcasts over the station by Barbara Toy did not serve the public interest and that she has used the station "to deliver personal messages to private individuals." It was also found that programs broadcast over the station by the Hill Medical Office, Modern Medical Associates and Medicated Air Institute were "of doubtful public value." However, all of these programs have been discontinued by the station, and the Examiner states that other programs have had merit. He therefore recommends that the license be renewed.
